Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.
FOR FAMILY USE.

From the very flattering manner in which our Machines have been received by the public, resulting in the sale of 35,000,

we are led to believe that our endeavors to manufacture a RELIABLE MACHINE have been appreciated. We take this opportunity to remark that the policy will be unchanged, and that

Every Machine sold by us

GROVER & BAKER S. M. CO.

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still a good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.
Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 13, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get off of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Dandi street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.
CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, stop from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to place prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two weeks after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. But I assure, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for one dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

SATURDAY, JULY 21, 1860.

DEMOCRATIC HARMONY.

The Concord Patriot of July 18 says:—

The Democracy of New Hampshire seem disposed to adopt the only course which can preserve their organization and promote their success now or hereafter. Union and Harmony is their motto, and by a strict adherence to it, and zealous and energetic effort, they may restore their ascendancy here at home, whatever may be the result of the Presidential contest in the country at large.

The same Patriot copies ex-President Pierce's Letter to the Boston Post, dissents from some views therein expressed, and says:—

But there are other views and sentiments in it in which we do most fully and cordially concur—those in relation to the necessity and duty of conciliation and union in the Democratic party. This, certainly, is no time for divisions and controversies among ourselves, while we have a common enemy against whom our energies and efforts can be successfully, it unitedly, directed. Such we believe to be the sentiment of the Democracy of this State.

The Patriot here refers to the scheme of a mixed ticket for electors, and adds:

For our part, we are entirely content to leave the whole matter, as it should be, to our friends when met in Convention to select candidates for electors; and we are sure that, with the manifest sentiment of the people of this State, no friend of Douglas and Johnson, certainly, will hesitate to submit to such a determination. And such we understand to be the spirit of Gen. Pierce's letter; and we believe his advice and action will be in accordance with it.

Now let us look elsewhere, for another view. The Bath Times of July 17 has these items:—

The Boston Post publishes a letter from Gen. Pierce to Ben Hallet, approving the recession, glorifying Breckinridge and Lane, and soaping Hallett and the Boston Post prodigiously. If Gen. Pierce is disposed to make his bed with traitors, he should not complain if he receives the traitor's reward. Let him remember Van Buren.

Dr. Loring, Caleb Cushing, Charles G. Greene and Edmund Burke, all in the same truckle-bed!

We know no political enemies within the regular democratic lines—we are determined to acknowledge no political friends outside of those lines. All who cross them towards the inside we hail as brothers—equal brothers; all who cross in the opposite direction we regard as allied with the common enemy.

In the next election the true, sound, loyal democratic party will contend for an honorable victory, and in default of this they prefer an honorable defeat. Union with their enemies—the seceders and Disunionists—for victory, would be dis-honorable, and therefore they will repel all compromises except based upon the pledged support, first, last and all the time—before the people or in the House of Representatives—of the regular party nominees—Douglas and Johnson.

The election in Oregon—if the returns are reliable—takes the tail off of the secession ticket. Lane is a dead coon in his own State.

A Washington dispatch of July 17th, says:—

The Douglas National Executive Committee have issued their address to the Democracy of the Union—declaring the universal sentiment of the supporters of Douglas to be, no compromise. No proposition has been made [by them] for a joint electoral ticket in any State, and they exhort the indignant rejection of such overtures.

WILL BRANDY EXPLODE?—No doubt it will. Brandy men explode often: why not brandy barrels also? On Monday last quite a novel and serious accident occurred at a tavern near Baltimore, kept by a Mr. Dawson. It appears that Dawson had a barrel of brandy in his bar-room, and after taking the bung out to make a draw, neglected to replace it. A customer came in and called for cigars, and while striking a match to light one, a portion of the fire fell into the barrel through the bung-hole, when the whole, like so much powder, exploded, tearing away a portion of the ceiling and injuring two men, one seriously. The staves flew in all directions, demolishing the bar fixtures, windows, &c.

FROM THE FAR WEST.—Oregon dates are to June 20th, and Columbia River dates to June 23.—It is conceded that the Democratic candidate is elected to Congress, and a Legislature chosen such as will render the defeat of Lane and Smith to the U. S. Senate certain. The Democratic papers intimate that the Lecompton and anti-Lecompton members will unite and elect men of moderate sentiments.

The mining news from British Columbia is favorable. The Chinese emigration was increasing.

☞ A half century having elapsed since Dr. Jonathan G. Johnson, of Newburyport, graduated at Harvard University, he returned at this commencement to the academic shades of his alma mater. If all his children (professionally) could go back with him, the Herald thinks, few graduates of old Harvard could present a larger family.

☞ Prof. Felton was inaugurated President of Harvard College, with great festivities, at Cambridge on Thursday.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—The past week has been one of enlivening interest to the under-graduates and alumni of the College. On Tuesday, those of the new Freshmen class who passed a satisfactory examination received papers of admission. Three young men were fitted at Portsmouth, and the usually large number at Exeter; among the latter was Robert T. Lincoln, son of the Republican candidate. A grand nephew of George Washington, and a grandson of Horace Binney of Philadelphia, are also in the class.

Wednesday, a class of 102 graduated.—The parts were of the average ability. Among the distinguished men present were Senator Douglas, Edward Everett, Charles Sumner and Henry Wilson. Rev. Dr. Peabody, of this city, the newly chosen Plummer Professor, made an appropriate prayer. On Thursday, President Felton was inaugurated. The oration in Latin was written by J. H. McDaniels of the Senior class (1861) but owing to his illness was read by Wm. F. Snow of the same class. The Alumni oration by Dr. Osgood, and the Inaugural Address by President Felton, were able discourses. The Commencement and Alumni dinners, Wednesday and Thursday, were occasions of marked enjoyment. President Felton promises to be an efficient officer. Commencement at the Divinity School was on Tuesday, and the sermon to the Alumni was delivered that afternoon by Dr. J. H. Morrison, of Milton.

The college boat races will come off at Worcester on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Harvard enters the "Harvard" and two class boats; Yale enters the "Yale" and '62 and '63 class boats; and Brown University sends the Brunonia. The Union Club of Boston will compete for the prizes, using their splendid new shell, made by an eminent builder in Newcastle, Eng.

MARRIAGE CONTRACT ANNULLED.—The Massachusetts Supreme Court has annulled a marriage solemnized in 1853, between Mr. William Little, of Newbury, and Sarah M. Bradley, of Haverhill, on the ground of insanity on the part of the woman at the time of the marriage. It will be noticed that this is not a divorce—it is a declaration of the Court that the ceremony had did not constitute marriage. This is the first marriage contract ever set aside in that county as null and void, by reason of the insanity of one of the parties at the time of the ceremony, and the Newburyport Herald thinks it is the first that has ever occurred in the State. It is one of the most singular cases on record.

☞ The Boston Courier has a new attache added to its already extensive corps in and about the printing office—in the person of a "keeper," who is custodian of the effects belonging to the Courier establishment, attached by the sheriff upon the writ of Mr. John P. Hale. The proprietors of the Courier have made no effort to get rid of the keeper, and he seems to be regarded as part and parcel of the Courier establisement. The defendants will not submit to a verdict against them without a well-prepared and sharply-contested trial before an impartial jury. It is said that Caleb Cushing, B. F. Butler and Charles Levi Woodbury are counsel for the Courier, associated with Messrs. Geo. S. Hillard and Geo. Lunt. With such an array of distinguished talent, we may expect one of the ablest fought cases concerning the law of libel on the part of the defence, that the country has ever witnessed. It is a very simple process to commence a suit for libel at any price the injured may demand; but to get a verdict—there's the rub. Mr. Hale has a hard road to travel before he reaches the ten thousand dollar damages which he claims to have suffered by reason of the Courier libel. **

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE in Massachusetts, held their State Quarterly Division at Worcester on Wednesday, Judge Thos. Russell of Boston presiding. They report unusual prosperity and large increase of the Order. The whole number of members admitted during the quarter was 3,328, making the whole membership in the State 16,000. Number of lady visitors admitted, 2,841; total number in the State, 19,048. Whole number of divisions in the State, 187; number of lady visitors and members, 35,034.

☞ It is stated that the clerks in the Pension offices and other circumlocution offices at Washington are delaying, by a "masterly inactivity," the allowance of claims in their several offices, and probably after the 4th of March lots of these sharp fellows will turn up as claim agents, and notify the long-wearied expectants, of their facilities for getting their claims allowed—a procedure which occurs in every change in the Administration.

RAPE.—Speaking of the frequency of this inhuman, brutal—more than brutal crime, the Newburyport Herald well says, "It is time that a proper punishment for such crimes was legalized—one that should at once and forever prevent a repetition of the offence by the same person."

For the Chronicle.

ENTERPRISE AT THE SHOALS.—The inhabitants of the Fishing Isles are taking a new start in go-ahead-ativeness. One neat cottage has recently been built on Star Island for Mr. Joseph Randall; another, quite a handsome one, has been put up for Mr. John H. Robinson; a third, bidding fair to be as good as the best, is in process of erection for our temperance friend, Mr. Nathaniel F. Berry; and others still contemplate the erection of similar tenements, and considerable improvement of those now built.

The Hotels, both Appledore and Atlantic Houses, have also been much enlarged, improved and beautified; the yacht Sibyl runs to the Appledore, and the Golden Eagle to the Atlantic, from Portsmouth.—The fine yacht Prioress, not so well known about here as the others, but a capital boat, also runs between the Shoals and the Ocean House at Rye Beach.

Mr. A. J. Caswell, of Star Island, has had a fine large fishing boat built for the accommodation of parties. Another vessel, of a larger class, we understand, is about being purchased by four or five enterprising fishermen of the place, who combine their means for the purpose, that they may more successfully prosecute their fishing. Success to them! and their new "Village Maid."

An aggregate of about fifty miles of trawl-lines, having a thousand improved fish-hooks to the mile, are now used at the Shoals; and in consequence, more than double the quantity of fish are taken there now than formerly.

So that with new houses, new and better boats, and improved fishing gear; together with social, educational and public improvements, it is evident the Shoals are "looking up." * ISLE.

MODERN COMPLIMENTS. — The Bath Times, in the following items, gives the two presidents a compliment each, over the left.

Mr. Buchanan is now called the "Old Public Fuss"—not functionary. Is he related to the renowned Peter Funk? We suspect he is, for the latter is a dealer in counterfeit watches and jewelry, and the former is speculating in counterfeit democracy.

If any one can imagine the gusto with which Milton's fabulous Devil would smack his bloody chops after feasting on a newly tempted victim, he can conceive something of Burke's feelings of triumph as, one after another, he draws into his murky lair his old foemen, Loring, Hallett, Green, and lastly "Poor Pierce!"

FROM KEY WEST.—Key West dates of the 14th have been received. The U. S. Government steamer Crusader had arrived from a cruise. She reports having fell in with barque John Henry, ashore, but could not get her off. Also towed off the rocks off Cape Verde, French barque Solide with 500 Coolies, and saving the lives of all on board.

The ship South Shore had taken on board 353 of the negroes recently captured by American cruisers, and was to sail on the 15th for Tampa for more, and then to Monrovia. Two were drowned by the upsetting of a boat.

A VALUABLE PREVENTIVE.—The editor of Wilkes' Spirit, in his notes on a visit to the London Prisons, cites "a feature worthy of mention, and which every motive of philanthropy, as well as policy, requires should at once be adopted in our prisons." He says:

All who know anything of prison discipline, have become acquainted with the horrible results of self-abuse among male prisoners, and know, too, that all ingenuity has been exhausted, in the way of stocks, shower-bath, spike-gloves, &c., for discouraging the desolate convict from taking refuge from his misery in intoxicating illusions of past pleasures. Here, however, they are conquered of this inclination by a regimen of Carbonate of Soda, mixed with their food. This harmless infusion destroys all passion, without impairing any of the functions; and at the end of his term the convict may come out in his natural condition, with all his faculties uninjured, and not deprived of memory, vigor, eyesight, health, and the hope which springs from and depends upon them. Without this protective dosing, five years' sentences are almost equivalent to sentences of death. Carbonate of soda should be introduced into our prisons. Nay, it might be profitably used in many other places, and upon outside culprits. The prisoners complained of this feature of their punishment, and would not take the medicine unless it were mixed with their food. It is given to them steadily for the first five or six weeks, and after that at intervals.

☞ On the 19th July, at Washington, Z. K. Pangborn of Boston, one of the publishers of the Atlas and Bee, a practical printer, assumed the entire control of the House printing, financially and otherwise, by the authority of Gov. Ford, the latter being compelled by ill health to abandon the business and seek medical aid in Boston.

ONE OF DANIEL WEBSTER'S BEST.—Webster and Clay were standing on the steps of one of the hotels in Washington. A drove of jackasses passing by, Mr. Clay thought it a good opportunity to get a joke upon Mr. Webster. He patted Webster on the shoulder—pointed to the long-eared donkeys, and said: "Mr. Webster, there are some of your Northern constituents." "Yes," replied the great statesman, "going South to teach school."

☞ The news from Europe to July 10, via Galway, gives us these items:

Nothing later is known as to Garibaldi's movements. Reports of fighting near Messina lack confirmation.

The proclamation of the new constitution was received with indifference at Naples.

The Prince of Wales embarks at Plymouth on the 9th for Canada.

The royalist forces for the defence of Messina are computed at 20,000.

The only additional failure of importance in the leather trade is that of Lawrence, Mortimore & Co., Liverpool. Liabilities £300,000.

There are rumors of failures in the cotton trade at Liverpool. Names not mentioned.

A Naples telegram of the 5th announces that Garibaldi had marched on Messina.

The siege of Naples has been raised.

THE CIVIL WAR IN SYRIA.—A Marseilles dispatch of July 4, received by the Teutonia, says advices from Beyrout to the 21st ult. state that the Druses, reinforced by hordes of plundering Kurds and Bedouins had attacked the town of Zahli, the last refuge of the Christians. The town was entirely burnt down, and 1000 Christians were murdered.

Deril Kamar, in consequence of the inhabitants having been unarmed, was plundered and deserted. Other acts of incendiarism, pillage and murder had been perpetrated by the "anti" Lebanons. It was said that the children at the school Malahala had been killed, notwithstanding they were under the protection of the French flag, and that the French Consul had sent to withdraw the children from the Catholic colleges. The Turkish military reinforcements had not arrived rt Beyrout.

SENSIBLE.—Archbishop Hughes, at the anniversary of the Mount St. Vincent Academy in New York on Tuesday, said he was going to introduce into the establishment what he called "the Science of Cuisine," meaning the whole art and mystery of cooking dinners and keeping house. Every young lady, he said, though she were the daughter of a queen, ought to understand the entire management of that sphere of life of which she is the beautiful mistress.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H J. C. CARR.

HOW TO BECOME INDEPENDENT.

Almost every one spends money foolishly, and often to the detriment of their health and respectability. If such would, for a moment, reflect how much can be accomplished by a small expenditure in the right direction, and then try it, years of hard labor and want might be averted. The mechanic, or clerk, for instance, who squanders three or four dollars on Sunday, only to return home at night more exhausted than any other during the week—and often unfit, in mind and body, for the labors of the next day—would enclose the amount, or part of it, say $2.50 (or up to $20.00,) to Messrs. Wood, Eddy & Co., to Wilmington, Delaware, or St. Louis, Missouri, for a share (or whole) ticket in one of their lotteries, a snug little fortune, enough at least for a "start in life," might be returned with the next drawing. Many persons have thus acquired their "start," and have reason to thank their nerve, or the newspapers, for their good fortune.

"This may certify, that for a number of years I have been afflicted with the Scrofulous Humor, which caused a swelling of my neck and several ulcers, which were very painful, and that by the use of several bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, they have been entirely removed, and the swelling has all gone from my neck, and it is now over two years since the cure." BETSEY SANBORN.

Kensington, Sept. 26, 1835.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, add so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

From a highly respected physician in Maine

South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.

Messrs. S W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure when other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,

☞ The beautiful yacht Zinga, from New York, which has been lying at the foot of State street for a few days, attracts much notice and admiration from those interested in such matters. She is of 119 tons burthen, and a fine specimen of her class of vessel. We understand there is to be an exhibition of fireworks this (Saturday) evening, from the Zinga—similar to that which delighted so large a crowd on a former visit here.

☞ The U. S. ship Macedonian has now been in our harbor more than a week; and we are informed by one who has had daily intercourse with both officers and crew, that he has uniformly met with courtesy and gentlemanly conduct on board—and that, though many of the crew have been from time to time in our city, he has never seen one of them intoxicated, nor, so far as he can learn, have any of them tasted of intoxicating drink on shore. This is greatly to their credit and advantage, and, if persevered in, will save them from most of the troubles and misfortunes to which poor Jack is usually exposed on shore.

DOUGLAS & JOHNSON CLUB.—At a meeting of the Democrats of this city at Jefferson Hall, Thursday evening, a political club with the above name was organized by the choice of the following officers:

HON. DANIEL MARCY, President;
Elias Ayers, J. W. Grant, Solomon Seymour, A. Waldon, B. Barri, A. Simpson, S. Langdon, S. D. Scriggins and Joseph Holmes, Vice Presidents;
A. S. Alexander, Secretary;
S. L. Russell, Treasurer.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—We understand that a movement is on foot to institute a Division in Portsmouth at an early day, —and that the preparatory steps have been already taken. The Order is very numerous and flourishing in Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, and other States; and there is no reason why it should not become popular in New Hampshire. Heaven knows there is work enough for the Sons and Daughters of Temperance to do. This Order is almost the only one which receives ladies as members or "visitors;" a feature which must commend itself to every true man.

HORSE GUARDS.—With the subsidence of the heated term, will be manifested the interest felt in this famous troop. There is a strong general desire to see them parade in Portsmouth—as a matter of curiosity, and also as this is the home of the Governor who was honored with the first display of the corps. We learn that a number of our most respectable and influential citizens have enrolled their names, and a few procured uniforms, since the public appearance of the regiment. It has been suggested to invite the Guards to do escort for the Procession of the County Fair here, in September.

ALMOST A RAILROAD DISASTER.—When the forenoon train of cars from Portsmouth to Concord, N. H., passed the bridge over Great Bay on Wednesday, the engine dropped a spark which set the structure on fire, with a low and smouldering flame, which burnt through one of the large stringers of the bridge, and did other damage before it was discovered by the draw-tenders, five or six hours afterwards. The afternoon train for Concord was arrested by flag signals, and as the eastern portion of the bridge was impassable, a messenger was dispatched to the down train, which meets the other at Newmarket Junction, and it came over the larger part of the bridge and took off the up passengers, to convey towards Concord. Its own passengers were also taken down by the up train, which was arrested at the bridge, after each had made its interchange with the Boston & Maine train from Portland, where all meet at the Newmarket Junction.—Boston Transcript.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to
WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

From the Journal.

THE MACEDONIAN.—The crew of the frigate Macedonian are this week about being paid off and discharged. She is ordered out of commission.—The draft to meet her pay-roll is for $64,000.—Flag Officer Levy is a man of much worth, as well as being worth much; for the beautiful seat of Jefferson, Monticello, is owned by him—and to his direct and persevering influence the greatest disgrace of our Navy, flogging, has been abolished. He did not enter through the cabin window to his present position, but being a seaman he rose through every grade to his high post. Many years since, when in the service, there was a disaster on ship-board for which no one was responsible, or could have prevented it. The commander to him was, to have all the men connected with that department of the ship flogged. This he saw the injustice of, but could not prevent the execution of the order. From that time he used his influence for abolishing the disgusting and inhuman barbarity, and after several years' labor he has the satisfaction of seeing it abolished. Although as a matter of course there are some on board who are fond of high-goes, yet as a whole, the crew are the most orderly set that have ever entered our port.

The Macedonian, it will be remembered, was captured from the British Oct. 25th, 1812, by the Frigate United States, under Com. Decatur. The U. S. of 44 guns,—the M. rating 38, but carrying 49 guns. She was then but two years old, and was reported to be the fastest sailer in the British Navy. She was immediately put into the American service—and has been in constant use through half a century, except at such times as she was having renewed every plank and timber, except a portion of her keel. On the 8th of March, 1859 Prince Alfred and several English officers dined on board of the Macedonian at Alexandria, in Egypt. Whether they recognized the origin of the ship, and complimented the handsome shoot which has sprung from their "Royal Oak," is not stated. There was certainly enough in the matter for a toast.

CITY COUNCIL.—Board of Aldermen.

On Thursday evening, the application of A. R. Hatch and others for a cross walk in front of the new Custom House, referred.

The City Marshal presented his quarterly report. Whole number of arrests from Apr. 1 to June 30, 165: viz:—Drunkenness, 40; Vagrancy, 31; Lodgings, 30; Suspicious persons, 13; Assaults, 13; Disorderly conduct, 9; Brawls and Tumults, 13; Disobedience to parents, 4; Sabbath breaking, 4; Larceny, 5; False cry of fire, 1; Rescued from being drowned, 2.

After a long discussion on the merits of the various lightning rods in use, it was voted that Orcutt's lightning rods be put on the new Cabot street school house.

Resolution respecting exchange of property on Crock street, sent up non concurred in by the Common Council.

ORGAN IMPROVEMENTS.—We understand that Mr. J. Harris Ham of this city, now of San Francisco, has made and patented some important improvements in Organs and Melodeons—one of which enables the performer to hold the sound of the notes any desirable length of time. The improvements have been successfully tested on a church organ in San Francisco, and will be a source of considerable income to the inventor.

NEW MUSIC.—Messrs. Russell & Tolman have issued "We see the break of day," and "Freedom's call," set to music by Karl Corn. These are two Lincoln Republican Songs, adapted to the times. For sale by C. C. Harvey, who has a great variety of other new music, among them—Somiel Polka, Big Ship Polka, &c.

From the Gazette.

☞ Among the arrivals noted in our marine record this week, is the ship Levi Woodbury, Capt. Young, of New Orleans, with a cargo of salt from St. Ubes, Portugal. This ship was built at this port in 1851 by Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew, for Peter Marcy, Esq., of New Orleans, Hon. Daniel Marcy of this city and others, and is now apparently as strong and in as good condition as when first launched. During the nine years she has been afloat she has never subjected the underwriters to any expense for repairs, and has always been fortunate in making safe and expeditious passages.—She has well maintained the reputation of our mechanics as faithful and skilful ship builders.

Forney advises a union of the Douglas and Lincoln party in Pennsylvania, in order to save the State from the united Democracy.—Boston Post.

And the same Mr. Forney says it "will poison the pure crystal fountain" to keep the old Democracy united,—the Breckinridge and Douglas men voting together! The Democracy had better keep clear of such "fountains" as Forney bathes in, and accept of his Black Republican advice only when they may need it.—Hartford Times.

☞ A correspondent of the Chronicle reads ex-President Pierce out of the Democratic party for supporting Breckinridge. The distinguished gentleman will probably survive the shock and continue an honored member of the party long after that writer has joined the Black Republicans.

☞ It is stated that the new census will show the population of Dover to be about 8600. In 1850 it was 8186. The gain is smaller than was anticipated.

The number of persons killed by lightning is not so great as those who drop dead in the streets without a moment's warning. The number killed by lightning bear about the same proportion to the whole community as the prizes in the lottery to the blanks.—Bath Times.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, in the Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers connected with Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or assessing the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of Legal and Mechanical works, give full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."—CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 3, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such a remarkable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made no TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

BLOOD FOOD.

Healthy human Blood upon being ANALYZED always presents us with the same essential elements, and yet of course the True Standard—Analyze the Blood of a person suffering from Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, &c., and we find in every instance certain deficiencies in the red globules of Blood. Supply these deficiencies, and you are made well. The "BLOOD FOOD" is founded upon this theory—hence its astonishing success. There are FIVE PREPARATIONS adapted to the deficiencies of the Blood in different diseases. For COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, or any affection whatever of the THROAT or LUNGS including CONSUMPTION, use No. 1, which is also the No. for Depression of Spirits, Loss of Appetite, and for all CHRONIC COMPLAINTS arising from OVER-USE, GENERAL DEBILITY, and NERVOUS PROSTRATION. No. 2, for LIVER COMPLAINTS; No 3, for DYSPEPSIA. Being already prepared for absorption it is taken by Drops and carried immediately into the circulation, so that what you gain you retain. The No. 4 is for FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, HYSTERIA, WEAKNESSES, &c. See special directions for this. For SALT RHEUM, SCROFULOUS, KIDNEY, and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, take No. 5. In all cases, the directions must be strictly followed. Price of the "BLOOD FOOD," $1 per bottle.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Liver Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance, It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts. $1.

MOTHERS,

Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, and why? Because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief, when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening the sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known to any intelligent mother. DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP; also, for Softening the Gums, reducing inflamation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being a well-tested and safe remedy in every case, in all cases of Convulsions or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infants is composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL; this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Full directions accompany each bottle. Price 25 cents. Prepared only by

VERMONT BUTTER.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combution in Hydrogen, Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some of the most inveterate of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical crises, and their concomitant of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and prominent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the vascular tendency, which causes them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitated or flow, and remittent fevers, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and invigorated every very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it most necessarily is a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to NIGHT AIR.—An extraordinary fallacy is the dread of night air. What air can we breathe at night but that? The choice is between pure night air from without, and foul night air from within. Most people prefer the latter. An unaccountable choice. What will they say, if it is proved to be true that fully one-half of all the disease we suffer from, is occasioned by people sleeping with their windows shut? An open window most nights in a year can never hurt any one. This is not to say that light is not necessary for recovery. In great cities, night air is often the best and purest air to be had in the twenty-four hours. I could better understand shutting the windows in town during the day, than during the night, for the sake of the sick.—The absence of smoke, the quiet, all tend to make night the best time for airing the patient. One of the highest medical authories on consumption and climate has told me that the air in London is never so good as after ten o'clock at night. Always air your room, then from the outside air, if possible. Windows are made to open, doors are made to shut—the truth which seems extremely difficult of apprehension. Every room must be aired from without—every passage from within. But the fewer passages there are in a hospital the better. —Florence Nightingale.

☞ While the steamer Lady Franklin was on the passage from Memphis to Cincinnati, last week, an intoxicated woman named Coleman threw her infant overboard and then jumped into the river herself. A boat was got out, and the child rescued, but the mother sunk to rise no more.

☞ Four boys, the oldest not over 12 years of age, got a quart of whisky at a groggery in Cincinnati last Saturday, upon which they became intoxicated, and in this condition staggered into the canal, where they would have drowned but for the efforts of some bystanders.

☞ Udolpho Wolfe has procured an injunction against Emil Goulard, restraining him from putting up and selling an imitation article, called Schiedam Schnapps, under the fictitious name of Voldner & Co.

Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]
Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]
My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]
My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.
Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.
CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a household, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping; however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything that I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

MONDAY, JULY 23, 1860.

BRITISH WEST INDIES.

A meeting of the clergy of New York was held on Monday, to hear an address from Edward Beane Underhill, Esq., of London, Foreign Secretary of the English General Baptist Missionary Society, for the last twelve years, and for four years last past official visitor of the missions in Burmah, India, the West Indies, etc., who is now on his way to London.

He spoke of his recent visit to Jamaica. He had visited Trinidad and Hayti, and spent five months in Jamaica, and was prepared to deny the reports that either missionary labors or emancipation had been a failure in the West Indies.

He had come away from Jamaica and the other West India Islands with a glad and thankful heart. All the islands under British government, except Trinidad, were eminently Christian islands. There were more church members in proportion to population and more general attendance upon public worship than in any other part of the world.

In some small islands he could not learn of a single family that was accustomed to be absent from public worship, and the same was true to a great extent of Jamaica itself, in which there could be no less than 180,000 people under direct religious instruction.—In some parts of the island there were not two per cent. of the population that did not attend the churches.

There had been some falling off since emancipation, it is true; but that was owing to natural causes. The excitement attending emancipation had died away, and there had been time and opportunity for the purification of the church, and the exercise of due discipline. Before emancipation people were mostly in the hands of the leaders, who were illiterate men, for the missionaries could rarely visit the plantations, except by stealth; but since emancipation the leaders had become more instructed, and were more directly under the eye of the missionaries. Many people had gone into the mountainous districts in search of cheap lands; and at present there was not sufficient means of reaching these wanderers. The ministry had also diminished, being almost entirely destitute of external aid. The great want of Jamaica to-day was more ministers.

Education had greatly advanced since emancipation. Then in one district there were but three or four who could read or write; now there were eighteen hundred. The piety of these persons was sincere, earnest and devoted. They supported their own pastors, and built and repaired their churches, and maintained their own schools. The planting interest had always been antagonistic to their education until very recently.

He would speak next of the political aspect of emancipation, and denied emphatically the statements that emancipation had been a dead failure. The whole argument upon which such assertions were based, was utterly fallacious.

In the first place, emancipation was not the cause of the material decline of Jamaica. England now receives from its West Indian possessions as much sugar as she ever did. It was true she did not receive half as much from Jamaica, but the other islands made it up. What had been a failure in Jamaica had been a great prosperity in Trinidad and the other islands, for emancipation took place in all together. The fact was that act had nothing to do with the failure or prosperity of those islands; but the whole secret was in good and bad management. Jamaica had lacked the skill and enterprise of the other islands, in the management of capital.

The planters of Jamaica complained that they could not get laborers, and said the people were idle and careless, but he could not confirm these allegations for the planters. There was not, taking one thing with another, a more industrious peasantry on earth. The negroes of Jamaica themselves produced all that was produced. They saved money, bought themselves farms, and cared for their children, and throughout the interior they gave evidence of an approach to a higher civilization. The negroes were noted for honesty and integrity, and were trusted by capitalists with the management of large properties. They disliked sugar cultivation, because it was less profitable than labor upon their own freeholds.

To the people themselves emancipation has been an unmixed good. On the mountains and in the valleys of Jamaica, under the shadow of its mango trees, were to be found a happy people whose faults came from slavery, and whose virtues came from emancipation.

SYMPATHY FOR THE POPE.—Archbishop Kenrick of Baltimore, and the Bishops of Wheeling, Richmond, Erie, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Charleston, Florida and Savannah have issued a pastoral letter expressing their "devoted attachment to the See of the Apostle Peter, and to the illustrious Pontiff who now occupies it," denouncing sacrilege the attempt to deprive the Pope of his temporal dominions, and appointing the first day of September for a general collection in the churches, to aid in relieving the pecuniary necessities of the Pope.

☞ In Philadelphia, last Saturday week, a German was lying on a bed, engaged in imparting color to his meerschaum. He fell asleep, and the live ashes fell from his pipe. He woke to find that his bed and unmentionables were both on fire. In this emergency he displayed a degree of coolness that alone saved the house from burning. He tumbled the bed out of the window, and threw himself into the bath tub, thus averting all further mischief.

☞ Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, of New York, who has been claimed sometimes as a Douglas man, has come out very strongly against the Douglas movement; and at the great Breckinridge and Lane meeting, held at the Cooper Institute in New York, on Thursday night, the principal speech was made by him. It was a masterly production, bitterly eloquent, able and bold.

Mr. Dickinson commences by contrasting the present fallen and degraded condition of the Democracy with what it was and might now have been. He traces the efforts made by himself and others for a complete union at Syracuse, and shows the perfidy of the New York delegation at Charleston, declaring that no more efforts are to be made by him for peace and union, but that he will either conquer them or be conquered by them. He would have no more fellowship with them, no more attempts at coalition, but eternal war—war to the knife, and the knife to the hilt. He explains his own position upon non-intervention and squatter sovereignty, and declares the notions of Douglas to be utter absurdities.

In conclusion he asserts the vaunted claim that the nomination of Douglas was the only regular one, to be false and groundless, since he was nominated by an irregular fraction of a convention, which had broken up to unite again in another place, without any shadow of authority for so doing. The nomination of Johnson he considers still less valid, as he was only selected by half a dozen persons, of whom himself was one, after Mr. Fitzpatrick had declined. Never, says Mr. Dickinson, shall such a ticket, nominated by fraud and corruption, on such a platform, receive his support.

☞ The Taunton Gazette relates a ludicrous disappointment in a "love affair," which has offered an enlivening topic to the gossips of a neighboring village. It appears that a moneyed old bachelor, whose heart has hitherto proved invulnerable to the shafts of Cupid's arrows, at length surrendered to the fascinating charms of a young and penniless girl, scarcely out of her teens. The damsel's parents smiled approval, and Cupid's bark floated gaily on with its loving inmates, the fair Cinderella meantime appearing in silks and jewelry, and her fair inamorato exchanged his checked cotton and cowhide boots for unexceptionable linen and French calf. The affair had assumed the importance of a nine days' wonder, when it was discovered that the fickle damsel had suddenly taken passage for New York on a bridal tour with a young gentlemen from a neighboring city, to whom she represented her veteran adorer as her wealthy and indulgent father.—Here was a denouement dreamed of by nobody. The father and the fatherly lover have set off in pursuit of this deceitful damsel, but as chains of silver and fetters of gold could not hold her, Love at three-score may as well hang his harp on the willows.

A WILD LEAP.—The Providence Journal states that on Tuesday night a passenger, excited by drink, leaped from the steamboat train near Richmond, while the cars were running at a speed of nearly a mile a minute. The train was stopped and backed; the baggage master and others took lanterns and searched the sides of the track, expecting to find a mangled and bruised corpse. After proceeding a short distance the missing man rose up, remarking to the baggage master, "Don't be scared, boy, I'm just off the train." His face was slightly scratched, which was the only injury apparent. He made no complaint, but on arriving at Stonington was very pale. He was completely sobered, the jar or concussion settling his head and dissipating the alcohol which had possessed his brain and nerves. His escape was a marvel, as the road was lined with ties which had been dropped along for some distance.

☞ In Boston harbor, on Friday afternoon, about five o'clock, the Thistle, a pleasure schooner of about ten tons burthen, which was coming up with a party of twelve persons—seven women and five men—on board, was run down, about midway between the Upper Middle and Governor's Island Point, by the schooner Abby, of Granville, Nova Scotia, and three of the Thistle's passengers were drowned. The Nova Scotia schooner was outward bound, and was working down the harbor against the wind. The Thistle sank immediately after being struck. The persons drowned were two women and one man.

Two other schooners were near by, and succeeded with their boats in saving the remainder of the Thistle's party. When taken from the water they were insensible, and it was some time before they could be resuscitated. The party were Irish.

A JOINT STOCK FARMING COMPANY. A joint stock company has been formed in Paris with a capital of $1,000,000, for farming operations on a large scale. It has purchased the Castelnan estate near Bourges, which contains 6000 acres of land, where it intends farming, distilling, oil-making, cattle feeding, etc.

☞ We repeat our expression of approval on the Temperance Papers, now publishing in the Congregational Journal—but we must also repeat the statement that the assertions about the Temperance press, in and out of New England, are but a budget of blunders.

The writer seems to have no knowledge of more than two temperance papers "in all our great country." But there are more than twenty—and we have no idea that we know them all.

There are more than forty literary, religious, and other journals, which take high and true ground on this subject.

And there are hundreds of newspapers which contain more or less temperance matter—and which will readily admit the writings of ministers, christians, and moralists, on the subject, if they will but furnish them.

All the strong things which C. and the Rev. Mr. Clark both say, about the need of new efforts by religious men, are true and good, and we hope the new General Association and Conference may have a Temperance Committee—as some County Conferences now have—to keep the subject before the people.

LAGER BEER SCIENTIFICALLY DISPOSED OF.—It would appear from the following that the "lager" is not so harmless a tipple as has been supposed:

"Lager beer," says the Scientific American, "on account of the long-continued fermentation, has less nutritive matter and much more alcohol than any other beer or ale. A comparison of about twenty chemical analyses of lager and other beer shows that in lager the alcohol is always in excess over the extract, while in other beer the excess is always in favor of the malt extract. In lager the malt extract does not reach five per cent., so that one would be obliged to drink two or three gallons in order to get from this villainous drink such an amount of food as would be required in a civilized way. Ale often contains a larger per centage of alcohol than lager, but the malt extract is still in excess unless the ale is very old. Certain witnesses testified and Courts have decided that lager beer is not intoxicating; but in view of the fact that a pint of lager beer contains as much alcohol as an ordinary glass of brandy, it might be suspected that those witnesses and Courts had been indulging in lager beer at the time they needed their sober judgment.—Finally, it is claimed that lager is a pleasant bitter tonic, stomatic, and dyspeptic, &c. But healthy men need no medicine, and a friend of ours, who prides himself on being an American, suggests that it is too tonic.

The matrimonial union of Prince Peter of Arenburg with the Countess Dowager Caroline of Stahremberg, nee Countess Kaunitz, was recently celebrated with great pomp at the Cathedral of St. Stephen, Vienna, in the presence of the whole of the beau monde of the Austrian metropolis. The story of this marriage is not uninteresting. Prince Peter is no less than 70 years old, and his new consort, the celebrated Count Kaunitz's daughter is 61. In early youth both loved each other tenderly, and would have married but for the opposing wish of their respective parents. Prince Peter of Arenberg had to lead a daughter of Prince Charles de Tallerand to the altar, and the young Countess of Kaunitz was united to a graf of Stahremberg. Years flowed on; both the former lovers came to have children of their own; both probably had cares of their own, and thus their lives rolled on as most human lives do. But, singularly enough, both the husband of Caroline of Kaunitz and the wife of Peter of Arenburg died at the same time, and accident throwing the two old friends once more together, they courageously resolved to carry out their original intention and get married—hence the ceremony in the temple of St. Stephen, at Vienna.

BUCK MALLORY.—The Petersburg (Va.) Express says:—"Mr. Wm. Mallory, an old citizen of Southampton county, died a few days ago, immediately after returning from a visit in this city. Mr. Mallory was eighty years of age, and figured in the suppression of the Southampton massacre. He was the identical 'Buck Mallory' who skinned Nat Turner, the leader of the rebellion, and the hide being tanned, portions of it are now extant in the 'curiosity shops' of many residents in and about Southampton. While in the store of Mr. John R. Davis, in this city, a week or two since, he remarked 'that he had skinned Nat Turner, and would have skinned old John Brown if he could only have had the opportunity.'"

FEMENINE SPUNK.—The dwelling house of an old sea captain in Saybrook, Ct., was entered by burglars a few nights since, when no one was in the house but his wife and a couple of infant children. She met them at the door, with a revolver in hand, and told them if they advanced one step they would be dead men. They looked at her, consulted together, and then sneaked away. As Mrs. Toodles would say, "such a woman is handy to have in the house."

GOOD PAY.—Mr. Soule, who conducted the successful defense of the captured Mexican steamers at New Orleans, says the Delta, is to receive a fee of $10,000 for his services.

Senator Benjamin of Louisiana has left for California, having received a retainer of $12,000 to proceed thither to argue the question of title to the Alameda quicksilver mines, and his contingent will amount to half a million.

SCENE AT A RESTAURANT.—Waiter—"Please, sir, how will you have your steak cooked?"

Serious Gentleman—"Well done, good and faithful servant."

☞ On Saturday morning there was a fire in a large wooden building in Lawrence, known as Sullivan's block, on Lowell street. The building was calculated for 24 tenants, but possibly contained a greater number, all Irish. The fire department, including the steam fire engine Pacific, succeeded in saving the building, with the loss of the roof and two stories of the east end.

Two hosemen were injured by the falling of a chimney, and two females, mother and daughter, were in the ruins and partially consumed. They had been suffocated while in bed. The names of the deceased were Mrs. Conners, the mother, and Julia Conners, the daughter, aged respectively about 40 and 14 years.

NORFOLK, July 20,—The steamer Pennsylvania, of the Pennsylvania and Richmond line, was burned last night. Three children were drowned. The boat, with the cargo, is a total loss.

BUFFALO, July 20.—The schr. Washington Irving is supposed to be lost, with all on board, consisting of the crew of five persons and one passenger.

The arrival of the so-called "champion of the world," observes the N. Y. Herald, made only a temporary excitement among the "governing classes" of the metropolis. Everybody else regarded the matter with supreme indifference. The attempt to get up a fight with Morrissey has been an ignominious fizzle. That illustrous individual is imbibing large quantities of Congress water, which is not distinctly a fighting drink. Heenan has gone to Troy, and will soon retire into obscurity The Musclemen's carnival is at an end.

☞ Garibaldi will be delighted to find himself supported by the women of England. A Ladies' association has been formed for the purpose of raising money to provide for his sick and wounded, and for the widows and orphans of his followers. The Countess of Shaftesbury is President of the Association, and Florence Nightingale heads the subscription list with a donation of £10.

GOOD OPINION OF ONE'S SELF.—If white people sometimes think negroes are incapable of taking care of themselves, negroes sometimes think themselves smarter than white people. Here is an amusing instance:

The late Chief Justice Marshall was riding one morning to court in his carriage: his horse fell and broke a shaft. He was puzzled what to do. Tom, a neighboring negro wagoner, happening to drive up, he asked him if he could help him out of his difficulty.

"O, yes, massa, if you will lend me your knife."

Tom took the knife and cut a sapling pole and grape vine from a neighboring thicket, with which he speedily spliced the broken shaft.

"Now, Tom," said the Judge, "why didn't I think of that?"

"O, massa," said Tom, "you know dat some folks will hab more sense den others!"

HOW TO BECOME INDEPENDENT.
Almost every one spends money foolishly, and often to the detriment of their health and respectability. If such would, for a moment, reflect how much can be accomplished by a small expenditure in the right direction, and then try it, years of hard labor and want might be averted. The mechanic, or clerk, for instance, who squanders three or four dollars on Sunday, only to return home at night more exhausted than any other during the week—and often unfit, in mind and body, for the labors of the next day—would enclose the amount, or part of it, say $2.50, (or up to $20.00,) to Messrs. Wood, Edmands & Co., to Wilmington, Delaware, or St. Louis, Missouri, for a share (or whole) ticket in one of their lotteries, a snug little fortune, enough at least for a "start in life," might be returned with the next drawing. Many persons have thus acquired their "stake," and have reason to thank their nerve, or the newspapers, for their good fortune.

"This may certify, that for a number of years I have been afflicted with the Scrofulous Humor, which caused a swelling of my neck and several ulcers, which were very painful, and that by the use of several bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, they have been entirely removed, and the swelling has all gone from my neck, and it is now over two years since the cure."
BETSEY SANBORN.
Kensington, Sept. 25, 1858.
Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.
A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.
This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:
Dyspeptics, read!
Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.
Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but seldom relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, and so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a space of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.
From a highly respected physician in Maine
South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.
Messrs. S W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure where other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,

☞ A serious if not fatal accident occurred on Saturday evening, during the exhibition of fireworks from the yacht Zinga, at Pier Wharf. Miss Annie M. Martin, daughter of Mr. Thomas Martin, was standing about twenty-five feet from a small cannon, with her side toward it; on the discharge of the gun, the wad (a heavy one, of cotton waste,) struck her skirt in front, breaking four of the steel hoops, and causing the infliction of a severe wound, about eight inches in length, from which the intestines protruded. She was conveyed to her home, and the services of Drs. Boardman, Oliver and Treadwell procured. A consultation, held on Sunday, pronounced the case critical.

☞ We are pleased to learn that the new ship, of 1000 tons, now on the stocks at the yard of Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, has been purchased by Messrs. Page, Richardson & Co., of Boston. ☞ A double meteor of rare brilliancy, was seen in this city on Friday night, about 10 o'clock—two distinct balls of fire, passing from southwest toward northeast, keeping within the same distance of each other during the whole time they were visible. They passed across the heavens with much less descent than is usual with such luminous bodies. Hundreds witnessed this singular spectacle in Providence, Boston, Newton, and other places. Some persons supposed it to be a fire-balloon, and came to consider it as similar to the bush which mystified Moses, when they saw it burned yet was not consumed.

☞ The next meeting of the New Hampshire State Teachers' Association will be held in Manchester, commencing in the City Hall, Tuesday, July 31, at 11 o'clock. The association will be addressed by Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody, of Portsmouth, Tuesday evening, and essays will be read during the meeting by other distinguished gentlemen and ladies. The following questions are proposed for discussion: Is the English method of pronouncing the Latin and Greek languages, best for English students? How far is it best to adhere to a definite course of study? What are the best means of interesting children in primary schools?—Should the doors of our colleges be opened to both sexes alike?

☞ On the 4th inst., a large body of the citizens of Chattahoochee, Fla., with others from the neighboring counties of Marion and Muscogee, assembled for the purpose of breaking into the jail at Chattahoochee and lynching one Doolittle, who was in custody on the charge of murder under aggravated circumstances. The sheriff resisted, and before they could reach the criminal, he anticipated their purpose by cutting his own throat.

☞ In New Jersey there is a peaceful neighborhood of English farmers, who cultivate about twenty acres each. They do not get rich fast, but lead healthy and happy lives. They are fond of raising the old country fruits, particularly gooseberries.—Each year, on the 15th of July, they have a gooseberry fair; and the present year, some of the larger specimens weighed two-thirds of an ounce each.

☞ The Halifax Constitutionalist appears in mourning, in consequence of the death on the 16th inst. of Chief Justice Brenton Halliburton, who had for more than half a century occupied the position of Judge in the Province.

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

The subscriber hereby gives public notice that on the twenty-third day of May, A. D. 1860, he peaceably entered upon and took possession of a certain lot of land, situated in Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham and State of New Hampshire, with a dwelling house thereon, and bounded westerly on Dover Street twenty-five feet; northerly by the Reservoir of the Ports. Aqueduct Co., and there measuring fifty feet; easterly by land of H. M. Grant twenty-five feet; southerly by land formerly owned by Nicholas Mason, now owned by James Shaw, fifty feet—said southerly line being formed by dwelling on said lot and the dwelling of said Shaw—now one of the chambers of said Shaw's house extends over into the house on said lot described, and is to remain so as long as the two houses shall remain on said lot—said premises being the same which Stephen A. Rice conveyed to N. B. Sides, and which said Sides conveyed in mortgage to William Laighton, by deed dated 10th Jan'y, 1855, recorded in Rockingham Registry of Deeds, lib. 363, fol. 31, (and which deed of mortgage was subsequently assigned to me, to-wit: on the 21st day of May, A. D. 1860;) for conditions broken and for the purpose of foreclosing the right in equity of said Nathaniel B Sides to redeem the same; and at the same time publicly declared the purpose and object of said entry and possession.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration of it at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1853.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove a bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

MOTHERS,

Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. BAILEY'S CELEBRATED CORDIAL, and why? Because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief, when given in time. It acts as if by magic. That wasting and suffering of your child, instead of by deadening the sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known for CHILDREN TEETHING, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD and CROUP, also, for Softening the Gums, reducing Inflamation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Convulsions or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which generally result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. BAILEY'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Full directions accompany each bottle. Price 25 cents. Prepared only by

VERMONT BUTTER.

MATHES & VARRELL

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate the necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the combined diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are at hand. Nervous prostration, emaciation, with apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for persons unfamiliar to the busy world as operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Constipation.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, distressing cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and intereesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

ALL THE DIFFERENCE.—Before the arrival of the Great Eastern a croaker said to us, "She will never cross the bar;—she draws too much for that." When the G. E. arrived, however, and was exhibited at $1 a head, her managers found to their great surprise that she did't draw enough.

The Murder Mania.—There have been so many murders committed in and about our city during the past fortnight, that we think it will be a pity if somebody does not get the hang of it.

Political Motley.—The Republican nomination has produced an odd chromatological metamorphosis. Lincoln green is now considered a party-color.

Con. by a Hibernian.—Why is the most valuable domestic animal like a blacksmith? 'Cause he's a horse shoer.

Commercial Paradox.—When a merchant carries on his business like clockwork, there is seldom any danger of his winding up.

We Think So.—Mrs. John Wood's photograph ought to be good, for she takes well every where.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.
FOR FAMILY USE.

From the very flattering manner in which our Machines have been received by the public, resulting in the sale of 35,000,

we are led to believe that our endeavors to manufacture a RELIABLE MACHINE have been appreciated. We take this opportunity to remark that the policy will be unchanged, and that

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.
Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.
CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as youth, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all we have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result, two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a growth of hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not is little.

You can publish this if you "think proper."
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to inform you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been nearly over since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; since the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CALHOUN AND WEBSTER.

Both these men were usually clear in their statements, and they were commonly on opposite sides of great questions.

Yet some politicians of the present day attempt to combine their opinions, opposite though they be.

The Boston Transcript remarks that the position of the southern faction of the Democratic party is as inconvenient as it is indefensible. It has combined Calhoun's doctrines in regard to the institution of slavery, which Webster would have abhorred, with Webster's doctrines in regard to the binding force of the decisions of the Supreme Court, which Calhoun would have abhorred. Having obtained a decision from the Supreme Court in favor of slavery, which, though extra-judicial, is indicative of the opinions of the court in case a question of the legality of slavery in the territories should arise, it has abandoned its long hostility to the court itself.

The opinions of Calhoun were so plainly stated by himself that only stupidity can miss his meaning. He took the ground that the government of the United States, neither in its legislative, executive, nor judicial departments, was sovereign. Sovereignty belonged to each of the States, and in constituting the General Government no State had delegated any portion of its sovereignty, for sovereignty is incapable of division, but had only delegated certain sovereign powers. These powers, he contended, had been plainly expressed in the Constitution, and all powers not expressly delegated were reserved by the States. But who was to judge as to the extent of the powers reserved, in case a controversy arose between a State and the General Government?

Mr. Calhoun boldly took the ground that the State was the judge. Being sovereign, it alone was competent to decide on the sovereign powers it had reserved to itself. To admit that the National Judiciary was the final judge of the extent of these powers was to annihilate the sovereignty of the States; for the Judiciary, no less than the President and Congress, owed what sovereign powers they possessed to the grant of the sovereign States. How could a court, instituted by sovereigns, sit in judgment on its own makers? Each State was supposed to know what it meant when it parted with any of its sovereign powers. It did not delegate the interpretation of what it meant to a department of the general government created by its own will. The general government was simply the agent of the States, performing certain duties which the States had found it convenient to give it the power to perform.

Webster argued that this interpretation of the Constitution inevitably led to the conclusion that there was really no general government established by the Constitution. Where sovereign communities are parties to a compact, there is no difference between a compact and a confederacy or a league, and a confederacy or league is nothing but "a continuing and subsisting treaty." According to him, Massachusetts and South Carolina were united, if Mr. Calhoun's principles were true, only as France and Great Britain are united, by their treaties.

The disingenuousness, the intellectual and moral dishonesty of the leading Southern politicians of the present day, is seen in this, that they claim the right of nullification and secession for themselves, but inculcate only the duty of submission to the North. Mr. Calhoun would never have been guilty of such duplicity. A decision of the Supreme Court on a political question is binding, according to their logic, on the whole country, if it agrees with the opinions and passions of their portion of the country; if not, they consider it worthless and of no effect.

THE GREAT WILL CASE IN NORTH CAROLINA. — One Hundred Negroes set free.—We learn from the Iredell Express that the case of Solomon Hall's will occupied the Superior Court of that county eight days, and was finally compromised after the jury had retired. Mr. Hall had made a will leaving one hundred negroes and other property to his child, a daughter, who since married Mr. Neely against his wish, whereupon he made another will, leaving his negroes free, and leaving most of his property to them. The suit was to set aside the last will. An hour after the case had gone to the jury, Mrs. Neely proposed to receive $13,000 and $2000 the will gave her; the estate to pay the court costs, $800, she to pay her own lawyer $5000.—The proposition was accepted. The negroes will be sent to Liberia.

UNNATURAL HEIFER. — Mr. James Walker of Manchester, has a heifer calf only 16 months old that never had a calf, but yet gives milk. Some three weeks ago it was noticed that it contained considerable milk. She was milked regularly for two weeks up to last Saturday, when she gave six quarts of milk from which was made one pound of good butter.—Mirror.

BANK ROBBERS BLOWN OUT OF DOORS. On the night of the 18th inst., an attempt was made to rob the bank at Medina, Orleans county, N. Y. The rogues gained an entrance by false keys, or by picking the lock of the front door, and then proceeded to operate on the safe or vault door. They uncovered the key hole and inserted powder to blow the lock to pieces and open the door. Unfortunately for them they put in too much powder. When the explosion took place, it not only blew the door of the vault open, but it blew the windows of the bank out, and it is surmised the robbers also. The explosion made such a loud report that the people of the village were aroused and rushed into the streets. The rogues escaped. They got nothing to pay them for their trouble, as the money of the bank was in a small safe inside the one blown open.

☞ On Saturday, as we learn from the Richmond Enquirer, a few moments after the arrival of the Southern train at Raleigh, N. C., a quarrel occurred between one of the officers of the train and Mr. Herbermont, (late United States consul at one of the Italian ports.) Mr. H. pronounced the officer a liar. The latter advanced, evidently to resent the insult, when Mr. H. discharged a pistol. The shot took effect in the breast of the railway officer, killing him instantly. The name of the deceased is not given.

THE LYNCHING OF YOUNG DOY.—The Rochester Express, affirms that Charles Doy, son of Dr. Doy of Kansas, recently lynched for alleged horse stealing, was in reality the victim of pro-slavery hate and vengeance. Of his character it says:

"Like his father, he was a man of distinguished bravery, impatient of wrong, ready in his resources, and fearless in his measures of resistance and redress. While he defied danger like a hero, he endured suffering like a martyr. His private character was irreproachable. He was modest in his demeanor, strong in his attachments, generous, self-sacrificing in behalf of his principles and his friends. Death was the binding seal of the qualities of which his life was the witness."

☞ A balloon came down on Saturday afternoon week, near Cranberry Hall, about half way between Wrightstown and Hanover, N. J. There was no basket attached to it, and by its rent and tattered condition, it looked as though it had taken a long journey through stormy skies and extensive forests. It is of large size, and made a tremendous noise in its descent, surging and crashing through the trees to the ground.

COMMODORE VANDERBILT.—The recent action of this individual in relation to the California mails, has attracted public attention to him. The Century gives a running sketch of his characteristics. It says that he is six feet high, and with respect to all the characteristics of animal humanity carries out that full proportion to the average stature of the sons of Adam. He is six feet of self-will, six feet of indomitable energy, six feet of obstinacy, six feet of sharpness at a bargain, and six feet of masterly management in general. He lacks six feet of education, but he makes that up by twelve feet of natural ability. He lacks six feet of polish, but money outweighs manners, and excuses for profane language. Com. Vanderbilt began life as a poor boatman. He got a larger boat the next time, and soon a steam ferry-boat. Next he was found owning the finest passenger boats on the North River. After that he added ships, and now he is the most powerful ship-owner in the United States. He is the only man we have heard of who built his own steam yacht, of the dimensions of a national vessel, and drove across the ocean, stopping at the doors of Italy, England, France and Russia, just as a man will coach round the streets of New York to leave his cards.

ARCHBISHOP TILLOTSON, who received church preferment as the reward of his piety and genius, was not enriched either by his high position or literary labors. Unable to bequeathe an estate of any value to his widow, he left her his manuscript sermons. For these, a bookseller gave her two thousand five hundred guineas; and from the day of their publication they have been admired as among the best specimens of the kind of literature to which they belong.

In later times Bishop Heber's widow was similarly befriended by Sir Robert Inglis, who secured a purchaser for the Bishop's "Journal in India," at the round sum of £5000. The illustrious author and prelate was more reasonably remunerated, during his lifetime, than Tillotson—a single appointment, that of preacher to Lincoln's Inn benches, securing him £600 a year, for delivering only thirteen sermons. This was in addition to the income from his regular pastoral labors.

☞ The Galveston Civilian publishes a letter from the Postmaster at Buchanan, Texas, giving an unqualified contradiction to the story of the burning of a colporteur at that place. The writer says "it is a fabrication from beginning to end, with no foundation in truth whatever. No circumstance upon which it can be supposed to be based' has ever happened here, or in hearing of here."

☞ The Manchester American learns from those well informed, that there will be about two-thirds as much hay in this State this year as there was last. The quality, however, is much better than last year, and thus far has been gathered in much better condition.

FROM EUROPE.

PARIS, 11th.—Commanders of French war vessels at Syria have been ordered to protect the French Consul, but to abstain from all intervention.

Garibaldi had reviewed 9000 volunteers. The Inspector of Police had been murdered at Palermo. Garibaldi had issued a decree threatening death or banishment to all who should rise against the police. A commission has been appointed to discover the officers who had oppressed the people.

Nearly all the Neapolitan exiles at Turin were returning to Naples.

The Papal army had reached 19,000.

Two French and two English war vessels had been ordered to Beirut.

It is rumored that Garibaldi will besiege Messina. The Neapolitan government had resolved to offer the Sicilians the Constitution of 1812.

FROM PIKE'S PEAK.—St. Joseph, Mo., July 21.—Pike's Peak Express arrived last evening, bringing Denver City dates to July 15th. Denver City was visited on the 14th by a tremendous storm. Streets and cellars were flooded with water. Large amounts of goods were damaged. The rain was so dense that persons could not see across the streets. The Metropolitan Billiard Room was struck by lightning, and several persons stunned, but none seriously injured. A large building erecting on Blake street, fell during the storm, the walls having been undermined.

Advance division of U. S. troops from Camp Floyd, on their way to Arizona, passed through Denver on the morning of the 15th. All are in good health.

Gold discoveries of marvellous richness are reported from the Western Slope of the Mountains, a hundred miles from California. Gulch lumps are said to have been found of the size of hen's eggs.

Business dull, money tighter, if possible, than ever.

VAN BUREN, Ark., July 21.—The overland coach from California was completely wrecked at Mountain Pass, in the Choctaw Nation, by the horses running away. One person was killed, and several persons injured. It will be delayed thirty hours.

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—A duel was fought on Bloody Island to-day. After two shots with rifles were exchanged and nobody hurt the affair was amicably settled.—There were thirteen fatal sun strokes in this city yesterday.

NEW YORK, July 22.—James Hasler a German, was arrested yesterday while in the act of selling fifteen thousand dollars in counterfeit notes, Haytien currency, to the mate of a vessel.

THE SIGHT OF A BEAUTIFUL BLIND GIRL RESTORED BY MARRIAGE.—A physiological wonder occurred a short time since in this city, says one of our New York exchanges. A young and exceedingly interesting girl residing on Eighth street, whose amiable disposition, elegant manners and placid beauty of soul have endeared her to all who knew her, was a year or two ago compelled to discontinue her studies and leave school in consequence of the partial loss of eye sight, which threatened to become total. She was entirely unable to read. A number of our most skillful physicians were employed by the family, and she was even taken to some of our most noted oculists; but all their learning, dexterity and management proved unavailing. Her eyes looked healthy, were beautifully pensive in their expression, and seemed deep as her soul was pure; but they were nevertheless to her almost wholly useless. Notwithstanding this rather melancholy physical defect, a young man who had long been devoted to her offered her his hand in marriage. She became his wife, and, strange as it may seem, from that day her eye sight began to improve, and she is now able to read the finest print by gaslight, without pain and without apparent optical injury.

It may be that this is no uncommon thing at all, says the Newburyport Herald, for people to have their eyes opened by marriage. We have known several who have seen husbands and wives as very different persons from what they had thought them before marriage.

REV. JAMES C. BEECHER IN CHINA.—We have seen a private letter from this well known American chaplain, in which he communicates the cheering intelligence of increasing religious interest among the attendants at the Seaman's Chapel, or "Bethel." Fourteen sailors have already given evidence of a change of heart, and many more are interested.

In reference to the political condition of the country, he remarks: "We are perfectly enveloped in war preparations. Ships of war come crowding in at a tremendous rate. The Emperor of China refuses the ultimatum of England, and is straining every nerve to protect Pekin. But I think he will back down when he learns what a force is knocking at his door. If there is a meeting in the field there will be horrible butchery, for the allied force is nearly fifty thousand men. This is 'The War in China'—everything before this has been skirmishing. The expeditious starts hence in about two weeks. It will probably be six weeks before active operations commence." —Independent.

☞ Of the one hundred and twenty legal voters in the town of Hebron, N. H., twelve, or one-tenth of the whole number, were present and voted at the annual meeting in March last, whose average age was 78. The eldest was 89.

☞ The Mobile Tribune says it is the universal belief that so long and continuous a "heated term" has not occurred for a quarter of a century. Corn has been destroyed by drought in many places, but cotton looks well.

☞ Four persons confined in the Kent (Conn.) county jail, made their escape by the assistance of outsiders, during a dark and stormy night last week.

☞ Burleigh, writing for the Boston Journal from New York, July 20, says:

It is all up with Douglas in New York.—The glare of Tammany at the ratification of Mr. D. was only as a two-penny taper to the sunlight, compared with the Breckinridge ratification. One of the largest, most enthusiastic and hearty meetings held this year, was seen at the Cooper Institute last night. All the solid men of the late Democratic party were present, and the enthusiasm, cheers and applause indicated how earnest this heaving mass of mortality was in the work before them. Daniel S. Dickinson was the chief speaker, and he gave it to the Douglas men right and left. He ridiculed the journey of Douglas north, where he could not carry one State, and in a most sarcastic manner he reviewed the "bogus delegations" from the North, who promised Douglas all the Northern States, subject to the "small incumbrance held by one Abraham Lincoln." Bonfires, rockets, Bengal lights, bands of music, calcium burners, tar barrels, and outside demonstrations, kept up the enthusiasm to a late hour. No one doubts that the star of Breckinridge is rising. Great fears are entertained that Mayor Wood will be left out in the cold. He jumped too soon, and jumped to the wrong side.

WHAT THEY DRINK.—An analysis of drinks sold in the groggeries, give the following results:—

Four parts camphene, three parts molasses. The other part is a compound of forty per cent, whisky, blue vitriol and an imitation of cayenne pepper. The brandy, gin, whisky, (Bourbon, Scotch and Monongahela) are all of nearly the same consistency. The difference being in a slight variation of parts to effect the desired taste and color. For instance a greater quantity of molasses and tobacco juice are present in the brandy, and more vitriol in the whisky. We recommend these bevrages to persons who desire to stop drinking. We pledge our reputation for scientific knowledge, that he who continues in the daily use of these liquids will stop drinking in a very short time.—Evening Gazette.

BOGUS. — The fistic world have had plenty of excitement the past few days. A bravado letter appeared in the New York Herald, purporting to come from Morissey, challenging Heenan to fight for any sum from $10 to $10,000, in four months from the time the money was up. The news took the circuit of the country with the speed of lightning, and the admirers of the P. R. were in raptures. The next day Heenan accepted the challenge in the Herald, and the news of that sped as fast. The vocabulary of the ring was aired very freely over deep potations, and offers to bet on the "Boy" were abundant with no takers. In a few hours after, the fun was over, as a dispatch came that Morrissey never wrote such a challenge, and the whole thing was a Herald-dodge for excitement.—Mirror.

HOW TO BECOME INDEPENDENT.

Almost every one spends money foolishly, and often to the detriment of their health and respectability. If such would, for a moment, reflect how much can be accomplished by a small expenditure in the right direction, and then try it, years of hard labor and want might be averted. The mechanic, or clerk, for instance, who squanders three or four dollars on Sunday, only to return home at night more exhausted than any other during the week—and often unfit, in mind and body, for the labors of the next day—would enclose the amount, or part of it, say $2.50, (or up to $20.00,) to Messrs. Wood, Eddy & Co., to Wilmington, Delaware, or St. Louis, Missouri, for a share (or whole) ticket in one of their lotteries, a snug little fortune, enough at least for a "start in life," might be returned with the next drawing. Many persons have thus acquired their "start," and have reason to thank their nerve, or the newspapers, for their good fortune.

"This may certify, that for a number of years I have been afflicted with the Scrofulous Humor, which caused a swelling of my neck and several ulcers, which were very painful, and that by the use of several bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, they have been entirely removed, and the swelling has all gone from my neck, and it is now over two years since the cure."
BETSEY SANBORN.
Kensington, Sept. 25, 1835.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Lebanon, Me., Oct. 6, 1859.
Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, and so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years, I now retain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

From a highly respected physician in Maine

South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.
Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure where other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,
WM. A. RUST, M. D.

☞ Harper's Monthly Magazine for August has a good table of contents and a rich Editor's Drawer. To Red River and Beyond is a beautifully illustrated article. A. Williams & Co., Boston, and J. H. Foster, Portsmouth, have the number.

The Tribune's Washington correspondent says the defalcation of the New Orleans Postmaster amounts to $50,000, as appears by the books of the department.

☞ The old system of bounties on codfish taken off Newfoundland, by French vessels, would expire in 1861. The Corps Legislatif has just prolonged the system to 1871, mainly actuated by the consideration that this fishery is the only source France has for the supply of seamen to her navy, there being 14,000 hands on board the various crafts on the cod banks.

☞ Several New York Abolitionists endeavored on Friday night last to induce a slave belonging to Capt. Anderson, of the Savannah Blues, (a "crack" Southern corps now on a visit to Gotham,) to abandon his master. The negro, however, steadily refused, saying that he was attached to his master, and also that he did not think it would be right to run away.

He has probably heard this text often, "Servants obey your masters,"—but it is not likely he ever listened to a sermon from this one: "If thou mayest be free, use it rather."

☞ The Chicago Zouaves are deservedly receiving great attentions in Boston. Gen. Wool received the Zouaves at Troy, and then made a speech, in which he said he had seen not only the best soldiers in America, but had visited the great military schools of Europe, and had seen many great military reviews in different countries, but had never seen a body of military equal to the Chicago company for perfection of drill.

☞ A calamitous fire in the woods back of River du Loup, on the lower St. Lawrence, has been burning for a week, and was still raging intensely on the 16th inst. It had extended for fifty or sixty miles, in the parish of St. Eloi, in the rear of Ile Verte, containing about forty families, from twenty-five to thirty of whom have lost their all—houses, barns, cattle, crops, &c.

☞ The fiftieth anniversary of the Rev. Dr. Spring's settlement over the Brick Church, in New York, will occur on the first Sabbath in August, on which occasion he is expected to preach his anniversary sermon in the morning. This is his first and only pastoral charge.

☞ A celebration was held at Pink Hill, in Jackson county, Mo., on the 4th, and the heat was so intense that two children died from suffocation or exhaustion on the ground. Four horses and mules also died.

☞ The story going the rounds about a cargo of slaves having been landed in Mobile bay, turns out a hoax. The story sprung from the fact that a planter from Alabama had been to a more northern market, and while there had purchased a lot of hands for his plantation.

☞ Wolf & Co., liquor merchants at Sacramento, and a jobbing house in San Francisco in which they were concerned, have failed for $25,000.

☞ The New York correspondent of the Charleston Mercury says the Japanese received presents to the value of not less than $30,000 while in New York, and gave not more than $200 worth. New York was sold by the Orientals.

☞ A citizen of Lafayette, Ind., who was in the habit of cruelly punishing one of his children, was seized by his neighbors a few nights since, his clothing stripped from his person, and then a stout man with a leather strap gave him a taste of the punishment he had been so ready to inflict upon his child. After administering as much of the leather as he could bear, his neighbors advised him to leave town, which he was glad to do the next morning.

☞ A new gunpowder is announced in England, which is said to be less dangerous than ordinary powder, produces very little smoke, and that of a less pungent kind than usual, not only enabling the miner to work in close places without the delay consequent on smoke, but greatly diminishing the unhealthy effects of it in the mines. It is invented by a relation of the gentleman who invented the safety fuse, which has proved invaluable to thousands.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operated admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators
It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.
This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.
The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different favors cannot impregnate each other—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.
All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.]
MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.
In the Year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty.

AN ACT establishing the pay of the recording clerks of the legislature.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, &c. In lieu of the compensation now by law paid to the clerks of the two branches of the legislature, for preparing the journals thereof and discharging the duties incumbent upon them, the clerk of the House of Representatives shall receive, for all services by him performed at the June session, and all duties attendant thereon, including attendance, travel, preparing the two copies of his journal and for indexing the same, the sum of five hundred and fifty dollars; and should there be another session other than the annual one commencing the first Wednesday in June, he shall receive such compensation for his services thereat as shall be voted him by the legislature.

Sec. 2. The clerk of the Senate shall receive for all services by him performed, and appertaining to his office, the sum of four hundred and fifty dollars, and he shall be liable to the same restrictions and subject to the same privileges as are set forth in the preceding section, as applicable to the clerk of the House of Representatives.

Sec. 3. The assistant clerks of either body shall continue to be paid in the same way and manner in which they now are, viz. $2.50 per day for attendance, and 10 cents per mile for actual travel to and from the legislature.

Sec. 4. The clerks shall keep a fair record of all the proceeding of either branch, and shall add to the journal proper an appendix, containing all the public documents heretofore customary to be so preserved. They shall deposit with the State Printer, within sixty days from the adjournment of the legislature, a fair copy of the proceedings and appendix, duly indexed, and shall, before the first Wednesday of the succeeding June, deposit a like copy handsomely engrossed, but without the appendix, with the Secretary of State.

Sec. 5. In case of the decease of the clerk of either branch before the journals are completed and attested by him, the completion of such work shall be performed by his assistant; and in the payment of the salary or any equitable division shall be made between said assistant and the representatives of his chief; said assignment to be made by His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council. But in case such clerk should decease after preparing his journals, but before the assembling of the legislature, then the whole salary appertaining to his office shall be paid to his legal representatives.

Sec. 6. The clerks shall also be allowed for postages and expresses by them incurred in the discharge of their official duty, such expenses to be audited by the Governor and Council, and paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 7. The proceedings of the two houses in Convention shall be kept and recorded only in the journal of the House of Representatives, and the salaries herein established shall be paid from the State Treasury, one half when the journals, respectively, shall be deposited with the State Printer, and the other when the journal shall be deposited, in manuscript, with the Secretary of State, provided said work has been properly performed.

Sec. 8. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage. Approved, July 4, 1860.

AN ACT relating to commissioners.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, &c. Any commissioner for any other State, who is authorized to take depositions, administer oaths, and affirmations, and take the acknowledgments of deeds within this State; any commissioner, appointed by the supreme judicial court of this State, or any justice thereof, shall have the same power to administer oaths and affirmations, and to issue writs of summons to a witness, and to proceed against such witness, upon his neglect to appear and give his depositions, in all such proceedings under his commission, that is now vested in justices of the peace.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage. Approved, July 3, 1860.

AN ACT in relation to the building and repairing highways in unincorporated places.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That the several counties in this State shall be liable, in the same way as towns now are by law liable, to keep the county roads in unincorporated places in their respective counties in a proper state of repair, and the same remedies shall apply to delinquent counties which fail to keep the said roads in their respective counties in a proper state of repair, as by law now exist against towns which fail to keep their highways in a proper state of repair.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved, July 4, 1860.

AN ACT in amendment of section 1, chapter 2246, of the Pamphlet Laws, entitled, "An act to establish the boundary line between Greenland and Stratham."

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That the following line be and the same is constituted and established as the true division line between the termini hereafter named, between the towns of Greenland and Stratham, to wit: Commencing at a stone post, in the south-westerly corner of Charles W. Hatch's pasture; thence running north, about 45 degrees east, five rods and twenty links, to a stone post, on land of said Hatch; thence running north about 41 degrees west, across the road leading from the house of George T. Sec. 2. Any officer convicted of receiving any fee or reward for services under this act, other than such as may be paid by the authorities of the city or town, shall be fined, at the discretion of the court, not less than ten dollars.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved June 29, 1860.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force whenever any town or city, by a major vote of the legal voters, at any meeting called for that purpose, or any city, by a vote of the city council shall adopt the same. Approved, July 3, 1860.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, having Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, and Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure to them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has prepared 11 CHILDREN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great skill and fidelity as this part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made ON TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

BLOOD FOOD.

Healthy human Blood upon being ANALYZED always presents us with the same essential elements, and gives of course the True Standard.—Analyze the Blood of Consumption sufferers, or Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, &c., and we find in every instance certain deficiencies in the red globules of Blood. Supply these deficiencies, and you are made well. The "BLOOD FOOD" is founded upon this theory—hence its astonishing success. There are FIVE PREPARATIONS adapted to the deficiencies of the Blood in different diseases. For COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, or any affection which ever of the THROAT or LUNGS inducing CONSUMPTION, use No. 1, which is also the No. for Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, and for all CHRONIC COMPLAINTS arising from OVERUSE, GENERAL DEBILITY, and NERVOUS PROSTRATION. No. 2, for LIVER COMPLAINTS: No 3, for DYSPEPSIA. Being already prepared for absorption it is taken by Drops and carried immediately into the circulation, so that what you gain you retain. The No 4 is for FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, HYSTERIA, WEAKNESSES, &c. See special directions for this. For SALT RHEUM, SCROFULOUS, KIDNEY, and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, take No. 5. In all cases, the directions must be strictly followed. Price of the "BLOOD FOOD", $1 per bottle.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic, Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupify.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all disorderly derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous energies prostrated, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

MOTHERS,

BAKER'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, AND DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP; also, for Softening the Gums, reducing Inflammation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Cholera Infantum. Are you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences, which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation could render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are at hand. Of female sufferers, many victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic energy from which no other remedy

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.
[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]
Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their hog Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.
[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]
My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.
[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]
My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.
Baltimore, July 14, 1859.
PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.
PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, nap from falling to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saddy against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effect of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGENOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1860.

ZOUAVE DRILL.

We wish we could impress upon all men, especially all young men, the great truth that every act of life brings its own reward or punishment, from which there is no escape.

Tipplers, smokers, sensualists all, would do well to look at the Chicago Zouaves, and their rules of living. They are total abstinents, as we understand—and no company looks equal to them.

The members of the U. S. Z. C. are prohibited from entering drinking saloons at any hour of the day or night, except when compelled to do so by imperative business, which cannot be done by proxy.

They are prohibited from "entering houses of ill-fame under any circumstances or pretext whatever," by proxy or otherwise.

They are not allowed to enter any gambling saloon, or to gamble for any sum or article (except fancy stocks,) under any circumstances or on any pretext.

They are not permitted to enter any private room attached to any hotel or saloon, for drinking or gambling purposes under any circumstances.

They are debarred from playing billiards in any public billiard saloon. "Playing billiards," it is remarked in the laws of the corps, "is interdicted, not because of any objection to the game as an elegant amusement to those who can afford it, but because for young men it is a step to the other offenses named, and the excitement and associations of the billiard saloon naturally lead to drinking."

Each member of the corps is required to look after the morals of every other member. In the language of the rule, "as it is the first duty of every Cadet to avoid any temptation to break the rules," so it is his second, when any infraction of them comes to his knowledge, to report the same to the company; and when it shall be proved that any Cadet has neglected so to do, he shall be subjected to the same penalty as the delinquent. Any infraction of the rules is punishable by expulsion, and the publication of the offender's name in the Chicago papers, and forfeiture of his uniform to the company.

The company is a moral experiment, as well as an experiment in physical training and military drill. If the Zouaves can demonstrate the fact that military companies can bid defiance to whisky, on parade, and in the streets when off duty, the lesson they teach will be a valuable one, and others may improve by their example, both in military and civic life.

FRENCH INTERVENTION IN MEXICO.—The Times Washington correspondent reiterates a story of French intervention in Mexico, and says that the special Minister of France to Mexico is expected to arrive at Washington soon, to consult our government on the matter, and that this purpose has been already communicated to the State Department through the French Legation at Washington, and American co-operation is solicited. This was declined, though no objection was made to the proposed course of France. England unites with France in a guarantee that religious toleration shall be made the basis of settlement.

☞ Among the projects of Napoleon III. is that of partially rebuilding the Tuileries, so as to make that renowned palace harmonize with the buildings in its neighborhood, which he has greatly improved. The Tuileries is a regular historical brick, and has outlasted the dynasties of Valois, Bourbon, and Orleans, and it will probably outlive the imperial dynasty also. It was made a palace by Louise de Savoie, mother of Francis I., in 1520, and Catherine de Medici made it a royal abode. The name comes from the circumstance that the palace stands on the site of some old tile-works (tuilerie) of the middle ages.

POST OFFICE INSTRUCTIONS.—The Postmaster General is about to issue a circular to Postmasters, requiring that postage stamps and not money should be used for the prepayment of postage, prohibiting the use of rating stamps, and stating that a neglect to cancel postage stamps effectually or postmarked letters will be regarded as a cause for censure if not removal. Instructions will be issued in regard to the execution of the recent provision of Congress for the return of letters to the writers thereof, when not taken out of the office.

☞ Petitions have been in circulation for the pardon of Benjamin Kimball—forger of a deposition to obtain a divorce from his wife—in case the Supreme Court overrules his exceptions and orders judgment on the verdict. During the present term of Court, in Portland, this opinion has been announced. Exceptions and motion overruled. Judgment on verdict.

☞ Joseph Gales, of the National Intelligencer, died at Washington, the 22d inst., aged 75 years.

A SINGULAR FAMILY—at least the female portion of it—resides in Newburyport, as the Herald informs us. The mother, far advanced in life, and a daughter nearly fifty years old—have shown very little disposition to mix with or see the world. They are seldom abroad, and have not together been off their premises for thirty years at least, and we believe neither of them out of the street on which they reside for a score of years, till last Saturday. They then accepted the invitation of a relative to spend the day at Oldtown. When he would take them in a carriage, the younger was greatly alarmed, for she had never been in any kind of a carriage in her life. She turned pale, trembled, and grew faint, at the prospect before her, but was finally prevailed on to trust herself to that conveyance instead of her feet. They stopped in full view of the Eastern railroad, and three trains passed near them; this was the first and all of their railroad experience.—Neither of them before had seen a car or had the least idea of a steam engine. The appearance of a train struck them with terror, and the old lady, who knows the Bible "like a book," though she is not so well read in modern literature, said she believed it was an invention of the devil, and had been sent out to seek whom it might devour.—She had some fear that it would eat her up. There is not an Esquimaux in the heart of Greenland, or an inhabitant of the interior of Africa, who would be more startled and surprised if a rail train should drop down from heaven and run at full speed before his hut, than were the ladies, who belong to a highly respectable family, where the husband and sons are as much given to the world, as full of new ideas, and as ready for the last joke as anybody.

☞ To-day we know not how we could live without coal—certainly nations would not hold their present positions and relations without it; and yet it was only yesterday that its consumption commenced.—Six centuries ago—no very long time in the history of a world—it was an offence against the laws to burn it in London; and in the time of Edward I. a man was tried, convicted, and executed for that crime.

☞ Benjamin Welles, Esq., died very suddenly of apoplexy, at his residence in Boston, on Saturday, in the 79th year of his age. He graduated at Harvard College in 1800, in the same class with Rev. Chas. Lowell, D. D., Chief Justice Lemuel Shaw, Samuel Swett, Esq., the late Washington Alston, and the late Rev. Joseph Stevens Buckminster. On leaving college he studied law for some time with Hon. Levi Lincoln of Worcester, and afterwards with Hon. Harrison Gray Otis of Boston.

LIGHTNING.—The residence of Granville Pollard, in Sharon Centre, Mass., was struck by lightning on Saturday afternoon, and his daughter Marietta, a lovely girl of fourteen, was instantly killed. The building, formerly known as the Old Parsonage, was considerably injured. There were ten persons in the room at the time. The victim in this case is the only person who was ever killed by lightning in the town, so far as is known to the oldest inhabitant.

LIGHTNING AMONG THE HOOPS.—At Bangor, on Thursday night, during a thunder storm, C. H. Buswell's house, occupied by Mr. Murray, was struck by lightning on the roof. The discharge went off in three places, damaging the house to the extent of one hundred dollars. Just before the stroke, Mr. Murray got up out of bed and took his wife's steel crinoline to throw out of the way, when the flash came at him through the hoops, knocking him down insensible, and burning one of his feet.

☞ The highest speed ever attained by horse-flesh was four miles in seven and a third minutes, or at the rate of thirty-three miles an hour. The highest speed of the locomotive, well authenticated, was on one of the English lines, at the rate of seventy-eight miles an hour. And it is said that a Holybead boat has run 26 statute miles an hour, which equals the best time ever made on the North River.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times says that Larcomb and English have obtained an injunction preventing Mr. Pangborn from drawing any money on account of the public printing, until their contract with Ford has undergone investigation. Larcomb and English's contract with Ford was to do all the work paying the latter 20 per cent only.

Nine Democratic papers in Georgia support Douglas and Johnson, and all of them are fighting like Zouaves.—Argus.

Quite likely: the democratic papers all over the country are fighting each other like——.

☞ A newspaper correspondent in Connecticut writes:—

The Democratic split has made this State so sure for Lincoln that all excitement is quenched. It is amusing to see how the Democrats run from anything like a political argument; and the nearest approach to life is in the quiet congratulations of the Republicans with one another.

AN INTERESTING OCCASION.—At the beautiful village of Newtonville, Mass., on Sunday last, were held the first church services ever had in that portion of the town. A fine large brick church, commenced by the Baptists, has, after long lying unfinished, been recently completed for occupancy by Unitarians and other friends of "liberal christianity" in the place; and was opened for the first time on Sunday morning. The congregation was large, and one of the finest collections of men and women we ever saw, including an unusually large number of noble-looking old gentlemen.

Rev. Mr. Weiss, Mr. King's temporary successor in Boston, officiated, with his usual ability, eloquence and adaptedness to the occasion. His text was from the passage, "Ye can read the face of the sky, and can ye not discern the signs of the times?" He is to occupy the desk here for several Sabbath mornings, while his church in Boston is closed for the summer.

The music was under charge of Mr. Lambert, a talented musician, totally blind from childhood, who played on the melodeon with great skill, accuracy and good taste.—He is teacher at the South Boston Institute for the Blind, and in his choir was a young man also entirely devoid of sight, who sang tenor. The music was good throughout;—and when "the people" joined in Old Hundred and another old tune, we thought we had rarely seen so much real soul infused into congregational singing, or any other.

The day was delightful, and amid the rural surroundings, and considering all the accompanying circumstances, the occasion was highly interesting and enjoyable to all appreciative minds.

☞ The New York Herald has come out in favor of Breckinridge and Lane. After reviewing the chances of the different candidates, the Herald concludes:

"The rapid spread of the Breckinridge movement in this State, and the present attitude of Pennsylvania, show very plainly that a Union, conservative, conciliatory spirit prevails in the great central States, and that with proper efforts a great deal of strength outside of the Democratic party may be gained for the Breckinridge ticket. If the Union, peace-loving voters, will drop Douglas, Bell and Houston, neither of whom can by any possibility be elected, and turn their votes in to Breckinridge and Lane, they will sweep the country and demolish the Black Republicans as Sampson did the Philistines. Mr. Breckinridge is the only candidate except Mr. Lincoln, who is sure of an electoral vote, and the latter, if beaten at all, can only be overthrown by the former. It is all very well to write and speak against Lincoln and his supporters, but it all avails nothing, unless there is a united opposition to him. The sectional Republican party must be met and overthrown at the polls, and all other considerations should give way to the grand object in view. Mr. Breckinridge gains strength in the North every day. It is possible that he may conquer Lincoln. It is not possible, so far as we can see, for any other candidate to do so. Therefore we advise all conservative masses of the North to unite and outvote Lincoln at the polls, combining to support the only nominations which have touched the popular heart—those of Breckinridge and Lane."

☞ The Ballymena (Ireland) Observer says that Wm. McCord, a shoemaker, died several years ago £40 in debt, and leaving his family penniless. His daughter Ann Jane emigrated to New York city, where she obtained service as a domestic, and after six years of hard work and rigid economy obtained money enough to cancel her father's debts, which she sent home for the purpose last February.

ARRIVAL OF THE PRINCE OF WALES. St. Johns, N.F., July 24.—The royal steamships Hero and Ariadne anchored at 7 o'clock last evening. The Prince of Wales will land to-day. Royal salutes are being fired from the batteries. Large crowds are gathered on the wharves, and there is a general display of bunting from the shipping and from public and private buildings.

☞ In a certain village in New York State, the pastor of a Presbyterian church sued the pastor of the Methodist church for the recovery of two sermons which the plaintiff claims to have lost a year since, and which, in his complaint, he charges are "converted and disposed of by the said defendant to his own use."

☞ The Norwich (Conn.) Gazette perpetrates the following:

Bridget was called in and informed that the census-taker wished to see her. "The senses-taker is it? Be-gorie, and is it myself that came a thousand leagues across the wather to Ameriky to have me senses taken from me! Howly virgin protect a poor woman who has niver a sense to spare," &c.

☞ A man named Job Sneath, who lives near Fostoria, Pa., while harvesting, on Wednesday last, was taken suddenly ill, and during the evening vomited up a live lizard over four inches in length. He has no idea when and in what manner it got into his stomach, but he has been in bad health for several months.

'Tis little troubles that wear the heart out. It is easier to throw a bomb-shell a mile, than a feather—even with artillery.—Forty little debts of a dollar each, will cause you more trouble and dunning than one big one of a thousand.

THE RIVER PATH.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

The following new and beautiful poem, from our ever-welcome contributor, will be recognized by those who have ever been near his cottage, as a Picture of a Sunset on the Banks of the Merrimac.

No bird-song floated down the hill,
The tangled bank below was still;

No rustle from the birchen stem,
No ripple from the water's hem.

The dusk of twilight round us grew,
We felt the falling of the dew;

For, from us, ere the day was done,
The wooded hills shut out the sun.

But on the river's farther side
We saw the hill-tops glorified,—

A tender glow, exceeding fair,
A dream of day without its glare.

With us the damp, the chill, the gloom;
With them the sunset's rosy bloom;

While dark, through willowy vistas seen,
The river rolled in shade between.

From out the darkness where we trod
We gazed upon those hills of God,

Whose light seemed not of moon or sun.
We spake not, but our thought was one.

We paused, as if from that bright shore
Beckoned our dear ones gone before;

And stilled our beating hearts to hear
The voices lost to mortal ear!

Sudden our pathway turned from night;
The hills swung open to the light;

Thro' their green gates the sunshine showed,
A long, slant splendor downward flowed.

Down glade and glen and bank it rolled;
It bridged the shady stream with gold;

And, borne on piers of mist, allied
The shadowy with the sunlit side!

"So," prayed we, "when our feet draw near
The river, dark with mortal fear,

And the night cometh chill with dew,
O, Father! let thy light break through!

So let the hills of doubt divide,
So bridge with faith the sunless tide!

So let the eyes that fail on earth
On thy eternal hills look forth;

And in thy beckoning angels know
The dear ones whom we loved below!"

FROM HAYTI.—Haytien dates are to the 6th. Business is dull. Three thousand emigrants had arrived from Venezuela.—Santa Anna was threatening an invasion of Hayti with 3000 troops on account of an alleged trespass by President Geffrard on his dominions. A skirmish took place on June 30th at Ceroado.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, and so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

From a highly respected physician in Maine.

South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.

Messrs. S W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure where other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,

WM. A. RUST, M. D.

A PRESENT DOUBLY VALUABLE.—We learn that members of the South Parish in this city have subscribed a purse of $1500 for the benefit of Rev. Dr. Peabody, their pastor, whose connection with them is soon to cease; and it was presented to him on Monday. Valuable as the gift is in itself, it must be peculiarly prized by the eminently-worthy recipient, as a parting token of the mutual good will which has ever existed between pastor and people.

SAD COINCIDENCES.—Within a year, we have been called upon to chronicle the death of an only daughter, but a few months a wife, and a much beloved son, in a family in a neighboring town: and in this city, within a few days, a young man cut his leg severely with a hatchet, and his sister was fearfully wounded by a cannon-wad. May we not hope that as in the first instance, both cases resulted fatally, so in this last, both may be restored to health.

☞ "The Eastern Herald" is the title of a new weekly paper just established at Biddeford. It is published by the Messrs. Watson Brothers, and is edited by William Plumer, Esq. It supports Douglas and Johnson. The Nashua (N. H.) Gazette speaks of Mr. Plumer, the editor, in the following manner:

Mr. P. originated in Epping, N. H., and is son of the late Hon. Wm. Plumer, Jr., of that town, and grandson of the late Gov. Plumer. The grandson follows in the footsteps of his grandfather, who was Democratic Governor of New Hampshire in 1816.

Some mistake there; Gov. Plumer was a Republican Governor—never belonged to the Democratic party at all—voted solus for John Quincy Adams, &c., &c.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—The seventh annual Exhibition and Cattle Show of the Rockingham County Agricultural Society, is to be held in Portsmouth in September. A paper for subscriptions will be circulated soon, perhaps during the present week, to raise funds for a portion of the necessarily large expenses, and to increase the number of members in Portsmouth and vicinity.—The Trustees are to hold a meeting early in August, to appoint the committees and other officers for the Fair; and it is highly desirable that this city should be as largely represent in the list of enrolled members as possible. The payment of $5 (or more) constitutes life membership, with no liability to assessment for five years, and not exceeding $1 per year thereafter.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S REVENGE.—In a flourishing manufacturing and agricultural district in New Hampshire, embracing some eight or ten post offices and a population of 25,000, the mail route has been put on half time—going now three times a week instead of daily, as formerly. This looks very much like a punishment of the people for allowing the Granite State to go Republican. This is not the only mail route that has been curtailed in New England States the present year. We know of no particular remedy, however, but to wait patiently until the 4th of March, 1861, when the wishes of the people will be respected.—Atlas.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.—HON. Larkin D. Mason, chairman of the commissioners appointed by Gov. Goodwin of New Hampshire on the cattle disease, has been in Massachusetts for a few days, making investigation in regard to the pleuro-pneumonia. He visited Mr. Chenery's herd at Belmont, Monday.

MARINE COURT-MARTIAL.—A Marine Court-Martial commenced its sessions at this Navy Yard, on Tuesday, Brevet Lieut. Col. Dulany presiding, and Henry L. Hallet, Esq., acting as advocate. It is held for the trial of officers and men of the Marines, for various offences, few of which are of any considerable interest to the public.

☞ A fellow named Stephen Rowell, formerly of Hopkinton in this State, and for some time past a pauper in the town of Newcastle, stabbed Mr. Joshua W. K. Card, of that town, on Saturday afternoon, inflicting a severe wound in the breast. Had not Card warded off the knife of his assailant, he would doubtless have been fatally wounded.

☞ Another Excursion to the Shoals to-morrow, in the beautiful new schooner Lizzie M. Stewart, if fair weather.

☞ Hon. S. A. Douglas is to visit Concord next Tuesday. Fireworks, bonfires, speeches and the firing of cannon will welcome him to the Capital.

☞ Here is an unpleasant case of "snubbing:"—

But there is a party we can compromise with, and that is the Bell and Everett party.—Forsyth's speech at Philadelphia.

Bell and Everett have no compromises to make, sir, with Squatter Sovereignty men, unless it be to receive their votes.—Baltimore Patriot.

Which They Won't.—A Union-and-Constitution-party politician lately asked one of our young men if they thought the people would elect Bell, whether or no. "Elect Bell-Whether?" asked our young man; "I should as soon expect them to elect Ewe."—Vanity Fair.

SHOCKING SCENE.—Shortly before nine o'clock this morning, the storekeepers on Chestnut street, between Third and Fourth, and the concourse of pedestrians on their way down town were horrified by the startling and sudden death of a boy, about twelve years of age, who fell from the roof of a four story house on the south side of the way, to the pavement. A crowd gathered, who gazed upon the mangled remains as they lay in the dazzling sunlight, which glittered over the brilliant and stirring thoroughfare. The boy's name was John Kerns, and he was employed in Orr's printing office, No. 310 Chestnut street, from the roof which building he fell.—Philadelphia Bulletin, 20th.

☞ A man named Harris Felch dropped dead in Hopkinton, N. H., Friday, while mowing. He was about 56 years old, and leaves a wife and six children.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to
WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
NOW IN SOLE USE.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research in the American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given show what some is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services more moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions, unsurpassed by any other collection, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe. Owing to these facts, he is enabled to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, not but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and a very reasonable charge." JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

BLOOD FOOD.
Healthy human Blood upon being ANALYZED always presents us with the same essential elements, and gives of course the True Standard.—Analyze the Blood of a person suffering from Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofulous, &c., and we find in every instance certain deficiencies in the red globules of Blood. Supply these deficiencies, and you are made well. The "BLOOD FOOD" is founded upon this theory—hence its astonishing success. There are FIVE PREPARATIONS adapted to the deficiencies of the Blood in different diseases. For COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, or any affection whatever of the THROAT or LUNGS tending to CONSUMPTION, use No. 1, which is also the No. for Depression of Spirits, Loss of Appetite, and for all CHRONIC COMPLAINTS arising from OVER-USE, GENERAL DEBILITY, and NERVOUS PROSTRATION. No. 2, for LIVER COMPLAINTS; No. 3, for DYSPEPSIA. Being already prepared for absorption it is taken by Drops and carried immediately into the circulation, so that what you gain you retain. The No. 4 is for FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, HYSTERIA, WEAKNESSES, &c. See special directions for this. For SALT RHEUM, SCROFULOUS, KIDNEY, and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, take No. 5. In all cases, the directions must be strictly followed. Price of the "BLOOD FOOD," $1 per bottle.

It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupify.
As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.
It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.
Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.
What it will do!
Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.
NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.
Persons owing, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.
Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.
During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

MOTHERS,
Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, and why? Because it never fails to afford immediate relief, when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening the sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known for CHILDREN TEETHING, DIARRHŒA, NERVOUSNESS, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP; also, for Softening the Gums, reducing Inflamation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Convulsions or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other preparations for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL; this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.
Full directions accompany each bottle. Price 25 cents. Prepared only by

VERMONT BUTTER.

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE
RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON
An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.
The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable form. Immotions in all indications in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:
In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.
In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued assimilation of nervous energy from long chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor testimonial would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent anæmia, spasmodic constipation, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which there is no remedy like exercise.
In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the opinion of this preparation of Iron is decisively in favor, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and yet gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.
It is that tonic property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.
In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Pills will prove a most efficacious remedy for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.
In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been in many instances astonishing.
In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.
In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, the medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.
The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy—as a tonic restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.
In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, especially—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and inflammation of the joints.
In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.
No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which has been such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.
Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Morning Chronicle.

We are told that Socrates deliberately, and with purpose aforethought, chose a termagant for his wife, that by endurance of her exacting and unreasonable temper, he might cultivate the virtues of patience and forbearance in his own soul. Such an assertion staggers credulity; for the choice of a life long discordant companionship, in the closest relations of life, is a life of self-inflicted torture which reduces to comparative insignificance the most cruel penance of the most devout ascetics. I would be quite content to believe that he accepted the painful conditions of an unhappy marriage, when undesignedly he had become involved in them, as a means of discipline, developing thereby that sublime spirit of self-control, patience and forgiveness, to which he at last attained.

A Good One.—Two young ladies of Philadelphia were lately spending a few weeks in northeastern New York. During their visit they took several long rides with the daughter of their host about the country. On one of these occasions, as they had been travelling some distance, and the day was warm, and as a trough of running water stood invitingly by the roadside, they concluded to give their pony a drink. One of the city ladies agreed to get out and arrange matters for this purpose. The others, remaining in the carriage, deeply engaged in conversation, for some time paid no attention to the proceedings of their companion. When, at last, surprised at the long delay, they turned to ascertain the cause, they discovered her endeavoring to unbuckle the crupper. In amazement they inquired, "What in the world are you doing that for?" To which she naively replied, "Why, I am unbuckling this strap to let the horse's head down so he can drink!"

How to Make a Splendid Income. Thanks to Mr. Justice Wiles, this process is now easy to anybody who can raise the preliminary £5. The Journals say:—"It has just been laid down by Mr. Justice Wiles that a banker is bound to pay on the production of the half of a cut note, even without an indemnity." Therefore all one has to do is to get a five pound note, and cut it in halves. Present one half, and under the authority of Mr. Justice Wiles demand the money. Do the same with the other half. Turn each £5 into a note, and cut each note, and repeat the presenting process. An industrious young man with £5 and a pair of scissors, may now become independent in course of a week. Thanks to Mr. Justice Wiles.—Punch.

Interesting Family Gathering.—The scattered family of Rev. Dr. Emerson, now in his 82d year, gathered at the old homestead on Saturday, some thirty in number. The family group included the venerable Dr. and his wife; ten children, eight of whom are married; with the wives or husbands of the latter, and several grand-children. Two of the sons and one son-in-law are clergymen, as well as the patriarch of the flock, and the four severally and collectively perform all the pulpit exercises in the South Church during the day and evening, yesterday. Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts sent representatives, and a happier family convocation is seldom seen. Salem Register, 22d.

The Mobile Tribune says of the weather:—"The 'fig-leaf properties' of life have been well-nigh entirely disorganized by the liquifying influence of the weather.—Gentlemen of strict and exemplary propriety of deportment who heretofore would have deeply resented a suggestion to sit down to their own tables without a coat or cravat, have been fain to disgard these incumbrances entirely. Indeed the original costume of primitive Paradise has been more generally and more closely approximated, perhaps, than ever before in this degenerate age of broadcloth and crinoline, but no scantiness of investure is scant enough to afford approachable relief."

The Pipsywipsy. — This complaint, which is peculiar to the western country in the summer season, has broken out among many of our citizens. A sudden depression of the colipsus lindux, a caving in of the spinality or back bonibus, and a feeling of slimness in the immediate vicinity of the caberoid canibus, may be regarded as proper indications that the complaint is coming on. The following prescription will afford instant relief: Spiritus Vini Otardi, z. i.; Spiritus Vini Jamaici, z. Ss.; Sugarum Whitum, q. s.; Icibus Finis, q. s.; Sliceum Pineapplei; Strawberri. Shakistis violenter. Suckite dulciter cum strawum.

"Higher Law" among the Union Savers. — Hon. B. H. Hill of Georgia, styled by his friends "Georgia's Great Commoner," in a recent speech claimed that the slave title was not made by human law, for on that title alone, he would lose his slaves before sun-down. This "Great Commoner" should be looked after; if the "higher law" has advocates at the South, in the Union party, it is time that the law against treason was vigorously enforced.—Atlas.

Rum and Tobacco.—Virtues are congenial; so are vices. The god Bacchus, and the god Tobacco, with little exaggeration may say, "United we stand, divided we fall!" Tobacco often lays the foundation for the use of alcohol. One is a boyish habit of earlier formation than the other, and with an earlier "start," prepares its victim for "woes and wounds," which its great rival inflicts. The victims of tobacco are thirsty men the world over.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flattered myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some one or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, any person can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of Your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

TROUBLES IN SYRIA.

The civil war still continues. Mr. Bird, an American missionary, writes, June 7, from Dheir-el-Kamar, as follows:

I open my letter to say that the slaughter at Zahleh has been fearful; amongst others, several French Jesuits were murdered by the Druses. The whole of Syria is now open to these hordes of ruffians. Great fear is expressed for Damascus. At Dheir-el-Kamar the Druses are disarming the Christians, and will no doubt in due time massacre the whole population of the place. Beirut is like a deserted town—the harbor crowded with men-of-war, signals making, salutes firing, and everything as in a state of war.

The correspondent of the London Daily News, who concurs with others in describing the scenes of blood which have taken place, says one thing is certain, "that the Turkish government must be invited, if not coerced, to exile for life from Syria any Druse sheik who took any prominent part in the outrages which have recently been perpetrated. Again, all feudal power of the Druse sheiks in Lebanon must be at once and forever suppressed, and the whole mountain put under a Christian kaimaracan, who will be subject to the Sultan's government, but controlled by the Consuls general of the Five Powers.

If this be done, there may be hopes in the future for Syria; otherwise a repetition of the late wholesale murders is probable. If one iota of power is left to the Druses of Syria, or if every sheik who took part in the late outrages against the Christians is not banished from the land, it would be better—as no doubt will be the case—that every European or other Christian in the province should leave the country. Neither the English trade to Syria, nor that of any other country, can ever be on a safe footing until there is for Mount Lebanon one strong-handed governor, and he ought to be a Christian."

From Syria, at the latest dates, it appears that the insurrection continues. The Pasha had gone on a special mission, armed with full powers, and in view of this fact England and France had agreed to abstain from present interference. If Turkey prove incapable, however, these Governments have agreed on identical instructions to to their several Admirals, with regard to stopping the massacres. At the destruction of one village the Druses had killed more than two thousand men in cold blood. Great alarm prevailed at Beirut, and the Christians and Franks had taken refuge on foreign men-of-war.

Garibaldi Items.—Garibaldi, according to a correspondent of L'Eco d'Italia, writing from Milan, June 27th, contemplates a feat which will throw all his previous exploits in the shade. This is no less than a sudden invasion of the States of the Church by sea, and a march upon Rome. It is thought that, in such an event, the Pope will take refuge in Austria.

A French armorer has sent to Garibaldi a gift of a coat of mail, dagger proof and bullet proof. Its workmanship is perfect, and it is valued at upwards of five thousand francs. It may be worn under the uniform like a shirt, for it is extremely flexible, light and portable.

Dogs—How to Use them Profitably.—The most profitable use that nine-tenths of all the dogs in this country could be applied to is to mix about five dogs with a barrel of lime and ten cart loads of muck in a compost heap. A barrel of wood ashes may be added to help the decomposition of the bones. We believe that a dressing of this compost, applied to sheep pastures, would greatly enhance the production of wool and mutton.

In Favor of Hoop Skirts.—We learn from the Taunton Gazette that a boat containing six men, two women and three children, was capsized in Mount Hope Bay on Sunday afternoon. Eli Irving, one of the party, swam three-quarters of a mile, obtained the assistance of some boatmen, and the whole party were picked up in a comparatively comfortable state. Hoop skirts were the means of saving the ladies.

☞ Lewis Page, son of Moses Page, of Hyde Park, Vt., was almost instantly killed last Sunday morning, by a shot received from a gun in the hands of George Ladd, of Johnson, Vt. Both were young men of about eighteen or twenty years of age.—Ladd, who is in custody, says it was an accident; and if there had not been cause of jealousy in regard to a young lady, the whole affair would have passed as such.

Another Wife Beaten to Death.—On Monday afternoon, Thomas Bresford, in New York, beat his wife so severely that she died in the Hospital within eight hours. At the station house, when informed of his wife's death, he became almost frantic, declaring that he never meant to kill her; that he was drunk at the time, and knew nothing of the severity of the treatment.

THE ZOUAVES.

The Chicago Zouave Cadets, who have created such a furore in Boston, New York, and every where, are a most astonishing band of acrobats, gymnasts, and soldiers combined. For the complete drill in which this corps is exercised, four and a half hours are necessary; and it contains more than five hundred different movements! The fame which preceded the Zouaves had not been trumpeted too loudly. We had the pleasure of witnessing their performances on Boston Common, Saturday morning; and as the celebrated military man of the Boston Journal says,—it would be pleasant to describe it, if that was possible. All were charmed—electrified by it. The force had possessed but one mind, one set of nerves, and one set of muscles, they could not have been more accurately in unison. They performed chasseur movements on the run, and their wheeling fronts were straight as a die. Nothing could be truer to a line than the fronts they presented in every manœuvre. The most surprising part of the drill was that without knapsacks; the deploying in companies of five as skirmishers; formation of company pyramid, preparing against cavalry assault; the bayonet exercise, retreat and shout on the rally, produced a perfect furore of applause from citizens and military. The whole wound up with an exhibition of loading and firing while lying on the ground, running forward and retreating with an agility that would enable them to dodge betweed balls in a real engagement. Their surprising springiness, muscularity and general gymnastic excellence, was particularly developed in these movements.

The company movements were performed without music or the beat of drum, yet without a solitary break in the step, or a wave in the line of the front; neither was there any unevenness in the length of the step, but with a rigid uniformity of speed, whether by file or by the flank, they kept on, going through with the change of arms on the march as accurately as if in a dress parade. But not the least charming feature of their entire movements was the confident ease and almost careless abandon with which everything was performed.

The Chicago Zouave has three distinct uniforms. The full Zouave dress consists of dark blue coat, blue pantaloons and caps, with buff trimmings. The drill uniform consists of loose short scarlet trowsers, high gaiters with leggins, blue jacket and red cap, the various articles being trimmed with blue, orange and red facings. There is no coat collar, the neck being left free from the choking process so common in our infantry dress. They have bell buttons and moire antique facing to the jacket and vest. The fatigue or chasseur uniform consists of red pants and blue coat, neatly trimmed. They were organized in 1859, by their present commander, Col. E. E. Ellsworth.

During the first eight months after their organization, they drilled three times a week, and for the last six months they have drilled nearly every night in the week.—This vigorous exercise, the positive prohibition of enervating dissipation, sleeping upon hard beds, and judicious diet, has produced a body of men of wonderful physique, and a perfection of discipline which they claim is unsurpassed in any department of any regular service. They are all young men, and their bronzed features, light, wiry forms, muscular developments, and spirited, active movements, give them an appearance of dashing ferocity consistent with the general idea of the famous corps of the French army.

An immense crowd of people were present to witness the display on the Common, and crammed the streets on their line of march. They also gave exhibitions at the Boston Theatre Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, and the house was not large enough for the enthusiastic crowd that wanted to attend.

☞ A College Union Regatta, or Boat Race, took place at Worcester, Mass., on Tuesday.—The race was three miles.

In the race of the Freshmen, the boat "Thetis," of Harvard College, was the winner, in 19:40 1-2: the "Glyuna," of Yale, came in at 20:29.

In the Sophomore race, the Harvard Sophomore boat won in 20:17. One of the crew of the Yale boat "Thulia" was taken sick, and she gave up the race.

The third race was for the representative boats of Brown, Yale, and Harvard Colleges. The Brown boat half filled with water, was too light, and made a failure.—The Yale boat did the work in 19 minutes, 5 1-2 seconds. And the Harvard boat won in 18 minutes, 53 seconds; said to be the best time ever made.

☞ The Dubuque Herald figures up the weekly product of the lead mines in that vicinity at 250,000 lbs., which at $33 per 1000 lbs., would amount in value to $8250. The Herald then asks the pertinent question: "Whether this average weekly, and unfailing addition to the wealth of Dubuque is not better, upon the whole, than the uncertainties of Pike's Peak?"

Wealthy Counterfeiter in Custody.—The Philadelphia police have made an important arrest in the person of one Cregar, alias "King of the Coniackers." Cregar has long been suspected of manufacturing and dealing in counterfeit notes, and notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts to detect him, he always heretofore evaded the law. He has accumulated an immense fortune by his nefarious transactions, and owns a very fine country seat as well as a handsome residence in Philadelphia. Cregar has always had a fancy for the military, and has annually given them sumptuous festivals at his country place. He is well known and has secured for himself that respect which riches alone too frequently bring to their possessors.

☞ The brilliant victories of the Harvard boys in the College Regatta at Worcester are mentioned in another column. The crews from Cambridge are said by competent judges to be the best ever in training in America. We are glad that Portsmouth is not unrepresented in the boating interest of Harvard. Mr. Henry Mathes, of this city, is an efficient oar in the Sophomore Class Boat. The crew of which he is a member made the best time on record by lapstreaks, at the Boston City Regatta, on the Fourth of July last.

☞ The New York News, Mayor Wood's organ, says:

"Nine-tenths, if not ninety-nine hundredths, of the Democratic party in the State of New York are in favor of Judge Douglas, whom they regard as the regularly nominated candidate of the National Convention, and whose support they will under no circumstances abandon. If the administration choose, after full and reliable information of the state of public feeling, to persist in a course that must inevitably elect Mr. Lincoln, let them take the responsibility. The masses will sacrifice neither their principles nor their loyalty to the Democratic organization."

A decision of some importance, musically speaking, has just been made in Russia, the Emperor having ordered that the diapason of the French commission shall be adopted in the orchestras of the Imperial theatres from the 1st of September next. A sum of 45,000 francs was awarded as an indemity to the artists for changing the instruments according to this decision.

We suppose this means that the Russian instruments shall all be tuned in accordance with the French Standard or Concert Pitch, as established by the French commission.

New Mexico and Arizona.—Independence, Mo., July 24.—The New Mexican mail of the 9th has arrived, The crops around Santa Fe look finely, owing to the recent copious rains, and promise an abundant harvest. Recent fires in the mountains have done immense damage. Several lives were lost, four bodies having been found.

The mining news from Arizona is not favorable, owing to the scarcity of water. Provisions were scarce and high. Flour was scarce and selling at $14 per pack.

No rain had fallen this side of Fort Union, and consequently the water courses were very low, and the stock suffering.

☞ Danbury, Ct., the great hat-making town, has nearly half a million dollars invested in the hatting business. The sales of hats there made amount to a million and a half of dollars yearly, or about a dollar apiece for all the hats made. Thirteen hundred persons are employed in the work, chiefly men and boys.

☞ By the Canada, news from Europe to July 14.

A dispatch from Cagliari states that the Neapolitan steam corvette Velace had gone over to Garibaldi.

Several steamers have been purchased at Liverpool, and two had sailed.

☞ Perkins H. Dow, a police officer, in attempting to quell an Irish riot at West Lynn, on Sunday evening, was dangerously wounded by a blow on the head with a stone, but is expected to recover. The affair produced considerable excitement in Lynn, and several arrests were made.

☞ Upwards of four hundred United States soldiers left Governor's Island a few days since for New Mexico, and on their arrival at Lafayette, Ind., it was found that forty had deserted.

☞ The discovery of a vein of tin ore in Jackson, N. H., leads the editor of the Bethel Courier, to suspect that large and profitable veins of valuable ore may yet be discovered in the vicinity of Paris, Me.

☞ The young Prince of Wales has been received in grand style by the people of St. John's, Newfoundland, where they keep high holiday, just now.

☞ The Democratic Standard says:—

What are the Democracy contending for in the pending contest? It is not for victory over the Black Republicans. We have but little hope of that in the present circumstances of the party and the country. For what then do we fight? We answer, It is for the organization and the future.

New York, July 24.—A headless body was found in the East River, this morning, which proved to be that of John Coutlas, who was formerly a watchman on the balance dock, and was blown into the water by the explosion of the boiler.

☞ News from California, overland, from San Francisco July 7. The most important item shows that the Vigilance Committee was dissolved five years too soon. It reads thus:

Judge Terry, who killed Senator Broderick, was acquitted yesterday, under circumstances leaving no doubt of collusion of the prosecution and defense. The case went to the jury without a word of testimony, and under the charge of the judge the jury acquitted Terry within an hour of the opening of the Court. Witnesses to establish Terry's guilt were on their way, but did not arrive till two hours after the acquittal.

The Supreme Court has decided that the contract with the State Prison lessee is legal, and the contractor can draw $27,000 from the Treasury, which will more than exhaust the funds of that institution.

Late European Items.—Garibaldi has declined to assist the Neapolitans, unless they gave proofs worthy of his confidence, as the Sicilians had done, by a sustained revolution.

Garibaldi's Ministry had resigned.

It was reported that the Neapolitan government had notified those of England and France of its intention to offer the constitution of 1812 to the Sicilians. France assents but England hesitates.

In the British Parliament, Sir Robert Peel called on the Government not to assent to the annexation of Sicily to Piedmont. Lord John Russell said that the government could not depart from the great principle that the people had the right to choose their own government without interference.

Lord John Russell explained the position of the government with regard to the proposed European conference relative to Savoy, and said that England accepted the proposition. Prussia and Austria hesitate. He had no knowledge of the replies by other governments.

It was stated in Parliament that the British forces in China reached 17,000.

The French Government and Legislature disagreed as to the bill relating to the exportation of rags. The bill was then withdrawn.

New York, July 26.—The Tribune Washington correspondent announces the defalcation of Major Sutherlaad, quartermaster of the marine corps, to the amount of $30,000.

Ex-Deputy U. S. Marshal Rynders, who is under indictment for conniving at the escape of a slaver, was yesterday committed to the Tombs on account of insanity.

Washington, July 24.—Mr. Defrees has commenced a suit against Mr. Ford, Printer for the House, for a share of the profits, as per agreement.

NEW DISCOVERIES OF GOLD.

The papers are full of new gold discoveries. At last accounts, extensive deposites had just been found in New Zealand; and nearer home, in the Rocky Mountains; while at "Pike's Peak," and in some parts of California, they were of daily occurrence. This has set the political economists to speculating upon the possible depreciation in the value of gold. We think, however, that a long time will be required to bring about any appreciable diminution of value; and instead of rushing into "gulches," at the risk of health and even of life, in pursuit of "Placers," we would prefer to remit to Messrs. Wood, Eddy & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware, and St. Louis, Missouri, $2.50, $5, $10 or $20, for a part or whole ticket in one of their legal lotteries, and take the chances for a prize, $70,000 being the "Capital."

"This may certify, that for a number of years I have been afflicted with the Scrofulous Humor, which caused a swelling of my neck and several ulcers, which were very painful, and that by the use of several bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, they have been entirely removed, and the swelling has all gone from my neck, and it is now over two years since the cure."

Betsey Sanborn.

Kensington, Sept. 25, 1855.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Ashuelot, Oct. 8, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, add so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

From a highly respected physician in Maine

South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure where other medicines had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,

☞ We regret to state that the sad accident which occurred from the salute on board the yacht Zinga, at one of our wharves, last week, has terminated fatally; and that Miss Martin died of her terrible wound by the wad, on Tuesday, about midnight. The deepest sympathies of our whole community are excited for the family circle thus suddenly and startlingly broken; and scarcely less commiseration is felt for the gentlemanly proprietors of the yacht, who have unwittingly been the occasion of so much grief for the friends of the young lady, and regrets for themselves. It is but justice to say that the Messrs. Thomas have evinced the most heartfelt sorrow for the calamity, and shown every courtesy, and made every reparation possible under the circumstances, to the young lady and her family.

We have already given a brief statement of the occurrence, but our readers will be interested in other details. The New York gentlemen owning the Zinga have connections in Portsmouth, and are accustomed to spend a few days here each season,—and their visits have been promotive of much pleasure to their friends and our citizens generally. Last year they made a fine display of fireworks on board their craft; and finding a similar exhibition was expected on this occasion, they endeavored to again entertain the crowd. A large number of people gathered, say from 1000 to 1500.—Among other things, a salute was fired, from their cannon on board, said to be a 2-lb. gun. The wad was of waste cotton, and of course was very dense; and altho' the muzzle of the gun was judged to be depressed far below the wharf, yet, being pointed towards the people, the wad struck Miss Martin, broke several steel hoops in her skirt, and one of them cut a fearful gash across the lower portion of her body, allowing the intestines to protrude.

It was some time before the crowd could be kept back, so that she might be taken from the wharf; and the procuring of a carriage to convey her home, at that hour of the evening, was the work of considerable time. Even those near her did not dream that the wounds were severe, and proposed to carry her into the house of friends at hand; but she told them they did "not know how much she was hurt," and requested to be "taken home to die with her mother."

The nature of her wound was such that the motion of the body, from the time of the accident till she arrived home, caused also a cross wound, from the first downwards;—and the physicians, after examination, entertained but little hope of her recovery. She suffered severe pain at times, until Tuesday evening, and died about three days after receiving the injuries. Her end was peace—and calmly and with resignation she bade farewell to the loved ones around, and fearlessly met the king of terrors.

She was a young lady much beloved, with as fair prospects of a long and happy life as any companion she has left behind. Should not her sudden and unexpected summons hence, admonish us all to "be also ready."

☞ It is estimated (or rather guessed) that the population of this State will now reach about 330,000. If this be correct, New Hampshire will barely retain her three representatives in Congress. Thus far the census shows a slow increase of population in all the eastern agricultural districts.

BED-BUG POISON MISTAKEN FOR RUM. Andrew Horton, of Chepachet, had been on a spree for about four weeks, and came home on Thursday night with a new bottle of liquor, which his wife destroyed after he had gone to bed. In the morning, as usual, he was very sick, and called for his rum.—His wife told him she had thrown it out. He did not believe her, and continued to call for it. His daughter, who had got up to go to work in the factory, heard him calling for it, thought a little liquor would stop his sickness, as it usually did, and hearing him begging so hard, she thought she would get him some. She looked in several rooms, and at last, in the closet behind the door, she found a small bottle. She took out the cork, smelt in the bottle, found it contained liquor, poured out about a gill, carried it to her father, and hurried off, as the last bell was ringing, to go to work. It proved, however, to be bed-bug poison—a strong solution of corrosive sublimate—and her father died within three hours.—Boston Courier.

DEATH IN A BARN.—Thomas McGill died suddenly Friday night at a barn on Peck's wharf, Providence. He had long been addicted to intemperate habits, and for several weeks past had eaten but little, or had any regular place to stop. Friday afternoon he complained of being unwell, and an acquaintance gave him some money to procure medicine. When he came back he was observed to stagger, and was assisted into the barn, his friend remarking to him that he had been drinking. He said he had not, and showed the medicine. He died in a few moments after.—Boston Courier.

A SERVANT ON SPIRITUALISM.—It is fortunate that rapping spirits, which seem very tricksy beings, do not seem to be able to move street knockers. Otherwise, we should continually be going to answer a rap at the door, and coming back, saying—"Please 'm only a ghost."—Punch.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The House Printers will not deliver the thirty thousand copies of the Covode Commitee's report, which are printed, until the difficulty with Mr. Pangborn is settled.

Secretaries Cass, Floyd and Thompson, and Attorney-General Black will leave soon for recreation, leaving here only three Cabinet officers.

The President, during the absence of Mr. Cass, will personally attend to State matters pertaining to our foreign relations.

The attendance to-day at the funeral of Mr. Gales was very large. The authorities of the city and district and the members of the Typographical Society were present.—Many places of business were closed, and the bells generally tolled.

ST LOUIS, July 24.—Nearly 50 prisoners attempted to escape from the penitentiary at Jefferson City, yesterday, by bursting open the gate. Deputy Warden Ritchie was slightly injured in the melee.

Three convicts were killed and seven seriously wounded, before the emeute was quelled. All the prisoners were recaptured

NEW JERSEY POLITICS.—Trenton, N. J., July 24.—The Democratic State Convention will meet here to-morrow. It is expected that there will be two tickets.—The Douglas men have secured a separate hall

The Bell and Everett Convention will also be held to-morrow.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The Times Washington correspondent says that private advices from Georgia announce that the terms of union between the supporters of Douglas and those of Bell in that State, have been agreed upon. Each candidate is to have five electors.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockinghamn has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in a scientific yet simple manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the practicability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents issued in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure patents, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, FEBRUARY 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE PRACTICAL HOUSEWIFE.—"Sir," said the husband of a lady, speaking of his wife whose mind was exclusively devoted to domestic affairs—"Sir, she would have made a dumpling of the apple which revealed the law of gravitation to Newton."

WHAT A CHILD THOUGHT OF THE METEOR.—A little girl in Waltham, who saw the meteor on Friday evening, innocently remarked that she "guessed our Heavenly Father thought 'twas Fourth of July."

Talleyrand, the prime minister of Napoleon, was disliked by Mme. de Stael. It so happened that Talleyrand was lame, and Mme. cross-eyed. Meeting one day, Mme. says: "Monsieur, how is that poor leg?" Talleyrand quickly replies, "Crooked, as you see."

A COLORED MAN AT THE SCHOOLS.—The New Haven Courier says that a colored man named Eleazer L. Bassett is to deliver the oration before the alumni of the Normal School, at New Britain, this year.

An elderly Pennsylvania woman, with her daughter, looking at the marble statue of Girard in the college building, the other day, startled the bystanders by exclaiming, "La, Sally, how white he was."

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.
This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.
When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—its very trifling cost—these advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.
A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.
[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]
Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their Box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.
[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]
My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.
[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract society.]
My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.
Baltimore, July 14, 1859.
PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.
PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never compel you to part with it, after they understand its operation. CHARLES W BREWSTER.
"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a household, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON
An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen, recommended by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.
The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:
IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, FIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.
In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated to the apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.
In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for persons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.
It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.
IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.
In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.
In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.
In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicinal iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.
The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative; in the cases peculiarly affecting them.
In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.
In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.
No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.
Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy; and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, I do not hesitate to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very moderate charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jas. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

THE ORIGINAL AND GENUINE
DR. TOWNSEND'S
COMPOUND EXTRACT OF
SARSAPARILLA,
IS THE GREAT RENOVATOR OF THE BLOOD.

the sovereign remedy for Eruptions of the Skin, Ulcerated Sores, and all forms of Cutaneous Diseases.

These complaints can be speedily and effectually cured by the use of this

WORLD RENOWNED SARSAPARILLA!

Thousands have experienced its salutary effects, and tens of thousands have witnessed it, until it has ceased to be a question among the intelligent portion of the community.

When the BLOOD becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from the effects of Spring weather, change of climate, want of exercise, the use of a uniform saline diet, or any other cause; this Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the Stomach, REGULATE THE BOWELS, and impart a one of vigor to the whole body.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The public are hereby notified that the preparation extensively known as DR. S. P. TOWNSENDS COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, is now manufactured under my direction and supervision, from the original recipe obtained from S. P. Townsend; and I certify that it is composed of ingredients PURELY VEGETABLE, and WITHOUT MERCURY; and also that the ingredients are judiciously compounded, so as to obtain from them their greatest medicinal effect.
JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D.,
CHEMIST.

Dr. S. P. Townsend's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, has a reputation among all civilized nations as the best preparation for which science has ever offered to man. In this resides its peculiar excellence, and to this is due its world-wide renown.

It contains all the vegetable principles which experience has proved useful in clearing the system from disease, extracted and combined with the highest skill which the refinements of modern chemistry enable us to employ.

Whatever may be said by mortified competitors or spleenetic physicians, the fact that this medicine is EVERYWHERE USED, and that its use creates an increased demand, shows conclusively that it possesses medicinal merits of the first order.

CAUTION!!

To avoid imposition it will be necessary to see that DR. JAMES R. CHILTON'S CERTIFICATE, as well as the SIGNATURE OF DR. S. P. Townsend, is on the outside wrapper of each bottle.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every endeavor.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincerest thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is say, is not little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillips, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman, (a friend of mine, a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1860.

CURIOUS INFORMATION.—A writer from Franklin, N.H., to the Boston Courier, says:

The Bell and Everett ticket is not without friends in this State, and all that is wanting to give it a respectable vote next November is an organization.

Lincoln stock is below par. If the Republican party were not considerably in the ascendant in this State, even his friends could not entertain a hope that he would receive the electoral vote of New Hampshire.

The last item amounts to this:—IF the Republican party were not a majority here, they could not choose their electors. A most important if, indeed. But it is well known they have a majority, and gave Gov. Goodwin 4500 maj. last spring. In 1856, they gave Fremont 5500 over Buchanan, and 5000 over all. They will probably give Lincoln as many, perhaps more, in November. In 1856 Mr. Fillmore had 422 votes. If a Bell and Everett organization were in existence here, it might get as many; but it is rather doubtful.

There seems to be no doubt now that there are to be two Democratic tickets here—one for Douglas and one for Breckinridge.

Mr. Buchanan had just about the same number of votes here in 1856, as Mr. Cate did for Governor last spring. It is rather difficult to see where any more voters are to come from—or how the state of parties here is likely to be greatly changed in the three months from this to November.

EPPING—A writer who professes to be a Republican, writes us from Epping, that the Democrats have now three Douglas and Johnson flags waving in different parts of that town, and on Wednesday evening held the most exciting meeting since our annual election.

"Politics run high; the Douglasites talk bravely, and freely offer considerable bets, not only on this State, but on Maine, and the general result.

G. W. Stevens, of Dover, delegate from New Hampshire to Charleston and Baltimore, was in Epping Wednesday, making, it is presumed, extensive preparations for the Douglas rally at Concord, on Thursday next, after which he is to assist in stumping Maine.

As yet, no Lincoln and Hamlin flag has been raised in Epping, and owing to causes which we fear may not be prevented, none will be raised, as our working politicians have recently received a "cold shoulder." The Democrats are in high glee, and crow lustily over Epping—I fear truly, and that other towns near us are also infected." c.

☞ In Massachusetts, the Democratic State Central Committee held a meeting at the Bay State House, Worcester, to fix upon a day for the State Convention. Thirty-four of the Committee were present.

It was voted to hold a convention at Springfield, Sept. 6th, to nominate State officers, two electors at large, and also one elector from each Congressional district, unless the convention should decide to leave that matter to the several districts.

On all other motions they were equally divided—and as the account reads in the Boston Herald, the prospect of union is not very flattering. It says:

A resolution endorsing Breckinridge and Lane was rejected by a vote of 17 to 17.

Although the two wings of the party were equally represented, the action of the Committee is regarded as a Douglas triumph.

TRENTON, N. J., July 26.—Both Democratic Conventions are in session here.—Gov. Foot presides over the Douglas Convention — at which all the counties are represented. The speeches at the preliminary meeting in the morning were strongly opposed to a fusion with the Breckinridge section of the party.

The Convention called by the Democratic State Central Committee met at the State House. All the counties represented.

The Douglas Convention subsequently reassembled and nominated a full list of District Electors. An address will also be issued to the people of the State.

The Bell and Everett party also held a Convention here to-day. All the districts were represented. A committee was appointed to report resolutions, and recommend action as to the propriety of nominating an electoral ticket.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.—The case of Dr. Thomas Bassett, of Kingston, vs. the Salisbury Manufacturing Co., which was on trial last week, at Exeter, continued until Saturday. The submission of testimony was concluded on Thursday; the case was argued Friday, by Christie for defendants, and French for plaintiff; Judge Doe delivered an able charge to the jury on Saturday morning; the jury retired at a quarter past eight o'clock, and about eleven returned a verdict for the defendants.

In the Farmer Will case, a continuance was ordered to the next term of the Court, to be holden in this city in October next.

The Great Eastern lies at the foot of Hammond street, calmly ensconced in mud. —N. Y. paper.

☞ In the Concord Police Court, as we learn from the Independent Democrat, Michael Labey, arraigned for keeping liquor for sale, waived an examination, and recognized with sureties in $200, for his appearance at the S. J. Court.

Patrick Bresnehan was examined on a complaint for keeping intoxicating liquors for sale, and was bound over; also Patrick Hackett, for the same offence.

Edwin N. Fogg and Wm. W. Dow, arraigned upon separate complaints for keeping intoxicating liquor for sale, pleaded nolo contendere, and under the new statute each was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 for the use of the county, and costs.

They promptly performed their respective sentences, and were discharged from arrest. City Marshal for State.

These are the first cases under the law as amended.

A FATAL MISTAKE.—On the night of the 12th inst., at the residence of Colonel John Pope, near Memphis, a melancholy accident occurred, which resulted in the death of one of his sons, Leroy, aged seventeen years. Apprehending a visit from negro burglars, Leroy and his elder brother, Andrew, repaired, late at night, to the garden with guns. They separated afterward, Leroy going towards his room. The dogs in a few moments commenced making a noise, and supposing they were pursuing a burglar, Andrew fired in the direction of the noise. Leroy, it seems, had at that instant stepped out of his room, and being in range of the gun, received its contents, from the effects of which he expired some time afterward.

☞ The cases of the leading Postmasters of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, who adhere to Douglas, are still under consideration at the Post Office Department. Their fate will depend upon the determination of the question of co-operation of both wings of the party in the Presidential election. If the Douglas men continue to decline all propositions to co-operate, they will be decapitated.

☞ At the Worcester City Regatta, on Wednesday, Gersh Banker, a New York boat, took the principal prize, on the three-mile race. The following is the time made: Gersh Banker, 18 min. 27 sec.; Yale, 19:10; Union, 19:41; Quickstep, 21:27.—The Union broke an oar coming in. When rounding the upper stake, she was only 12 seconds behind the Yale, and it is thought would have won but for the accident.

A QUIET HIT AT THE GUARDIANS OF THE NIGHT.—The Philadelphia Press, in giving an account of the blowing open of Alexander Kerr's safe, closed by saying—"The noise made by the discharge must have been very great, but it was not sufficiently loud to be heard by the private watchmen, who were supposed to be on duty on the neighboring wharves."

A REAL RAIL WANTED IN CALIFORNIA.—So anxious are the Republicans of California to possess a rail of the Abe Lincoln stamp, that at a late enthusiastic meeting of the party, it was voted to send to Illinois to obtain one; and in case the supply of the original article is exhausted, it was suggested that Mr. Lincoln be requested to split just one more for their especial benefit.

☞ The General Association of Congregational and Presbyterian Ministers of New Hampshire will hold their next meeting at Claremont, (church of Rev. R. F. Lawrence,) on the fourth Tuesday, 28th of August, at 10 o'clock A. M. The meetings continue three days, including the N. H. Missionary and Bible Societies.

☞ Strawberries are all gone, at Diman's, to be sure; but delicious raspberries are served up there yet, with cake and other accompaniments from the vine, for those who like, and don't wish a "regular" meal. The beautiful grounds are as attractive as ever.

☞ Reader, should you think it—that the daily Chronicle has been published eight years? Well, such is the fact; and now is a good time for those who profess to wish well to our enterprise of establishing a daily paper in this city, to prove their sincerity and give tangible form to their good wishes, by subscribing to the new volume, which commences August 1st.

☞ Prof. Felton, the new President of Harvard College, and Dr. Leonard Woods, the President of Bowdoin College, were both born in Newbury, Mass., in the same month of the same year; the former was born Nov. 6, 1807; the latter Nov. 24, 1807. In 1819 the town was divided, and the birth-place of the two Presidents has since been known as "West" Newbury.

SMART OLD MEN.—Stephen Crandall, of Tiverton, R. I., 93 years of age, mowed on Friday last from early morning till 11 o'clock, after which he spread the swaths with all the activity of a younger man. Mr. William Francis, of Fall River, R. I., 84 years of age, last week led the field of mowers with the alacrity of a young man in his prime.

☞ A German named Johannes Rand made complaint against Theodore Lynn, for placing him in irons with intent to kidnap him and send him to sea. He stated that Lynn, who keeps a sailors' boarding house, at which Rand was stopping, seized him, and putting on him a pair of handcuffs, threatened to shoot him if he would not submit. The sight of a revolver intimidated him, and he suffered Lynn to place him on a bed and tie his arms to a ring in the wall. An officer heard of the occurrence, and going to the house, forced his way in, found Rand, cut the rope and set him free. Lynn, it is supposed, was arranging to play upon Rand what is denominated the "Shanghae Game"—to keep him close, drug him and ship him as a sailor, taking a premium from the captain of the vessel for furnishing him a seaman. He was arrested in Brooklyn in the course of the afternoon.

EXCESS OF COTTON AT LIVERPOOL.—Statements are made to the effect that there are now 1,300,000 bales of cotton stored in and about Liverpool, and in order to watch the warehouses efficiently, and prevent any fires which might break out gaining head, twenty additional police officers had been added to the fire brigade, and 1200 yards of spare hose had been placed in stock at the various stations. To show how necessary it is that every precaution should be taken, it is stated that bales of cotton frequently arrive in Liverpool with matches and other combustible articles in the centre, which could only have been inserted before shipment.

DEATH OF A MISER.—Gershom Twichell, the last member of a singular family, died at Milford, Mass., on the 29th ult., possessed of much wealth, but living a life of deprivation and abject poverty. After his death stores of silver and gold were found secreted, nicely adjusted in layers of dollars, halves and quarters, and small coin. His farm, one of the most beautiful in Milford, suffered from neglect, and his wife was compelled to leave him many years ago, and recently, for a stipulated sum, gave bonds that she would make no claim upon his property. The Overseers of the Poor took charge of the specie and deposited it in a bank for safe keeping.

☞ Two handsome schooners have been recently built in Cleveland, for parties in Boston. The Plaindealer says vessels can be built cheaper there, the work is as good as can be done anywhere, and then they can make $500 or $1000 by freights to Boston.

☞ We omitted to state, in our item concerning Stephen Rowell's stabbing Mr. Card at New Castle, that Rowell was examined before William H. Hackett, Esq., and committed to jail in this city, to await the October term of Court.

PROLIFIC YIELD.—The Ballot has a bunch of rye stalks, 67 in number, all having good heads, some of them six inches in length and all well filled, growing from a single seed on the farm of L. B. Smith in Exeter. Some of the stalks are six feet in length.

☞ The Breckinridge and Lane men of Vermont have called a convention to be held at White River Junction on the 7th of August. The call for the convention is signed by 592 Democratic voters.

CALIFORNIA CROPS.—The wheat and barley crops, which yielded immensely, have been harvested. The ship Carrier Dove had cleared for Valparaiso with a cargo of California products, valued at $60,000.—The ship Hebe takes out to Australia 15,000 sacks of wheat valued at $28,000.

☞ On Tuesday of last week Mr. Bosworth Chaffee of Seekonk scratched his arm against the wall in his cellar, the injury at the time being considered too trivial for notice; but the arm continued to grow worse until Monday, when he died. The entire arm was in a state of mortification.

☞ Wesley Hare, the fat man of German Valley, Morris County, N. J., was buried on the 27th ult. He was a middle-aged man, and weighed about 600 pounds. It took 210 feet of lumber to make his coffin. He leaves a wife weighing about five hundred pounds.

☞ A druggist in Danbury, Ct., named Harvey, put arsenic or corrosive sublimate instead of sugar into some brandy for a Mr. Bailey, and both of them drank of it. They were seized with violent vomiting, and it is not expected they will live.

☞ The Rev. Dr. J. P. Thompson, of New York, contributes a paper on "The Congregational Polity and a Biblical Theology" to the New Englander, which will attract much attention.

☞ T. O. Cram, of Marietta, Ohio, has had his flour mills burned twice within a year or two, and now the incendiary has been arrested, who confesses to having been hired for the work by an inveterate enemy of the proprietor.

ORDINATION.—Ordained at Lawrence, McHenry Co., Ill., Isaac F. Holton, late Professor in Middlebury College, by the N. S. Presbytery of Belvedere. Sermon by Prof. Blaisdell, of Beloit.

WHEAT AND CORN.—The wheat harvest is now nearly completed through most of the large producing States at the Northwest, and the results are generally as flattering as could be desired.

In Western New York all reports concur in saying that the yield of wheat will be handsome, varying from twenty-five to thirty bushels to the acre. The prospects for fruit in the same section are excellent. Apples promise a good crop. Peaches will be plenty. Pears are doing well, and will afford a good crop. Plums will be more abundant than for many years.

The corn crop in the Northwestern States is also very promising, and so far advanced that it is not liable to serious injury.

At the South, as has been heretofore stated, there has been a partial failure of the crops, owing to the long continued dry, hot weather.

☞ The Countess de Marigney, sister of the illustrious Chateaubriand, entered upon the 100th year of her age on the 4th of July. It is said that her firm step, and noble, vivacious, and handsome physiognomy would easily enable her to conceal her real age.

☞ Lieut. George H. Derby ("John Phenix") nas been promoted to the rank of captain, having served "fourteen years' continuous service as lieutenant."

☞ The New York Evangelist says that Rev. Louis Gano has been deposed from the ministry by the Presbytery of Troy, N. Y., for falsehood and dishonesty. They suppose him partially insane, or sadly wanting in moral integrity.

☞ The Congregational church and society at Dartmouth College, have invited Rev. J. C. Bodwell, of Framingham, Mass., to become their pastor.

☞ Mrs. Susan Decatur, the venerable relict of the late Commodore Stephen Decatur, died in Washington on the 21st inst., in the eighty-fourth year of her age.

☞ In a case of poisoning by strychnine, in Hartford, Conn., recently, the doctor administered lobelia as a remedy. It produced the desired effect, and relieved the patient.

☞ Gerritt Smith has written a letter, on the Presidential question, to Frederick Douglas, repudiating all the candidates, and announcing temperance, freedom and the "irrepressible conflict" as his platform.

☞ The reason why neither Douglas nor Breckinridge are willing to allow their friends to form coalitions is, that this struggle is not so much for the Presidency of 1860, as for the future control of the party.

☞ The most successful day in the history of the Great Eastern was Tuesday. Not less than 16,500 persons went on board.

TROUBLES IN TEXAS.—St. Louis, July 25.—An extra from the Bonham (Texas) Era of the 17th, contains a letter from the editor of the Dallas Herald, stating that a fire in that place on the 8th led to the discovery of a plan to devastate the whole Northern section of Texas. Two preachers named Blunt and McKinney, who were expelled last year, are said to be the instigators of the plot. The plan was to lay the whole country waste by fire, destroying all the arms, ammunition, etc., in order to get the community in a state of helplessness, and then on election day in August, to raise a general insurrection, aided by emissaries from the North and parties friendly in Texas.

The operations were to be districted and subdistricted, each division being under a white man, who was to control the negroes. Several white men and negroes have been arrested. The same day that the fire in Dallas occurred, the mercantile house in Black Jack Grove was destroyed, loss $3000; also business houses have been burned in Denton, loss $100,000; a large house at Pilot Point, loss $10,000; store house at Ladonia, loss $25,000; eight stores at Belknap, loss not given.

The town of Milford was totally destroyed, and there were several other small fires. Great excitement existed throughout the country, and prompt and effective measures were being taken for the preservation of life and property.

Three abolitionists were caught in Washington county, Texas, recently, and ordered to leave the State.

The loss by fires in the Northeastern counties of Texas exceeds $700,000.

COMMENCEMENT.—Hanover, N. H., July 25.—The exercises commenced yesterday with the class day. An oration and poem were delivered before the graduating class; the usual chronicles were read, which gave universal satisfaction and afforded great merriment; in the evening an eloquent and spirited address was delivered before the Theological Society, by Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler of New York city.

Judge Perley of Concord delivered an eulogy on Rufus Choate. It was a fine production, but delivered in such a low tone that it was heard with difficulty in the back part of the house.

E. G. Parker of Boston, delivered an oration before the Psi Upsilon fraternity this afternoon. The countenances of some noted politicians on the stage were very expressive during some of his pointed remarks. But Mr. Parker's brilliancy won the sympathies of the audience, and the oration was considered a complete success. Mortimer Thompson, alias Doesticks, of New York, followed with a Poem, entitled "Pluck."

☞ Rev. Alvan Tobey, of Durham, will preach at Kittery Point next Sunday.

☞ Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Nottingham, N. H., Sunday, Aug. 5.

PASSING AWAY.

"It is written on the rose,
In its glory's full array—
Read what those buds disclose:
'Passing away.'

It is written on the skies
Of the soft blue summer day;
It is traced in sunset's dyes—
'Passing away.'"

In the fall of 1853 I received an invitation to join three young friends in a social game of whist. Our party, two ladies and two gentlemen, met at the appointed hour, and the evening was passed in a pleasant manner. We were all young, and full of life and gaiety; the rose and the lily bloomed on the cheeks of those fair faces, and the air rang with their merry laugh and brilliant repartee.

Little did we think that in six years from that time but one of that happy party would be living.—But such is the case. One year passed away, and two of the four were called to pass over the dark river of Lethe; and within a month a third has passed on to the spirit world. Such is life.

"They grew in beauty, side by side,
They fill'd each home with glee;—
Their graves are sever'd, far and wide,
By mount, and stream, and sea."

NEW DISCOVERIES OF GOLD.

The papers are full of new gold discoveries. At last accounts, extensive deposites had just been found in New Zealand; and nearer home, in the Rocky Mountains; while at "Pike's Peak," and in some parts of California, they were of daily occurrence. This has set the political economists to speculating upon the possible depreciation in the value of gold. We think, however, that a long time will be required to bring about any appreciable diminution of value, and instead of rushing into "gulches," at the risk of health and even of life, in pursuit of "Placers," we would prefer to remit to Messrs. Wood, Eddy & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware, and St. Louis, Missouri, $2.50, $5, $10 or $20, for a part or whole ticket in one of their legal lotteries, and take the chances for a prize, $70,000 being the "Capital."

"This may certify, that for a number of years I have been afflicted with the Scrofulous Humor, which caused a swelling of my neck, and several ulcers, which were very painful, and that by the use of several bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, they have been entirely removed, and the swelling has all gone from my neck, and it is now over two years since the cure."

BETSEY SANBORN.

Kensington, Sept. 25, 1855.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, and so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

From a highly respected physician in Maine

South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure where other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,

WM. A. RUST, M. D.

CONVERSATION.—Common conversation is the best mirror to a man's heart and head; and he that can be deceived by a person with whom he has been intimate, discovers a want of discernment that, were it possible, would excuse the imposition.

WEALTH.—Gross and vulgar minds will always pay a higher respect to wealth than to talent; for wealth, though it be a far less efficient source of power than talent, happens to be far more intelligible.

While at Eastport, on Thursday last, we saw the brig Frolic, which was in the engagement with the Wasp, about forty-eight years ago. The Frolic is now about fifty-two years old, is owned in the Province of New Brunswick, we belive, and has undergone considerable change in exterior arrangements since her fight with the Wasp. —Bangor Union.

Of course those who assert the doctrine of total depravity, must find some part of the person too vile to think of; and will be shocked to hear another express unqualified admiration for the human body and human soul.

CAMPAIGN MOTTO.—"Slavery nominally exists, and must always exist, in the Territories until they come to form their own State Governments." Lane, Seceders' Candidate for Vice President. See Washington Constitution, Oct. 8, 1858.

The son of Charles McCauley, of Danbury, while bathing on the 12th inst., attempted to head off a cow in the road, when she struck him in the abdomen with her horns, making a frightful wound, from which the main intestine protruded eighteen inches. He was attended by a surgeon, the intestine replaced, the wound sewed up and he is in a fair way of recovery.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and objections admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County, furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to
WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators
It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.
This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.
The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of Ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.
All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.
MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.
Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS
Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been
THOROUGHLY TESTED
by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them
The Best in the Market!
These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easier by a team, than a smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.
We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Farmers, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."
Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES we are charged for common plows, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

FOR SALE.—The Bath Times has this item:—

Rare Chance.—The editor of a flourishing Daily and Weekly paper, with an increasing circulation, in one of the pleasantest cities of New England, proposing to leave the locality, will sell his interest in the papers at a good bargain if applied to before the 1st of September. To a man of small cash capital, fitted to edit the paper acceptably, and to defend heartily sound democratic principles, a better opportunity seldom offers. For particulars address, confidentially, the editor of the Bath Times.

Among the objections urged against Gen. Lane, the Secession candidate for Vice President, by the citizens of Dubuque, Iowa, are the following:

First—He spells God with a little g.
Second—He spells barracks, bar-rax.
Third—He spells dirt with two t's.
Fourth—When in Mexico, he dated a letter "Very Croose."
Fifth and last—He can't keep a hotel.

The wife of Mr. C. Briston, residing on Halleman's farm, opposite this city, died on Monday. This lady was probably the largest woman in the United States. Her weight may be guessed, when we state that she measured seven feet six inches around the waist! For the last two or three years, she has been unable to move, from excessive obesity, and yet enjoyed more than ordinary health.—Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Diarrhœa.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable Pain and Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the countenance.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from valley cows on the island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freedom from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can entitle. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A fine Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the greatest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Congress street, and see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claim of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but one of which patents have been granted, and that now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure, during the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

WORLD RENOWNED SARSAPARILLA!
Thousands have experienced its salutary effects, and tens of thousands have witnessed it, until it has ceased to be a question among the intelligent portion of the community.
When the BLOOD becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from the effects of Spring weather, change of climate, want of exercise, the use of a mineral poison, or any other cause; this Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the Stomach, REGULATE THE BOWELS, and impart a one of vigor to the whole body.
TO THE PUBLIC.

It contains all the vegetable principles which experience has proved useful in clearing the system from disease, extracted and combined with the highest skill which the refinements of modern chemistry enable us to employ.
Whatever may be said by mortified competitors or spleenetic physicians, the fact that this medicine is EVERYWHERE USED, and that its use creates an increased demand, shows conclusively that it possesses medicinal merits of the first order.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From that time I first discovered a gradual improvement, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result two months after the first application. I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Knowing this clear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say is not little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. TRALLINGO.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $8 a bottle.

SHOEING HORSES. — The Manchester Mirror is publishing a valuable series of letters from farriers, as to their observation and experience in horse-shoeing. One writer goes on to tell us how over-reaching horses can be made to travel clear by shoeing. He says:

This is not so well understood by blacksmiths, generally, as interfering. Long shoes should be used in order to remedy this; the forward feet should be pared low at the heels, and the toe left, to cause the feet to rise at the heel and give the hind feet a chance to shoot under as the others rise. The hind shoes should be set on as usual, but should be made with a heavy toe, and turned so as to give the forward one a chance to get out of the way.

To this the New England Farmer replies as follows—and the utter and entire disagreement between the two, is not more marked than on almost all other matters on which men form opinions, draw inferences, deduce arguments, or found theories. To our apprehension, the Farmer has the right of it, when it says:

As we understand this matter, the exact reverse of this teaching is the philosophical view of it. For instance: a horse strikes his hind foot against the forward one, because the forward one is not taken away quick enough. What is the remedy? Certainly not to have the forward one "low at the heels," for that would keep the foot down longer and make the interference worse.—Nor is it desirable that the hind foot should pass under the forward one.

To prevent over-reaching, then, try this plan, which can be done without paring the hoof at all. Make the heel calks on the forward shoes a little longer than usual, so that the foot being raised a little behind, the horse will take it up quicker than he has been accustomed to. Now make the heel-calks of the hind shoes a little lower, and what is gained by accelerating the forward foot and keeping back the hind one, will give time to get the fore foot out of the way, and there is no more over-reaching.

☞ The City Council of Savannah, Ga., having undertaken to fix the rates at which bread should be sold, the kneaders of dough properly refused to submit, trusting that the need of bread for the populace would compel the Council to rescind the enactment. The Council would not yield, and the bakers would not bake. The editorials and communications of the Savannah papers, which are nearly all opposed to the bakers, are somewhat amusing, to say the least.—One hungry man grown savage, sends the following

Toast—To the blessed memory of the beloved King Pharaoh, who not only imprisoned his Chief Baker, but hanged the rascal besides.

EPPING POLITICS.—Dear Chronicle:—Your correspondent "C." perhaps feels a little nervous in regard to political matters in Epping. By almost superhuman exertions the working Republicans, aided by their "allies," elected last spring a young, sterling Republican representative; and if the Republican party adhere to the vital principle of rotation in office, and make their appointments free from Democratic influences, Epping and all other towns, even if "infected," will "back them up;" while a different policy will ruin any party.

Possibly the Democrats are crowing a leetle before daybreak Should wise counsels prevail among the appointing powers, the Republicans of Epping and their "allies" will lay their opponents next March on the outside of a "rail fence." And, vice versa, a course that would disgust our "allies," would result in a sad "splitting of rails." As to a "Lincoln and Hamlin flag," wait a while.

W. R. Bunker yesterday threw to the breeze his sign of "Pawtuckaway House," where the "weary will find rest and comfort." L.

Epping, July 26.

☞ The meeting called at Huntington Hall, Lowell, on Thursday evening, to ratify the nomination of Breckinridge & Lane, after much confusion and noise, changed by a majority into a Douglas meeting.

Gen. Butler and Peter Haggerty, after attempts to clear their characters, abandoned the field, leaving the Douglas men in possession.

Resolutions were passed in favor of Douglas and Johnson, ratifying their nomination; and the meeting adjourned.

☞ A negro slave in Smith county, Va., was recently killed while attempting to stop a train of cars on the Virginia and Tennessee road. Some ties had been placed across the road about ten miles above the town, and the negro having discovered them, procured a fire brand, it being very dark, to give the alarm. He took his stand upon the track, and as the train approached waved the brand as a signal; the engineer saw the light, but could not reverse the engine in time to prevent the train from running over the negro, who was killed.

WHO AND WHAT NEXT?

From the N. Y. Sat. Press.

We are on the eve of a Presidential election. In other words, the two great parties are on the eve of another fight, to determine which shall have the privilege of plundering the country for the next four years. One of the parties calls itself Democratic, and the other calls itself Republican. There is no Republicanism nor Democracy about either of them, but that doesn't matter. A mask, now-a-days, is as good as a face. Better. The people rather be deceived than not.

A real Republican or Democrat (not much of a thing at best,) would be driven from the political arena as summarily as a real Christian would be driven from the Church. The day for real things has not yet arrived. Men prefer shams. The last President that we had who was good for anything, was Andrew Jackson, and he was a tyrant. The best tyrant out. Just such a tyrant out out. Just such a tyrant as we need now. The Whigs said he was more despotic than any sovereign in Europe. And so he was; or Asia either. And the people liked him for it; if he had been a Whig instead of a man the Whigs would have liked him for it. But he had too much sense to be a Whig, or for that matter, a Democrat either. He was above all things, a soldier. And when you find a Democratic soldier, you will find a white blackbird.

The soldier, like the sailor, knows that Democracy is a humbug. In truth we all know it. A truly Democratic government would be a hell upon earth. "But," asks some thick-head, "haven't the majority a right to govern?" What a question! Of course they haven't. Try the majority-system, Messrs. Thick-head, in your families, in your counting-houses, in your factories, on your ships, on your railroads, in your armies, in your navies, or anywhere under heaven where it is vital that the thing to be done should be done well, or, in fact, be done at all.

Let your raving democratic or republican editor try the majority-principle in his printing-office. Would to heaven he would; for there would straight be an end of all such printing-offices, and the world would once more draw a long breath. Let your raving democratic President try the principle in his official home, and see how long the Whited Sepulchre would stand.

The divine right of the Church to rule, and the divine right of the King to rule, were long ago repudiated; the next thing to repudiate is the divine right of the Majority to rule,—which is the greatest monstrosity of the three, as some day or other (sooner, perhaps, than any of us dream of) the people will find out. The principal divine right of the majority is not to rule, but to be ruled.

"But what," ask the Thickheads again, "would you substitute for this divine right of the majority to rule? Simply this: the divine right of God to rule. How? Thro' the man to whom is imparted the most wisdom. He alone can rule. Call him king, emperor, prince, autocrat, president, governor, or what not—he is the only man you can trust.

In all the other emergencies of life you do put your trust in the wisest man; whereas in government you put your faith, as a rule, in the foolishest man,—such an one, for instance, as Franklin Pierce, or James Buchanan, neither of whom is fit to govern a hen-roost. If by chance you get a decent man at your head—a Washington, an Adams, a Jefferson, a Jackson,—he soon shows you how he despises the popular will by substituting for it an iron will of his own.

But it is only by chance that, under your chaotic majority rule, such a man turns up; and the best the nation can hope for is some wily petifogger, who has a flash name, talks big words about popular rights, and cares about as much for the rabble who vote for him as for so many Hottentots.

A FINE PIECE OF SILVER, weighing over three pounds, the property of J. A. Richardson, Esq., formerly of Newburyport, now a resident of Tennessee, which is the product of thirty pounds of ore taken from the La Yguana silver mines of New Leon, Mexico, has been shown to the editor of the Herald. It was smelted by Mr. Richardson himself, who is one of the proprietors of the mine, which is reported to be rich and inexhaustible. It is one of the old mines that were worked by the Spaniards, two centuries ago, and in Yankee hands is expected to be very profitable.

☞ Great exertions are being made to render "The Ninth Exhibition of American Manufactures and the Mechanic Arts," under the direction of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, at Faneuil and Quincy Halls, Boston, from Sept. 12 to the 29th, the most complete ever held. Among other interesting features, a beautifully illustrated Catalogue and Journal of the wonders displayed, is to be published and for sale at the Halls on the opening day.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN MEDFORD.—David Turner, a teamster, belonging in Medford, was returning home with his team from Cambridge, Thursday, where he had been to carry a load, when, it is supposed, he fell asleep upon his seat. As the team approached the West Medford station, the horses became frightened at the cars and ran against a stone, throwing him out, and both wheels passed over his body, killing him instantly. The deceased leaves a wife and six children.

☞ Rev. J. W. Hanson, late editor of the Gospel Banner, Augusta, Me., has been sued for a libel by Dr. Dudley, of Massachusetts. The alleged libellous article was published in the Banner just before Mr. Hanson's editorial connection with it ceased. Damages laid at $5000, and property attached on the writ.

ADVERTISING AGENTS. — Among the multitude of worthless, inefficient and irresponsible "agents" for the press, in all the large cities—it is pleasant to refer to the model house of S. M. Pettengill & Co., which has branches in Boston and New York; and to which, together with the also excellent agency of S. R. Niles in Boston, this paper is more indebted than to any other equal number of patrons, for its attaining to a permanent and reliable establishment.

We observe in the Troy, N. Y. Times, a long and interesting notice of the agency of S. M. Pettengill & Co., from which we copy a few paragraphs. To give an idea of the amount of their business, we will state that we were told that their mail in New York amounts to about 800 newspapers per day, from all parts of the country. And yet everything is so systematically arranged, that any particular paper can be selected almost in a moment; and on our simply stating what paper we represented, Mr. Pettengill instantly called our name from memory, as he extended his cordial hand—though he had never seen us before, and only knew us through correspondence as publisher of the Chronicle.

The Troy Times says:

It has been through the efforts of S. M. Pettengill & Co. that the value of advertising has been made known unto thousands of people who are now the best patrons of the press in every part of the Union. Thro' the activity and energy of this firm, and its well-chosen agents, numberless traders, who were making a bare living in obscurity, have been brought into the life and light of profit and plenty, and fame, and are now sending their millions of dollars' worth of goods to every quarter of the globe. And even the newspaper press has been altered by Pettengill & Co.'s far-reaching industry. Thro' the wonderful net-work of business they have instituted—or, we may say, through their new institution—they have caused an era in publishing that was never before paralleled, and can never be surpassed.

The Ledger, that household world, was advertised all over the country by Pettengill & Co. Look at the result. That paper—through advertising alone—has now a circulation of nearly half a million weekly, and its profits are almost illimitable. We could mention dozens of mercantile concerns that were benefitted in the same way, and in the same comparative ratio.

Should anybody wish to see the perfect order, the great extent, and the vast importance of S. M. Pettengill & Co.'s lucrative, honest and able newspaper advertising agency, they have but to drop in at No. 119 Nassau Street, New York, or No. 10 State street, Boston, and be convined that modern progress is connected wholly and solely with the press, and has been urged to racing speed by the aforesaid Pettengill & Co. "May their shadows never grow less."

Fortune lies in the grasp of this immense and universally-honored advertising agency—fortune that those who are not dull of apprehension, or slow to perceive the value of ingenuity and goaheadativeness combined, will most surely avail themselves of.

☞ The N. Y. Journal of Commerce, that uses no gammon, but talks directly to the point in politics as in business affairs, in urging a union for electors in New York, says that Lincoln will be chosen unless New York can be taken from him; and it seems to have little hopes of that. The Newburyport Herald adds: "In our opinion this is conceding the whole, for we have not one doubt that Lincoln will carry New York by a large majority.

DECAY OF SLAVERY IN WESTERN VIRGINIA.—The returns of the census of Wood county, Va., show a heavy falling off in the slave population; and we now have the census of Cabell county, which shows only 216 slaves and ten free negroes, against 389 slaves and 8 free negroes in 1850.

☞ R. H. Tucker, Esq., sold out the Napoleon (Ark.) Planter, several days ago, to Mr. William Higgins; and the latter gentleman had scarcely written his salutatory, when he was taken ill and died suddenly. His salutatory and obituary appeared in the same paper.

☞ The commissioners sent out by Ohio to examine the cattle disease in Massachusetts, report that the disease, although contagious, is easily managed, and that it is not likely ever to obtain a serious hold upon the herds of the Western States.

☞ Martin K. Bridges of Deerfield, Mass., and six of his associates in a tin-pan serenade to a newly married couple, have had to pay fines and costs of Court, amounting to $37.95. The Justice held that the serenades were a breach of the peace.

☞ Z. S. Wallingford, Esq., has been appointed Agent of the Cocheco Manufacturing Company. Mr. Wallingford has been in the employ of the Company many years.

☞ Hon. Alvah Smith, of Lempster, was scurely scalded on his arms, face and neck, 17th iust, by the explosion of a safety-valve in a steam boiler. He was so badly scalded that the entire skin came off.

☞ John Hickman of Pennsylvania, who has been claimed for Douglas, now comes out, in a speech at Philadelphia, decidedly against Douglas, and in favor of Lincoln, as President.

BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The Shoe and Leather Reporter of this week says:

The demand for Ladies, women's and misses' goods in Lynn, Marblehead, Haverhill and other places has been good, and rates have been firm.

On Friday last, several of the largest buyers visited Haverhill, and purchased in one day, in the aggregate, $100,000 worth of goods. The stocks in these towns are small but unusually well selected. There are not a great many workmen to be obtained, as many of our foul weather shoemakers have now turned their attention to other pursuits; but there are sufficient.—The times are favorable to the manufacturers if they only keep their stocks of goods within proper limits.

NEW YORK, July 26.—In the Supreme Court this morning, notice of an application for an injunction upon the Mayor and Comptroller was served by Levi S. Chatfield, to restrain them from paying any bills for the Japanese reception, alleging that he believed that the committee sold tickets to the ball and pocketed the proceeds, and also that he believed that the Messrs. Leland agreed to pay certain members of the Council 33 per cent. of their bill.

Two men and a woman beat Louis Jardin last night, breaking his skull and inflicting fatal injuries. They have all been arrested.

The Zouaves arrived this morning and went to West Point with Company B, of the Seventh Regiment. They leave here tomorrow for Philadelphia.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—Thirty buildings used for houses of ill-fame, dance houses, groggeries, &c., in this city, were riddled by a mob last night. Everything inside of them was burnt or thrown into the street.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—The Mexican Consul has received a letter from Vera Cruz stating that the Knights of the Golden Circle had proffered assistance to the Constitutionalists, but Juarez declinned receiving it.

☞ Three students were arrested in Worcester for rowdy conduct, very much of which has been witnessed in that city within seventy hours.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical aid once was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of disease, that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, add so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

WATER! WATER!—Everybody is gasping for more water, and denouncing the Portsmouth Aqueduct Company for not furnishing a better supply in the city. Within a few years, the general flow, all over town, has been much weakened; and in many places which formerly afforded a good supply, none has been available for a long time past.

Of course people do not submit to this sort of deprivation, no matter if it were absolutely unavoidable, without much complaint; and really the evil has come to be too grievous to be borne. The deficiency is generally attributed to the large consumption at the depots, the factory, and especially at the breweries; and it is said, we know not with how much accuracy, that there is plenty of water at the Fountain Head, but the small wooden pipes will not bring it down fast enough. If this is the case, with the stock of the Aqueduct Company at three or four hundred per cent. above par, there is no excuse for the neglect to lay iron pipes instead of the logs, and thus remedy the evil complained of, and also obviate the now necessary nuisance of internally digging up the streets.

For months, if not years, many citizens have been obliged to descend into cellars for water, and often run to some neighbor who either had a reliable well or lived in a lower situation; and for a few days past the aqueduct has almost utterly failed. If this is on account of repairs, the citizens should have been notified, so that they might draw off a supply. We have had to derive the supplies for our office from The Spring;—and the stable keepers and other large users have been greatly incommoded.

Under this state of things, there is absolute necessity for bringing in the supply from the beautiful spring of the C. & P. Railroad, above the Plains—from doing which, the Aqueduct Co. have procured an injunction on the Railroad Co. At first view, it would seem that the water company have not the shadow of a right to this spring; but since their tapping it in the field next the railroad has lowered the wells far above it on the road, it may be that this is but an outlet for water over which the Aqueduct Co. has legal authority. But at all events, our citizens need the water, and somebody ought to bring it into town, in spite of all the corporations.

And one other thing is certain—that the removal of all the pumps from the streets, and the general filling and covering of the wells about town, was an eminently foolish and suicidal movement. Any man with a good well, makes a bad trade to exchange it for a possible chance at the aqueduct, as things have been of late years; and there is not a rural place like ours, that we know of, so utterly deficient of public watering accommodations for man and beast. We are glad to learn that the City Government is considering the matter of replacing some of the street pumps, at least; and we hope they will also replace half a dozen good horse-troughs.

For besides the inconvenience of the lack of water, in houses and stores, there is not enough to supply the engines in case of fire. The reservoir down in Pleasant street, recently repaired at an expense of more than $400, is almost empty, and "the water is too low" to allow of its being filled. The reservoir in Austin street is cracked, leaky, and insufficient; and several of the "stops" are said to be of little or no use. So let us have and keep all the wells; for even if the present excitement and threats to quit the "monopolizing" Aqueduct do die out with the speedy restoration of water which we hope for,—still there is ample need of all the pumps besides. Don't be afraid of getting too much water, or fear having two strings to your bow.

☞ The Board of Aldermen held a special meeting on Friday evening, for the election of City Officers—but it was only another failure. The Board nominated Wm. Moses for re-election as Supt. of City Farm; but (we are informed) the Mayor declined to act in the matter, unless the entire list of officers was first nominated.

☞ We are requested to state that the nonpareil yacht Sibyl, will leave Pier Whf. for the Shoals, this (Saturday) evening at 7 o'clock, if suitable weather; returning on Monday morning, or as the party may wish.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—The factory of Potts & Klett, 200 feet long, was demolished by lightning yesterday. Of eight persons who took shelter in the building from the rain, three were badly injured.

POISONED VINEGAR, PICKLES, &c.—The Boston Courier exposes several of these cheats,—and says:

A law requiring that vinegar should contain at least four per cent. of pure acetic acid — we have found five per cent. in several samples which we have bought—would ensure to the public a good article, and at the same do away with the inducement to adulteration with oil of vitriol.

We find by analysis that a great part of the vinegar sold in Boston is very much below the strength we have named, and the presence of free sulphuric acid was shown by appropriate tests in several samples. In one the quantity was determined to be nearly one-half of one per cent. Oil of vitriol is much stronger than acetic acid, and consequently a less quantity is needed to produce the requisite acidity. The quantity of ascetic acid in this sample was under two per cent.

As to pickles, it says:

We have examined with considerable care, the pickles put up by a number of establishments, both English and American, and in over two-thirds of the samples have found more or less copper. Some of them were of a dark, unnatural green, much deeper than when fresh, and contained an excessive quantity of the metal. In the pickles of one English and one Boston house, no trace of any poisonous substance detected. They are distinguishable from most others by their pale yellowish green color.

The pie fruits which are now so extensively sold in bottles, are often purposely tinged with copper to improve their appearance. None should be purchased which have a bright green color, an almost certain proof of contamination.

So far as we have examined the preserved meats, fish, and vegetables which are put up in this country we have found no wilful adulteration or contamination. But this is not true of the same class of goods sent to this country from England. Anchovies and many of the potted meat, are colored with bole Armenian, and other filthy and injurious substances. But worse than all, the potted meats, so elegantly put up in jars, are often prepared from the flesh of horses and other animals which have died of accident or disease.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Great excitement prevails in Occaguan, Va., near Alexandria, in consequence of the Republicans raising a Lincoln flag. Some citizens attempted to demolish it, when the Republicans resisted, and sent messengers to the neighboring towns for arms and ammunition. Gov. Letcher ordered Gen. Hatton to call out his troops and protect the Republicans, but the General preferred to resign his command. At last accounts it was expected the military of Alexandria would be called out. Occaguan contains 300 Republicans, and was the residence of Mr. Underwood, the ostracized Republican

The rain storm yesterday did considerable damage. A house in Williamsburg was struck by lightning and burnt, and an inmate, a Mrs. Perry was killed. A barn was also struck and burnt.

DELIBERATE MURDER.—Concord, N.H., July 27.—This morning, about 5 o'clock, James M. Williams, a merchant at Warren, N. H., stepped up to Mr. N. A. Wyatt and shot him through the heart with a revolver. He died instantly. The cause is supposed to be trouble about an old debt. Wyatt is a young man, and leaves a wife and one child. Williams has been arrested.

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully gruitsed.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

A FALSE REPORT CORRECTED.

Messrs. Editors,—It is currently reported in our city that I used my influence with the Flag Officer of the U. S. ship Macedonian, to prevent his allowing the crew the usual liberty of coming on shore before they were paid off. I wish through your columns to contradict this statement as utterly false.

The written instructions of the Board of the City Mission, whose servant I am, make it my duty to do all I can for the benefit of seamen visiting our port. It was for the purpose of carrying out these instructions that I visited the Macedonian daily after her arrival. I was myself much disappointed in finding that it was the fixed policy of the Flag Officer to keep the men on board till they should be paid off—as I believed I could benefit them more on shore.

When I found that they could not leave the vessel until paid off, I used my influence with the crew to induce those of them who were not intending to proceed immediately home, to remain for a time in this city, assuring them that they would be exposed to fewer temptations and could procure board and anything else which they needed, much cheaper than in Boston; and it was owing to my influence that many of them did remain.

If I am correctly informed, there has been an order issued from the Navy Department, making it the duty of Commanders of U. S. vessels to keep their crews on board until paid off; and in accordance with this rule, the crew of the last ship which came into Charlestown, was not permitted to go outside of the Navy Yard until they were paid off. N. MERRERY, City Missionary.

PORTSMOUTH, July 27, 1860.

From the Gazette.

The United States frigate Constitution is to be moored in the waters of the Naval Academy Annapolis, as a school ship, having been fitted up at this port with a view to afford suitable quarters for the increased number of midshipmen appointed to the Academy, and enlarge the facilities for instructing them practically in the branches of their profession. The following officers have been detailed for the special duty of navigating the Constitution from Portsmouth to Annapolis: Lieut. Commanding D. D. Porter, Lieuts, E. C. Grafton, S. B. Luce, and Wilson McGunnegle, and Boatswain Z. Whitmash. The ship will be ready for sea next week.

☞ The crew of the U. S. Sloop-of war Macedonian were paid off on Monday last, $64,000 being required for the purpose. Most of the men left town the same evening. The men were kept on board of the ship most of the time after their arrival, until their discharge, and it is probable that a smaller amount of money was left behind among our traders, than from any national ship ever paid off here. Most of the officers and crew procured their infits in Europe before they left the station to which they were attached.

☞ We are informed that there have been several desertions from the Marine Corps at the Navy Yard within a few months. In one case the guard at the bridge, while on duty in the evening, left his gun and equipments on his post and departed for parts unknown. One of the cases before the Court Martial which has been in session the present week, was a charge against a private for striking an officer.

☞ S. M. Clark, Esq., chief of the bureau of Construction in the Treasury Department at Washington, has been in this city the present week, and has accepted the new Post Office building from the hands of the Superintendent. He has given verbal orders for the removal of the Custom House, and on his return to Washington will cause the issue of an official notice to the same effect. The Post Office cannot be removed until orders are received from the P. O. Department.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertion, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large sales, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind Houses and Stomach, Pain in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance, Debility, Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Dyspepsia.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as a dose to the nervous will restore the Drooping Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, suffer the evil effects, dizziness, biliousness, weakness, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the bracing excitement of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind that may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order, making a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than she can the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the greatest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Regians, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS & IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land, some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual as a permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and generally malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, exhausting cough, and incipient hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and decisive effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for cheerful and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. I cheerfully bear proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE ORIGINAL AND GENUINE
DR. TOWNSEND'S
COMPOUND EXTRACT OF
SARSAPARILLA,
IS THE GREAT RENOVATOR OF THE BLOOD.

the sovereign remedy for Eruptions of the Skin, Ulcerated Sores, and all forms of Cutaneous Diseases.

These complaints can be speedily and effectually cured by the use of this

WORLD RENOWNED SARSAPARILLA!

Thousands have experienced its salutary effects, and tens of thousands have witnessed it, until it has ceased to be a question among the intelligent portion of the community.

When the BLOOD becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from the effects of Spring weather, change of climate, want of exercise, the use of a uniform saline diet, or any other cause, this Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the Stomach, REGULATE THE BOWELS, and impart a one of vigor to the whole body.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The public are hereby notified that the preparation extensively known as DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, is now manufactured under my direction and supervision, from the original recipe obtained from S. P. Townsend; and I certify that it is composed of ingredients PURELY VEGETABLE, and WITHOUT MERCURY; and also that the ingredients are judiciously compounded, so as to obtain from them their greatest medicinal effect.

JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D.,
CHEMIST.

Dr. S. P. Townsend's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, has a reputation among all civilized nations as the best preparation for which science has ever offered to man. In this resides its peculiar excellence, and to this is due its world-wide renown.

It contains all the vegetable principles which experience has proved useful in clearing the system from disease, extracted and combined with the highest skill which the resources of modern chemistry enable us to employ.

Whatever may be said by mortified competitors or splenetic physicians, the fact that this medicine is EVERYWHERE USED, and that its use creates an increased demand, shows conclusively that it possesses medicinal merits of the first order.

CAUTION!!

To avoid imposition it will be necessary to see that DR. JAMES R. CHILTON'S CERTIFICATE, as well as the SIGNATURE of Dr. S. P. Townsend, is on the outside wrapper of each bottle.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray; stop from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining ground in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of my first visit to Sacramento, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel is my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now uses a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was a pitty becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $6 a bottle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JULY 30, 1860.

☞ A Democratic meeting, called in Lowell, to endorse Breckinridge and Lane, was taken possession of by Douglas men, and a general confusion was the consequence. Dr. Lawrence, a Douglas man, was declared elected Chairman. He said the meeting was called to ratify the nomination of Mr. Breckinridge, but as he was a Douglas man [applause and hisses] he did not see how he could with consistency act.

Mr. W. C. Gray, a prominent Douglas man, moved that Gen. Butler be allowed a hearing. This was received with derision and laughter. The Chairman asked that Gen. Butler be allowed a hearing. Major Emery said that Butler was not a Democrat, and he was opposed to allowing him a hearing, and moved that he be declared not a Democrat.

After a while, quiet was in some degree restored, on the assurance of the Chairman that if they would hear Gen. Butler a few minutes, he should be answered, and there seemed a disposition to listen to him. He said that he had lived in Lowell for thirty years; he had ever done what he thought was best for the interests of the working men of Lowell. By his influence they are not now compelled to work thirteen hours per day. He had defended the Catholics of Lowell. [Cheers, groans and hisses.] He went for paying for the convent.

The noise and confusion burst out afresh Messrs. Alger, Gray and others called him to order, and after vainly endeavoring to be heard further, Gen. Butler took his hat and left the hall, followed by the hootings and hisses of the Douglas men. Cheers were called for a variety of persons, and given amid groans and hisses. At this point the gas was partly turned off, and the audience began to leave.

Mr. T. A. Crowley, one of the census marshals for Lowell, and a friend of Butler's, attempted to speak amid the semi-darkness and confusion, but could not make himself heard. The Chairman left the stand and the excited crowd, says the Boston Journal, dispersed without taking a vote on any of the questions before the meeting.

The Boston Herald, of Saturday, states that after Gen. Butler and Mr. Haggerty left, "the gas was turned off the main burners, leaving the hall almost in darkness.—This, however, did not cause much confusion, and with considerable order the meeting proceeded."

In this condition of considerable order, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That we repudiate with scorn all seceders and disunionists who violate the universal Democratic usage in leaving a Convention, like spoiled children, because they can't have their way, who have hitherto and are now exerting their utmost strength to thrust a slave-code platform, with all its attendant inconsistencies and crimes, upon a law-abiding and patriotic but consistent party—that such a platform is anti-Democratic, unchristian and unlawful; that the efforts of the seceders deserve the condemnation of every true Democrat, and we will exert our utmost to defeat their candidates.

Resolved, That Hon. Benj. F. Butler, the delegate from this Congressional district, who seceded from the Baltimore Convention and joined the Disunionists at the Maryland Institute, and who is now doing all he can to defeat the regular nominees of of the party, has by that act grossly misrepresented his constituents, and should be treated as a fugitive from the reglar organization of the Democratic party, which maintains that the majority must rule, the Union shall be preserved, and forever govern themselves.

Now, says Uncle Toby, this looks as if Gen. Butler, Vice-Pres. Breckinridge, Jo. Lane, Pres. Buchanan, Ex-Pres. Pierce,—and almost all the old and eminent Democrats, are read out of the party!

The Boston Post calls the proceedings an outrage!

What is the world a-coming to?

☞ The Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention, met at Harrisburg, July 26, "and unanimously adopted resolutions ratifying the platform and nominations of the recent State Convention at Reading, also the platform and nominations of the Baltimore National Convention; and protesting against the proposed fusion and compromise as undemocratic, and declaring it to be the duty of the State Committee to call another State Convention for the purpose of preparing a Democratic electoral ticket pledged to support the action of the Democratic National Convention and the regular candidates."

We give this as we find it.—Which of the two Baltimore Conventions is meant by the National one, we know not.—But, whichever it may be, the question is now settled that there are two Democratic parties in Pennsylvania.

☞ A few days since a lady died in Philadelphia, 107 years of age, and on the day of her funeral there were present five brothers and sisters, the youngest being over 90 years of age, and the oldest aged 111 years. A sight like this has seldom if ever been witnessed in this or any other country.

HAY-MAKING.

To make hay of the first quality, it is essential and necessary to "dry the juices in." The theory published by the late Judge Buel, of Albany, in his agricultural fpaper (he was one of the best farmers in the United States) was as follows—The grass (no matter how large the burthen) should not be spread from the swath the day it is mown, but should be well cocked up, even if mown late in the afternoon. The pitchfork should be used to put on the top, so that in case of rain in the night or next day the water will not penetrate. Thus well cocked up, a rain of four or five days will injure only the outside a little. The reason that the mown grass will not heat in rainy or cloudy weather is, that evaporation, a cooling process, takes place. Chemists can make ice by evaporation. The hay should be cured in the cock—a term now used by the best farmers, which means the sweating process well understood.

Under this approved theory, the cocks should be opened and spread the next fair hay-day, soon as the dew evaporates, and the hay afterwards turned over two, perhaps three times, if necessary; and by two or three o'clock in the afternoon the hay is fit to put into the barn. It may surprise some to see how soon the hay will dry so cured in the cock. The juices are dried in, (which are the most essential parts) and the hay so made is worth one or two dollars the ton more than it would be, made in the old mode, when it is not much better than dry straw. It has a greenish look and fine fragrance when rightly made. It is dried, in some degree, in the shade. Judge Buel put the question—why do you dry your herbs in the shade? When the grass is spread the day it is cut, and cocked up before sunset, a rain the next morning will penetrate, nor will it be cured in the improved mode. No judicious farmer will suffer his mown grass to remain uncocked at night. We have known thousands of tons injured, sometimes rendered wholly worthless, by being suffered to remain in the swarth or winrow. However fair the day, it may storm the next or successive days.

This season, thus far, farmers have had most excellent weather to make hay;—it is of a better quality than last year, and generally there is a good crop. Present appearances also indicate that other crops will be abundant, and that there will be a large supply of apples, which have been scarce in this quarter for three successive years.

A PRACTICAL FARMER.

ALLEGED ABANDONMENT OF RUSSIAN SERF EMANCIPATION.—We copy the following important paragraph from one of the last letters of the Traveller's Paris correspondent, "Spiridion:"

I may note among the new books of the week, "Truth about Russia," by Prince Pierre Dolgorousky, showing all the ulcers which corrupt that great body politic, and indicating what, in the Prince's opinion, is the only remedy for the evils exposed. We read this book with the greater interest as we are daily looking for a great revolution in Russia. The Czar has abandoned his scheme of emancipation. He proves not to be the man able to cope with the formidable obstacles to that policy. A rising of the serfs is expected.

☞ On the 8th inst., the Rev. Charles G. McLean, one of the defenders of North Point, near Baltimore, during the last war with Great Britain, died at Indianapolis, Ind., in the 75th year of his age. His widow survived him only two days. At the time of the battle, Mr. McLean had just received a call to the charge of a church at Frederick, Md. On the Sabbath morning when the express took the news of the arrival of the English fleet in Baltimore Bay, and the landing of their troops at North Point, Mr. McLean preached a most patriotic sermon, and in conclusion called upon every man to rally to the defence of his country, himself setting the example, and the next day appearing in the ranks of the volunteers.

HOW THEY STAND.—Breckinridge wants to have slavery voted into the free Territories.

Lincoln wants to have slavery voted out of the free Territories.

Douglas "don't care whether slavery is voted up or down," if he can only be President.

Bell don't see any difference worth mentioning between freedom and slavery—both are respectable.

Which of the four do the people like best? —Claremont Eagle.

SHIP TAKEN BY RUNNERS, AND CREW MUTINOUS.—On Thursday afternoon, the clipper ship Red Gauntlet, lying off the Battery, New York, was observed to raise her ensign union down. Coxswain Hodge and the crew of the police boat No. 4 boarded her, and found her crew refusing to obey orders, while runners crowded every part of the vessel. The officers speedily expelled the intruders and reduced the crew to order.

☞ It appears that the murder of Wyatt, by Williams, was committed at Warren, N. H., and not at Concord. A correspondent of the Boston Traveller says there was an old difficulty between the men, mixed up with politics, jealousy, and so forth.

WHAT ARE WE COMING TO?

From the N. Y. Sat. Press.

PARTIES.—There is certainly very little difference between the two great parties. Each of them is kept together, as some one once said of the old Whig party, "by the cohesive power of public plunder." Let it be understood that even the few competent men now in office,—at home and abroad,—must be retained in office, whatever the result of the next election, and from that moment the Republican party would be as dead as a nit. It requires all the spoils to keep any party alive.

Go to Washington just after the result of the election is known, and tell us if anywhere on the face of the earth can be witnessed so degrading a spectacle. Every hotel, every street almost, crammed with hungry applicants for office; with able bodied men,—men, moreover, of respectable appearance,—men with shirts and faces as clean as their souls are dirty,—begging, like the abject mendicants they are, for the smallest crumb that falls from the political table, in pay for their Democratic, Republican, or whatsoever services.

And to think that thousands on thousands of men, in every part of the country, are at this moment waiting with palpitating hearts to figure next year in just such a begging crowd! Men who would sooner, any one of them, live on the smallest allowance of State-pap, than earn their thousands by useful labor. And to think, too, that these men call themselves Democrats and Republicans! And not only that, but Christians! For if they didn't smuggle Christianity into the camp, they might as well give up the ghost at once.

Now, if any one is inclined to join in a political struggle the chief object of which is to feed these cormorants, we, of course, have no objection. Every one to his taste. For our own part, we heartily despise the whole concern. A political party based on the principle that the majority have a right to govern, must necessarily pander to the vices of the multitude, and in the end become as despicable as an organized band of vagrants, pickpockets, and pimps.

Look at the "majority" in the city of New York. Go to the polls in the more populous quarters and examine the people there. Talk with them. Find out—it won't take you long—all they know about government. All they know about anything. And after that, tell us if you would trust them with the management of the most trifling affair in the world in which you took any interest. No, you wouldn't trust your dog with them; if you did, you would have to advertise it the next day as "Lost!"

And yet you propose that they shall elect your rulers and make your laws! They do elect your rulers, and they do make your laws, and the consequence is that New York is the worst-governed and the dirtiest city in the world, and that to have been one of its aldermen or common councilmen is a stigma which it takes your family generations to purge itself of. And yet a more apt illustration of the majority system cannot be found than in this same city. The Democratic idea has proved a dead failure, and the sooner, therefore, it is given up (as it must be, at any rate, in a few years) the better for the State, the better for the individual, the better for civilization itself.

FIRE AT AMOSKEAG.—A shingle mill, with the contents, at Amoskeag, N. H., the property of Col. Daniel Farmer and his son, Daniel Farmer, Jr., was consumed by fire early Friday morning. The mill was a building 20 or 24 feet by 40, and contained over $1000 worth of machinery, mostly new and in good repair. The mill contained about 8000 shingles belonging to Montgomery & Co., and about 12,000 belonging to the owners of the mill. The total damage is estimated at $2000. Mr. Farmer suffered a loss of $9000 by the burning of a stable, two barns, hay, grain, &c., on the 28th of February last.

THE SLAVE TRADERS.—The Journal of Commerce gives the names of eleven ships which have been captured within a year by our national vessels, on suspicion of being engaged in the slave trade. Per contra, the New York Times gives the names of thirty-one vessels, alleged to be slavers, which have sailed from the port of New York within last twelve months, and have not been captured.

FRAUD IN WOOL.—We learn from the Pittsfield Eagle that Messrs. D. & H. Stearns, of that place, found last week, in a bale of wool purchased in Boston, a stone weighing 82 pounds. The wool was imported from the Cape of Good Hope, where the stone was doubtless put into the bale.—Sand in large quantities, and small stones to the weight of one or two pounds, are often found in imported wool.

A TOUGH STORY.—The Northampton Gazette says that one day last week, Mr. Philetus A. Bryant, of Chesterfield, shot a black eagle that weighed 6 1-2 pounds, and measured seven feet from tip to tip of its wings. The eagle came near the house and took a beef's hide, that hung on a fence, weighing seventy pounds, and carried it seven rods. This is a pretty tough story, but it is said to be true.

☞ In the case of George Ladd, at Hyde Park, Vt., who shot another young man, named Lewis Page, under circumstances which led to the belief that the act was premeditated, the jury of inquest have found that the act was the result of gross carelessness. Ladd has been lodged in jail.

Controversy, though always an evil in itself, is sometimes a necessary evil. To give up everything worth contending about, in order to prevent hurtful contentions, is, for the sake of extirpating noxious weeds, to condemn the field to perpetual sterility.

NEW YORK, 28th.—The Herald Washington correspondent says the reports of an abolition conspiracy in Texas are regarded by Southern men as a humbug, gotten up for political effect. The same correspondent also says that the only additional news from the Occoquan trouble is the fact that Gov. Letcher has compelled Gen. Hatton to order out one company of militia to preserve the peace. It is believed, however, that Gen. Hatton's sympathies were with the mob, and it is doubtful whether the troops would fire on the mob or the Republicans.

The census estimates place the population of this city at upwards of 862,000—and real and personal property at $702,000,000.

A dispatch from Pensacola says a desperate row had occurred on board the U. S. frigate Brooklyn.

EUROPEAN ITEMS.—Sickening details of the massacres of Christians in Syria continue to be received. It is believed that the Turkish authorities are acting with the connivance of the government at Constantinople. They might have stopped the bloodshed on every occasion, but left the Christians to their fate.

The appearance of the growing crops of France is favorable. Every kind of produce promises well, including fruit.

Private orders have been given to the French press to say as little as possible about Garibaldi.

WIDE-AWAKE RALLY.—Hartford, July 27.—The Wide-Awake rally to-night was a spirited affair. The large camp, which will hold 3000 persons, was crowded, and large numbers were unable to gain admittance.

A torch light procession came off, after which the visiting Wide-Awakes were served to a collation.

RUFFIANISM AND SLAUGHTER.—There is a meaning in names. Mr. Yancey's disunion letter, written in June, 1858, was appropriately written to James Slaughter, and he admits that his leading idea was "first shadowed forth in the South" by Mr. Ruffin.

☞ The London correspondent of Wilkes' Spirit says that in his encounter with Idle Boy, a ferocious horse that he has lately tamed, Mr. Rarey had a large piece torn out of his left coat sleeve by the teeth of the vicious animal. Luckily the arm was not injured.

☞ The large shoe manufactory at Lawrence, owned by the Hundred Associates, was sold last Saturday to J. H. Farnsworth, Esq., of Haverhill, for the sum of $6000.—Its original cost was $13,000 or more.

☞ The New York Post gives the College Regatta at Worcester, under the heading of "Progress of Muscular Christianity."

Somebody asks if lightning is a material substance. Whether so or not, it is of material consequence to a man if he is hit by it.

BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN.—This highly popular and successful remedial agent is advertised in our paper to-day. We cannot say anything higher in its praise, than to mention the fact, that during a long and conscientious investigation at St. Mark's Hospital, New York, into the relations of alcoholic beverages with the human economy, Dr. Thorne had occasion to test and examine a great variety of wines and liquors, and discovered that the best results arose from the use of old Gin. The best that was found was the OLD LONDON DOCK GIN, imported by Messrs. A. M. BININGER & CO. The merits of this were carefully tested, in a variety of cases, and it was found to be all that could be desired, for mild but prompt action, purity, delicacy of flavor, and healthful invigoration. It is a HOLLAND GIN, imported perfectly pure, and bottled just as imported; made from the very best ingredients, with the greatest care, and allowed to attain a ripe old age before it is sold. This article may be had of all Druggists, Grocers and Town Agents.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, and so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it. After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

From a highly respected physician in Maine

South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure where other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,

WM. A. RUST, M. D.

The Springfield Republican publishes births as well as marriages and deaths.—This, we believe, has long been the custom in England, but it is new here. What next? —Boston Puritan and Recorder.

The Puritan Recorder is very slow in learning what is "new" here. It is now over eight years since the Republican commenced the publication of births. The example has been followed by most of the papers in Western Massachusetts, and the record in this department is now as full and regular in its appearance as those of marriages and deaths.

There is on the whole no more important event in a man's or woman's life than the fact of its beginning; and why should it not be made known to the rest of mankind? Instead of their being any objection on the part of parents at these announcements, our experience shows that they rather like them, and most often furnish the information for the press.—Springfield Republican.

We have long contemplated the Chronicling of Births in this city and vicinity, but the difficulty of procuring a complete and reliable list has thus far prevented. It is the duty of physicians to report to the town clerk all births at which they attend, and of parents to see this is done; but both are very remiss in this respect. Even if "the day of a man's death is better than the day of his birth," yet the children born in any town are equally important matter of record with the marriages, and of vastly more consequence to be noted than the deaths.

We propose to commence the publication of Births in Portsmouth and neighboring towns, on the first of August, which will be the beginning of a new volume and the ninth year of the Chronicle. And while we shall be much obliged for authentic information to render our new list as complete as possible; if those thin-skinned parents who are ashamed of their children, will so inform us, we will suppress their names. Some people are afraid that others should know they have such events as marriages and births "happening" at their houses; but most sensible folks regard either occurrence as matter for rejoicing and congratulation.

☞ Though two of our three Summer months are gone, yet we have had but very little hot weather—and the season thus far has seemed unusually cool, while all thro' the South the heat has been excessive.

On Friday night there was a white frost in this vicinity, which was visible in the low lands and on the bridges until nearly sunrise.

SINGULAR PREMONITION.—On Monday, a lad by the name of Albert McAllister, 3 years old, was drowned by falling from the wharf while fishing. A week ago his mother dreamed that her son was drowned in precisely the same way in which the accident occurred, with all the attending circumstances. She had refused to let him go on the wharf to fish, for fear of his death in this manner. On the morning of the occurrence, however, he asked her permission to go, and she for the moment forgetting the dream consented, and soon after learned the fatal catastrophe which had befallen her beloved boy.—Portland Advertiser.

MURDER.—Troy, July 27.—Mr. Harrison Sherman, one of the Trustees of the town of Waterford, while making some alteration and improvements in the sidewalks of that town, this afternoon, was ordered to desist by Mr. Vanderwerker, on whose premises the sidewalk was built; and not complying with the demand, the latter shot him dead. Vanderwerker was immediately arrested. He was intoxicated at the time.

SALE OF WHEAT AT A LOSS.—A miller of this city recently purchased of an Avon farmer 1,250 bushels of wheat of the crop of 1857. The seller had at one time been offered $2 per bushel for the grain and refused it. He has now taken $1.40. We leave it to the curious in such matters to figure up how much he is short in consequence of holding for better prices.—Rochester (N. Y.) Union.

There is one very small fact in our domestic economy which is not generally known, but which is useful in saving time, trouble and temper. If the candle be blown out holding it above you, the wick would not smoulder down, and may therefore be easily lighted again, but if blown upon downward, the contrary is the result.

DEMAND FOR VESSELS.—There is great demand for vessels at this port at the present time, in consequence of great shipments of flour to Liverpool and London. Several large ships are now loading at our wharves with flour and grain for those ports.—Phila. Ledger.

PRONUNCIATION OF ZOUAVE.—This word is much used in military circles, but is frequently incorrectly pronounced. Many speak it Zoo-ave, giving it the sound of two syllables. It is correctly pronounced, however, in one syllable, as though written Zwave, the a having the Italian sound, as in fan.—Atlas.

The man of mediocre education and position is, generally, the most particular about the education and accomplishments of his wife. A man of literary habits often seeks little more than sense and affection.

A Southern editor thinks that Mr. Lincoln "must be crazy." Unquestionably if the picture in Harper is correct, he is physically deranged.—Prentice.

☞ Mrs. Sickles is said to be in very delicate health. For some months past she has been quite feeble.

ALBANY, July 27.—There has been considerable excitement here to-day caused by removals from the Custom House.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Dates from Liverpool July 18th, and Queenstown 19th.

The English government have received intelligence of a fearful massacre of the Christians at Damascus by the Druses. 500 Christians were butchered, among them the Dutch Consul. The American Consul was wounded.

The two vessels which were reported to have gone over to Garibaldi were merchantmen. The steamer Viloc has also passed over to Garibaldi.

Naples, July 14.—Patrols are constantly traversing the streets. The moderate party are full of apprehensions. A former Inspector of Police was stabbed on the 12th inst., in the stada Neteldo.

A proclamation of Garibaldi against the Bourbon dynasty has been distributed in Naples. He says, "I am a royalist, (?) but prefer Victor Emanuel, who will head us against Austria."

Naples, via Turin, July 17.—A conflict has occurred between the troops and the people, in consequence of popular manifestations in favor of the refugees who disembarked at Naples, and several were killed.

The Neapolitan ministry has been dismissed and a new cabinet formed.

A NEW DANGER TO THE UNION.—One Joel Belview, of Albany, Georgia, offers to match his boy Shadrach against Heenan, called the Hittite, for any sum ranging from one to ten thousand dollars. One cannot but tremble in view of the possibility of such a sectional conflict, such a war of races. Mr. Heenan, being a Democrat, must be in sore embarrassment. If he accepts, he may injure Southern property. If he declines, he slights the South.—Providence Journal.

BABY LOST AND FOUND—Quite an interesting scene took place in the Tennessee depot yesterday afternoon, under the following circumstances:—Just before the time of the departure, a "darkey" came running down the platform with a baby—yes, a live baby—in his arms, calling, "Who's lost a baby?" who's lost a baby?" No one claiming the darling for its mother, our African friend poked his head into the ladies' car, exclaiming in quite a melodious voice, "Who loss dis chile?" when a lady rose and exclaimed, "God bless me—I forgot the darling little creature." The baby was placed in its mother's arms, when the "darkey" retired, highly delighted in his having restored the little one to his careless mamma.—Lynchburg Republican.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

GONE, from our COLUMNS and the CITY.—After occupying a prominent position in our advertising columns for more than three years, the advertisements of MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE this week do not appear. They commenced here with a small capital, and good faith in the advantages of liberal advertising. They have been satisfied in the correctness of their calculation, and have not abridged their advertising during the whole term of their business operations here. Having a good business tact, open, upright and liberal in their dealings, they have acquired a good capital, and have now gone into a larger business in the commercial emporium of the old Bay state. We bespeak for them in due time a place among the millionaires of the metropolis: for the spirit of advertising is in them, and the spirit of thrift directly follows in its train.

We understand that Messrs. Allen & Paine will continue to give employment to from fifty to a hundred operatives in this city, in fitting stock for their new store in Boston, on Devonshire street.

They have sold their stock to MESSRS. GEORGE B. FRENCH and SAMUEL L. LUNT, the latter well known as an attentive salesman in the establishment for several years, who will at the old stand shortly open a new stock of goods.

POLITICS AS A SCIENCE.—We find in the New York Century many sound and val uable articles. In politics it does not profess to be the exponent of any party, but discusses the science of government as sound Statesmen should. It has become habitual (the editor of the Century recently remarked,) to denounce the corruption of political parties, as infamous; and not without reason.—But there is a wide distinction to be kept in view between politics, and a political party. One is the science of government—the other is a company of men. The practice of corruption does not affect the soundness or validity of a principle of government, any more than an error in calculation affects the principles of mathematics. We desire to enforce it upon the popular mind, that it is a grave duty of the citizen in this country, to study politics, and to examine its applications impartially, that he may vote intelligently and for the public good. To be carried away by a mere "catch" of words, such as "glorious democracy" or "the rail-splitter of the west," is unworthy of a thinking man. The logical result of confounding the corruption of politicians with the science of politics, is to bring the latter into the same contempt which we cast upon the former; and thence it is easy to run into the error of neglecting the important public duties of citizenship, and allowing the government to pass into the hands of bad men.

PORTSMOUTH MUTUAL INSURANCE CO.—At the annual Meeting of the Portsmouth Mutual Fire Insurance Co. held 18th inst. the following named Directors were chosen:

John Knowlton, Ichabod Goodwin, W. H. Y. Hackett, John N. Handy, Henry F. Wendell, John Stavers, of Portsmouth; and Z. Dow Creighton, of Newmarket.

William Stavers having declined a re-election, John Stavers was elected in his place.

At a meeting of Directors held after the annual meeting, John Knowlton was elected President, and W. L. Dwight, Sec'y and Treasurer.

FIRST GREEN CORN.—We received on Saturday last, July 21st, from T. Gerrish Furber, Esq. of Newington, the first sample of new Corn fit for cooking that has appeared in our market. Last year, 1859, we received from him some of about the same quality on the 20th, showing that there is but little difference in the season.

The first green corn appeared in the market in 1858, July 20th, in 1857, July 25; in 1856, July 23; in 1855, July 18; in 1854, July 20; 1853, July 22.

FOR THE PIANO.—"Honey Suckle Glen," one of twelve "Gathered Leaves," by Adolph Baumbach; and a very good series of "Echoes of the Past," by the same—are published by Russell & Tolman, Boston, and for sale by C. C. Harvey.

Railroads had a drooping tendency in the Boston market last week, but the Eastern took another sudden start upwards, and nearly recovered the ground it lost the week before. The sales on Saturday closed at $83, while $84 was asked.

From the Gazette.

☞ A nice and refreshing ice cream, or a dish of palatable oysters can be obtained at any hour of the day or evening at L. V. Newell's, on the corner of Congress and Chestnut streets. There is a private entrance on Chestnut street, two neatly furnished rooms, where gentlemen with ladies will receive polite attendance, and be free from the exposure of a public restaurant.

☞ Everett O. Foss, a well known character about Dover, has issued a prospectus for a campaign paper in the interest of Mr. Douglas, to be published in Boston. Its title is to be "The Cabinet Maker." Each number will be illustrated with engravings of distinguished politicians, or comic cuts.

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

The subscriber hereby gives public notice that on the twenty-third day of May, A. D. 1860, he peaceably entered upon and took possession of a certain lot of land, situated in Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham and State of New Hampshire, with a dwelling house thereon, and bounded westerly on Dover Street twenty-five feet; northerly by the Reservoir of the Ports. Aqueduct Co., and there measuring fifty feet; easterly by land of H. M. Grant twenty-five feet; southerly by land formerly owned by Nicholas Mason, now owned by James Shaw, fifty feet—said southerly line being formed by dwelling on said lot and the dwelling of said Shaw—now one of the chambers of said Shaw's house extends over into the house on said lot described, and is to remain so as long as the two houses shall remain on said lot—said premises being the same which Stephen A. Rice conveyed to J. H. Sides, and which said Sides conveyed in mortgage to William Laighton, by deed dated 16th January, 1855, recorded in Rockingham Registry of Deeds, lib. 363, fol. 31, (and which deed of mortgage was subsequently assigned to me, to-wit: on the 21st day of May, A. D. 1860;) for conditions broken and for the purpose of foreclosing the right in equity of said Nathaniel B Sides to redeem the same; and at the same time publicly declared the purpose and object of said entry and possession

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regard the size, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve in regard thereto—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance, Is Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headache, sickness, nervous weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many attentions and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Bakers' Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind; and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

MORE KIDNAPPING IN KANSAS.—The Leavenworth Times (21st) says—

We are again called upon to record a case of kidnapping in this vicinity. Two free negro men have resided for the last six months in the south part of this county, with Mrs. Sampson, a colored woman, near the Delaware Mission. They were banished from Arkansas under the recent law, and have been industriously employed all the season in raising a crop of corn On Wednesday night the house of Mrs. Sampson was broken open by three men, the negroes seized, and forced into a close carriage, and driven off in the direction of Delaware. No paper or authority was shown. The residence and names of the captors are unknown, but suspicion points to the same men who captured Hope Kunard. These negro men had certificates of good character from several men in Arkansas, and certificates of freedom from the clerk of one of the Courts, which had been exhibited to several white persons in the vicinity."

☞ Nearly a hundred years ago, Voltaire resided at Geneva. One day he said to some friends, in a boastful and sneering tone: "Before the beginning of the nineteenth century, christianity will have disappeared from the earth!" In that same room where these words were spoken, there is to-day a large deposit of Bibles! The books fill the house from floor to ceiling!—So much for Voltaire's prediction.

☞ Simon Lord is accused of having "seven ladies" or wives. They want him in Michigan, that they may consign him to a place where he will be at leisure to meditate on the charms of the whole bevy. He is a peddler, and seems to have disposed of himself to many of his fair customers, six of whom bought him in rather a damaged condition.

☞ The Baltimore American says the floating school at that port "has proved a successful experiment, and bids fair to be eminently useful in training youths for the commercial marine of our country." In the last year 23 went to sea—three as officers, the residue as ordinary seamen.

☞ Frederick Arnold, a lad of about 10 years of age, son of Mr. George Arnold, of Mansonville, Ct., was drowned on Sunday, the 22d inst., in the Quinnebaug river, at Woodstock, while bathing. In diving it is supposed he came in contact with a rock and broke his neck.

JOHNNY CAKE.—The true johnny cake is made of finely sifted meal, salted, and shortened with lard—or ham dripping, which gives a pleasant flavor—and made up, either with milk or warm water, to a consistency to prevent it falling from the board. Spread it equally, and place slanting before the fire, till browned on both sides. Bread baked in this way has a very sweet taste.

Were it not for drink and dissipation, circus men would be the healthiest persons in the world. You will hear many pity these men—say that they live but a few years, and are finally broken down by their continued exertions. It is dissipation that does this, and nothing else. Remember this, young men.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of irritations, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had some hard, hard prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed every thing I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not small.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was as ridiculously gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JULY 31, 1860.

☞ The New York Herald urges the importance of concentrating the whole anti-Republican strength upon one candidate. Mr. Breckinridge is the person in whose favor it makes this recommendation; but the Boston Courier turns the point of the paragraph round as follows:

We fully agree that the principle of the recommendation is good, but it is manifest that the candidate designated for this purpose must be John Bell. That he will stand second, if not first, in the popular vote, there can now be no question. That there can be no choice by the people is equally clear, unless by such a general union of anti-Republicans upon Bell and Everett at the North, as will handsomely second the evident course of public sentiment at the South—and then that ticket will be elected, by a majority never known before in our political history.

These larks are all to be caught when the sky falls, says Uncle Toby. But there are at least two other larks, Lincoln and Douglas, who seem to be left out of the account. Each of these may get a few votes, and so damage the calculation.

DANGER TO THE UNION.—Judge Orr, who is now stumping the State of Missouri as an opposition candidate for Governor, ridicules the idea of danger to the Union from the success of the Republicans, and tells the following story to illustrate the assinine character of such threats:

The people are beginning to know them as well as the lion knew the donkey. The pair becoming hungry, the donkey proposed that they should turn aside into a corn-field. They did so, and the donkey, having feasted to his content, was preparing to leave; but the lion said, "What am I to do? I cannot eat corn." "True," said the donkey;—"but if you will lie in the bush here, I will go into the thicket yonder and frighten the deer with a bray, so that you can catch one when they attempt to escape." The lion agreed, and the jackass, going into the thicket, brayed so terribly that all the deer in it came running out. The lion seized one and made a meal of it. On coming back, the donkey, with much conceit, asked, "Didn't I scare them?" "Yes," replied the lion, "and you would have scared me, too, if I hadn't known who you were."

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The case in the Circuit Court, of Larcombe and English against Ford, Pangborn and others, has been decided in favor of the last named parties, who go on immediately with the public printing.

The Republican liberty pole in Occoquan, Va., was cut down last Friday by a mob, in the presence of a company of cavalry, who were ordered by Gov. Letcher to protect it.

It is rumored that there is great excitement at Occoquan. Several Republicans had been assaulted, and John J. Jansey, a Bell and Everett man, on whose ground the liberty pole stood, was brutally beaten.

This, we take it, is a specimen of the freedom enjoyed in Virginia. New England is not in favor of this kind. It is the direct product of slavery. The same power that enslaves a man of one color, would enslave him of another—if it could.

ANECDOTE OF DR. CHANNING.—The Boston correspondent of the N. Y. Herald makes some allusion to the fact that Banks, Everett, Wilson, Sumner and Douglas were socially on the stage together at Harvard, and that Wilson and Douglas were seen chatting together about the political points made in some of the parts. He gives also the following anecdote of Dr. Channing:

There is a tradition, however, that when Dr. Channing, of famous memory, was about to graduate, sixty years ago, with most of his brother collegians, he was a strong federalist. His college exercise contained something of this nature obnoxious to professional censorship, and he was mildly recommended to omit it, with an intimation that a violation of the injunction would be visited with severe penalties. On reaching the proscribed portion he hesitated, and then, with a Ciceronian tact, said, if he was not strictly forbidden so to speak he should say so and so, continuing as before until the whole oration was delivered. Great freedom of speech is given, or more individual responsibility thrown on the speakers now, than then, for to-day many were the strictures passed on men and measures that fill the public mind, as will more fully appear directly.

☞ A correspondent of the Chicago Press and Tribune, writing from Springfield, Ill., says:

You can have no idea of the bitterness between the factions here, since the Breckinridge electoral ticket was nominated at Springfield. It has entered into the business and social relations of the people in such a way that the parties bid fair to come to blows before election. The Breckinridge faction are the more numerous in the county, and they have compelled all the candidates for county offices to declare for Breckinridge and Lane, as a condition precedent to having their claims considered in their coming convention.

☞ A young lady, while passing through a ropewalk in Bushwick, N. Y., had a portion of her dress caught in the machinery, and in endeavoring to extricate herself, had two of her fingers taken off. But for the timely assistance of one of the employees of the establishment, she would have been killed.

FARM CAPITAL.

There is a lesson in the following narration, quite as good as anything we could write—and quite as important as any we could teach. We hope it will be read carefully and heeded:

The late Mr. Bakewell, of Dishley, was not only an eminent agriculturalist and breeder of stock, but a very wise and shrewd man, and his neighbors were in the habit of resorting to him for advice. On one occasion an old friend went to pay him a visit, for the purpose of explaining to him his position, and at the same time begging that he would recommend him what to do. He had lived all his life upon his own farm of 1000 acres. He lived very well, but he had never saved a shilling. He had three daughters, and the oldest was about to be married; he highly approved of the match, but the intended husband expected some portion, and he had nothing to give him.—Should he mortgage his estate, or what should he do?

Mr. Bakewell begged him to spend the night with him, and promised to give him the next morning the result of his cogitations. Accordingly, the next morning, when they met at breakfast, Bakewell said, "I have made up my mind what you ought to do; give your son-in-law one-fourth of the farm, keep the remaining three-fourths, and do not part with any portion of your capital and stock, and work the remaining three-fourths with it. Do it better than you have hitherto done, and your income will be rather increased than diminished."

His friend followed his advice; but at the end of two or three years, another daughter was to be married, and the perplexed father again resorted to his friend Bakewell for advice, under this new difficulty. Bakewell coolly said he had watched his proceedings, and seen their results; he must do in this case as he had done before, he must give up another fourth of his farm, and keep the original capital and stock. The father seemed puzzled, but as the first experiment had succeeded, he determined to try it in this case also.

Last of all, the youngest daughter was to be married, and, in utter despair, the poor father paid another visit to Dishley, to explain his perplexity. "Well," said Bakewell, "tell me honestly whether your income has diminished by having your farm reduced one-half." The father acknowledged he thought it had not. "Then," said Bakewell, "you must give up another fourth of your farm, and keep your house and the remaining 250 acres for yourself; and, to tell you the truth, you will then have just such a farm as your stock, your capital, and your head are fit for, and will be a better and happier man than ever."

Old Bakewell use to tell this story with great glee, and declared his friend kept as much stock and capital upon the 250 acres as he had ever had upon the one thousand; and, as he believed, made a better income out of it. This may be a somewhat exaggerated statement, but of this I am sure: a small, well-cultivated farm will make a better return than a large, illy-cultivated one.

THE OLDEST.—We have been informed that at the recent Commencement at Dartmouth College, one of the graduates, the Rev. Mr. Hobart of Vermont, was present, who is ninety-five years of age. Though so aged, he moved round with much elasticity, and still preaches. He is very generally known as "Father Hobart." We speak of this because we have seen in quite a number of papers an allusion to a graduate of Yale present at the last Commencement of that College, who was ninety-four, or one year younger.

WRESTLING IN "YE OLDEN TYME."—Caleb Stark, Esq., in the history of Dunbarton, now in press, relates the following in a chapter upon the early trials of strength of the people of that town:

A person called at the house of John McNeil, in consequence of having heard of his strength and prowress. McNeil was absent, which circumstance the stranger regretted, (as he informed his wife, Christian, who inquired his business,) since he had travelled many miles for no other purpose than to throw him. "And troth, mon," said Christian McNeil, "Johnny is gone, but I'm not the woman to see ye disappointed; an' I think if ye'll try, I throw ye meself."

The stranger, not liking to be bantered by a woman, accepted the challenge; and, sure enough, Christian tripped his heels, and threw him upon the ground. He did not wait for "Johnny."

WOMAN SCALDED TO DEATH.—On Friday, Mrs. Ocksler, wife of the proprietor of a bone boiling establishment in the ninth ward of Brooklyn, met with a horrible death. About ten o'clock she went into the boiling room, and undertook to skim one of the large cauldrons of boiling fat, when by some means she lost her balance and fell forward into the boiling liquid. She lived but four hours after her husband drew her out of the cauldron.

PRINTERS' BURIAL LOT.

The Printers of Boston have done a good thing, in the purchase of a burial lot, and the erection of a monument.

The burial lot of the Franklin Typographical Society and Boston Printers' Union, at Mount Hope Cemetery, was dedicated Saturday afternoon with appropriate exercises. About two hundred and twenty-five persons, including printers and their families, and others interested in the occasion, were conveyed by a special train over the Providence Railroad to the Cemetery, where a large number of spectators had already assembled. The services began with the reading of selections from the Scripture by Rev. A. A. Miner, who also made some very appropriate remarks and an impressive dedicatory prayer. A hymn was then sung by a portion of the Park street choir, consisting of sixteen young ladies under the direction of Mr. E. H. Frost. Mr. Charles H. Woodwell, President of the Franklin Typographical Society then delivered an excellent address, closing as follows:—

Here, then, we dedicate this spot to the peaceful repose of our brethren when they cease from their labors. Believing, with Benjamin Franklin, that the present existence is but "an embryo state, a preparation for living," and that "a man is not completely born until he is dead," we will lay them here in the assurance that a higher life awaits them. No midnight toil, no racking of the brain o'er ill-writ page, no noise of political or polemical strife, no tidings of "unsuccessful or successful war" shall vex them here, where flows the "fountain of peace." The flowers will shed their fragrance around their graves; the winds of summer, as they fan this overarching foliage, will make music over their heads; and as we leave them beneath this grateful shade, we will think of them as in "—a cool, shady arbor, where the printer,

Wayworn and weary with life's rugged road,
Forgetting all earth's sorrows, joys and pains,
Lays his toil-wasted body down to rest,
Sleeps on—and wakes in heaven."

At the close of the address, an original hymn, written by B. P. Shillaber, was sung by the choir, to the tune of Hebron. The benediction followed. The day was a beautiful one, the services highly interesting, and everything passed off in the most unexceptionable manner.

HORSE STALLS are usually made with a considerable downward inclination from the horse's head; but English farriers have found out that the upper part of the stall ought to be the lowest by two inches at least—having other arrangements for suitable drainage of course. It is exceedingly uncomfortable for a horse to stand on a floor too steep either way, but it is far less injurious to have his fore feet lower.

☞ An English clergyman, at Holloway, England, has been detected in preaching the sermons of Rev. Dr. Bushnell, of Hartford, from the published volumes in this country.

It will not hurt him much. If one half the preachers, there or elsewhere, would read sermons equal to Bushnell's, their hearers would be great gainers by the change from hearing the poor talk of their own pastors.

BURNING OF A STEAM BARGE.—The steam barge T. C. Durant, of Cocymans, Albany county, left her dock at New York, Friday evening, with fifteen passengers, including six women and some children.—The boat had but just got into the river when a fire was discovered under the deck near the boiler. The flames spread rapidly. The boat was headed for the shore at Hoboken, and the passengers and crew safely landed.

A FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE.—James Valentine, a negro drayman in Philadelphia, was arrested in that city, Saturday, on suspicion that he was one Benj. Hurd, a fugitive slave. A hearing was had before a Commissioner, when Valentine proved to be a free native of New Jersey, and was dismissed, whereupon he commenced legal proceedings against the officers who arrested him.

FATAL TRIAL OF SPEED.—At Syracuse, on the 23d, Michael Riley met with a sudden death while riding on an omnibus with the driver. There was a race between the omnibus and another one, and they came in collision. Riley was thrown off the driver's box, and his neck was broken.

☞ The Portland Transcript announces that the Rev. Dr. Pomroy has been invited by the leading citizens of Bethel to deliver in that town a course of lectures on the Holy Land, embodying his recollections of travels in Palestine.

☞ A contemporary thinks that the effect of the Chicago company's visit upon militia will be to make them drill more and drink less. That might very likely produce a different system of manœuvres.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Carlos Stuart, a recent editor of the News, has issued a new Breckinridge paper called the "Volunteer."

Richard Bavendman, a German, was arrested yesterday, for a murder committed at the Five Points a year ago. His accuser is a woman who was present when the murder was committed.

☞ News from England to July 19.

In the House of Lords, in a debate on the Savoy question, the annexation of Savoy to France was generally denounced.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Gladstone made a financial statement, proposing to levy an immediate duty of one shilling and eleven pence per gallon on ardent spirits, which was agreed to.

Sanguinary conflicts are reported to have taken place near Messina between the Neapolitans and the advanced guard of the Sicilian army. Garibaldi had expelled Farini and two others from Sicily for conspiring against order.

Farini is said to have had full power from Sardinia to assume the title of Royal Commissioner as soon as annexation was announced.

The number of Christians massacred in Syria is said to be nearly 8000. 151 villages have been destroyed, and sickening details of the barbarities inflicted on all ages and sexes are given.

AFFAIRS OF NEW GRANADA.—Washington, July 29.—Mr. Pombo, the New Granadian Charge d'Affaires, arrived on Saturday, bringing a second copy of the Cass-Herran treaty, with the ratification by his Government. Although he has power to exchange ratifications, he declines doing so at present, they being of no utility until a Commissioner is appointed by Congress.

Gen. Jones, our Minister to Bogota, is very popular in New Granada. The settlement of the difficulties in New Granada between the Revolutionists and the Government is considered merely as a question of time. The most popular and richest States are supporting General Herran and the Government.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Abbott, Oct. 6, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, add so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. THE CHRONICLE.

The present number of the Daily Morning Chronicle completes the 6th year of its publication; and, as usual with us on such occasions, we improve the opportunity to say a few words concerning ourselves, or rather our enterprise—experiment of publishing a Daily paper in Portsmouth. That this has succeeded, in some degree at least, is evident from the fact that it has been so long continued—notwithstanding the doubts and fears of its best friends, and the prognostications of more than almost everybody, at the outset.

We might content ourselves with simply thanking our patrons for the long and liberal support they have given us, and assuring them that while we have, through their aid, succeeded in placing the Chronicle on a firm and substantial basis, yet we shall spare no efforts to render it still more acceptable and valuable (to them individually, and so to ourselves in the aggregate result:) but we are sure that those readers who have been sufficiently interested in the paper to continue on our subscription list year after year, will not object to a few remarks, concerning its success and prospects at this time.

Besides, or perhaps in consequence of, being a matter of general interest to all the really alive persons in a community, the establishment of a newspaper is a great convenience at times to almost everybody; and a town is esteemed, in some degree, according to the number and character of its newspapers, as of its churches, school-houses and hotels—the respectability of these institutions being always considered in judging of the place.

And while in the great cities the publishing of a paper is almost exclusively a question of how much money can be made by it; in a small town, the newspaper, if acceptable at all to the people, (whether Weekly or Daily, according to the field to be occupied) is of necessity a source of far more convenience and accommodation to the public, than of profit to the publisher—as is also true with regard to other enterprises, on account of the comparatively limited support possible to attain. The Chronicle has always received the liberal support of the business men of the city, almost to a man; but large as our list is in Portsmouth, there are many men (not a few of whom have expressed approbation of our paper and wishes for its prosperity, and more who evince that same in a queer manner by reading it as constantly as if they did their share toward paying for it,) who should contribute their yearly mite to the support of the Chronicle—always provided that they deem it worthy and desirable to be continued. We don't know that we shall not print our Daily eight years longer, if we live and succeed as well as heretofore; but if any such person, who is able thus to invest $4 a year, fails to do so, he certainly does not "do what he can" to aid an enterprise he professes an interest in. We have no doubt there are many in the city—who borrow the reading of the paper—who would have said, had the Chronicle failed to succeed, that they would rather have paid $10 a year than that should happen; and who yet have never enrolled themselves on our list, or else have sooner or later become tired of paying their $4 per year, and so left the ranks.

We are blaming nobody, and asking no especial favors of any; but all those citizens who really wish such a Daily paper as ours to be printed in Portsmouth, should each do something besides talk in its favor.

We have as large a Daily list as we ever expected to have when we began the paper, and a Weekly list that we never expected to have, but were importuned into starting; and our receipts have been double what we ever hoped for, while our expenses have also been larger than we counted on. On the whole, our experiment has succeeded, though we worked too hard for it, and have not always received encouragement where we had a right to expect it.

We will close by thanking all patrons for their favors; and invite all others to become such, who would like to see the Chronicle continued indefinitely. The price is as low as the paper can be afforded for; and the more subscribers we have, of course the better we can make it.

☞ Uncle Toby thinks the fine rain of Sunday night must have settled the Water Question, as well as filled the water bogs-heads, and set all the washerwomen to work. By the way, plenty of water, from the skies or elsewhere, is a desideratum.—The fine spring, therefore, on the P. & C. Railroad track ought to be made available to our people, by some movement of law or gospel, between the two corporations that have the water in suit.

And in the mean time, each house that has a water cistern should keep it in repair; and the city would do well to replace a few of the old town pumps.

☞ The town of Kittery have passed a by-law, forbidding any cattle to be driven in there from this State. The new law in Maine gives them the power to make such by-laws. A heavy fine is attached to the law.

☞ The now amendments to the City Charter, (which we published on Saturday,) provide that if the Mayor neglects or refuses to sign or return any bill to the Board of Aldermen for fourteen days, it becomes a law the same as if he signed it—so there can be no more pocketing of ordinances or resolutions.

The selection of Engineers is to be taken from the Firemen, and that of Superintendent of City Farm from the Overseers of the Poor, and both given to the Mayor and Aldermen—and if they fail to elect any officers within thirty days of the first Tuesday in January, then the City Council shall elect the same.

This act was passed July 4th, and if officers for the present year are not elected within thirty days of that time, (by Aug. 3,) the City Council, (both Boards in Convention,) will elect. This is the only proper way to elect officers at any time—and there is no good reason why the Common Council should not have a voice in this and all other public matters.

☞ On and after to-morrow, we intend to Chronicle all the Births in this vicinity, of which we have authentic information.—So if you want your babies printed, just fetch 'em on. The Keene Sentinel, we believe, is the only paper in New Hampshire which publishes births; and they have done it for a long time—to the general acceptation of the people.

☞ Mr. Nathan P. Martin has furnished us with a box of the finest English Gooseberries we have ever seen. On a little patch of garden he raises berries and flowers of all sorts.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator, (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so splendid yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Farmers, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who from dissipation, too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all these feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the care-worn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the approach of morning.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and bowling saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet and pure milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—the freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

GROVER & BAKER S. M. CO.

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that the preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Diseases in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOUS, SALT RHEUM, MENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued influence of nervous exhaustion, or energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long and so ridiculously misled as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if raised from premature graves, to which their friends had long consigned them. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, supposed to have extensive, ulcerical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, in single form or complex, Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iron, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedial restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVER, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with cheerful disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to LEARNING TO SWIM.—The best plan for learners, whether in fresh or salt water, is to attach a cord to a tree, or boat, or the machine; or if these are not available, get a companion to hold the end of the cord on shore. With the cord tied around the arm or waist, let the beginner walk out till the water is up to his chin, and then turn around and face the shore. He may even back out a little farther when he will find the force of the water taking him off his legs, and he will then find no difficulty in making a few strokes, even at the first attempt. In fact, by holding the head well up, which necessarily expands the chest, he will find he cannot help himself from swimming or rather floating; and by gently thrusting out, and drawing in the hands and feet, exactly in imitation of the movement of a frog in the water, he will accomplish more in two or three days than in as many weeks with the corks or blackers—that is he will have more confidence in himself, and know more of the power of the water to sustain him on its surface.

A better knowledge of this he will have by keeping his back to the shore till out in deep water as far as he can go; then throwing back his head, expanding his chest, making, as it were, a curve with the back, and allowing the legs to float outward and from under him, he will find that his companion on shore could draw him completely in without sinking. A few such experiments, and then he might by gentle action of the hands and feet, work himself on shore. With the cord, the young beginner will have no fear, saving for a few mouthfuls of water, and these he will not care about as long as he learns to swim.

LINCOLN'S PORTRAIT.—Some enterprising publishers recently issued a life-size lithographic portrait of Mr. Lincoln, the Republican candidate for the Presidency, and it is so ugly that it gives great offence to the political friends of Mr. L. We have examined the picture at a distance, for we had not the temerity to go too near, and must confess that if Mr. Lincoln looks "like that," he must have won the title of "rail splitter" by merely smiling at the butt end of the straight-grained logs, using a horse-collar to grin through in case the knots were more than usually tough and plentiful. In fact, the old adage of "handsome is who handsome does," will not apply to old Abe, for he never could be handsome any way you can fix it. This picture of old Abe makes him appear as if his features were composed of the sweepings of a Western gouging match, where no eye, or cheek, or lip were of the same size, yet all huddled together higgledy-piggledy, making up a physiognomy that is fearful to behold. If old Abe is ever elected President, he will never adorn the White House, that's certain; we would respectfully suggest that if it is his fate to be Chief Magistrate, that at the West room levees the guests be provided with cut glass prisms, which might by their distortion bring old Abe's features into something not altogether repulsive. If this is impossible, then he must adopt the Japanese Tycoon style, and give audience behind a screen.—Spirit of the Times

THE TOMATO AS FOOD.—Dr. Bennett, a professor of some celebrity, considers the tomato an invaluable article of diet, and ascribes to it various important medical properties. First, that the tomato is one of the most powerful aperients of the liver and other organs; where calomel is indicated, it is probably one of the most effective and least harmful remedial agents known to the profession. Second, that a chemical extract will be obtained from it that will supercede the use of calomel in the cure of disease. Third, that he has successfully treated diarrochea with this article alone. Fourth, that when used as an article of diet it is an almost sovereign remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion.—Fifth, that it should be constantly used for daily food, either cooked or raw, or in the form of catsup; it is the most healthy article now in use.

THE PLACE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.—An enthusiastic doctor writing from Pike's Peak advises consumptives to forsake sea coasts and watering places—the common graveyards of consumptives—and spend a summer among the Rocky Mountains, where they can get fresh and genuine bear's flesh, (grease and all,) which, he says, is better for consumption than all the cod liver oil in the world. "Here and here alone," he says "we verily believe, this mournfully interesting class of patients will find the long sought for elixir vita.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and skin; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my wagon against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, to every, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since the early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1860.

UNIVERSAL STATISTICS.—The fourth session of the International Statistical Congress was opened in London on the 16th.—Delegates were present from all parts of the world. Judge Tougberst and Mr. Lawrence represented the United States. Mr. Dallas, the American minister, was also present, in the midst of numerous distinguished guests.

Prince Albert, President of the Congress, delivered an appropriate inaugural address. After the address the following little incident occurred: Lord Brougham, seeing the American minister was present, said he hoped Mr. Dallas would forgive him for reminding him that there was a negro present as a member of the Congress. This gave rise to loud laughter and cheering.—Mr. Dallas made no sign in response, but the negro in question, a Dr. Delany, arose and returned his thanks for the kind allusion which had been made to him, and assured all present that he too was a man.—This was greeted with renewed cheering from all parts of the hall.

In the House of Lords, on the 17th, Lord Brougham called attention to the case of the colored lady recently refused a first-class passage on a Cunard steamer on the ground of color, and said there was no doubt damages could have been recovered if the matter had not been compromised.

Lord Woodhouse confirmed the news that 500 Christians had been massacred in Damascus, and that all the Consulate houses with the exception of the British had been burned.

LIGHTNING.—On Saturday morning last, during a thunder storm, a stroke of lightning passed down the conductor attached to the residence of John B. Briggs, in Preble, N. Y., and through the ground into the cellar, where Miss Lois Hulburt and Mr. Chas. Fox were engaged in skimming and straining milk. The fluid struck Miss Hurlburt on her side, tearing her apron into shreds, passed through her dress and under her clothes—melting one of her hoops—to her hip, thence down her leg, tearing her stocking on one side in places from one half to one inch apart until it reached the heel, when it entirely destroyed that portion of her hose, and rent her shoe into numberless pieces. Strange to say, the lady escaped with comparatively little injury. She was, of course, rendered senseless, but only for a short time. The only perceptible effect, she says, is a black line down the limb, and a slight lameness. Young Fox, standing about ten feet from Miss Hurlburt, was, he thinks, hit by a ball of fire on the hip on the opposite side from where she was standing; he was knocked down, but recovered in a very short time.

A house near Pleasant Home, Ky., was struck by lightning, last week, and a man and his daughter were struck, but not killed. Their escape was miraculous, for the lightning melted a knife in the pocket of the man, and burnt the hair from the head of the girl.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP A DAM.—An attempt was made on Friday night last to blow up the dam of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co., at Manchester, N. H., by sinking a can filled with powder, to which a fuse was attached, under the dam. In lowering the can it got jammed, and wet the powder so that it would not ignite, and thus the villainous attempt was frustrated. This makes the second unsuccessful attempt, within a year, to destroy this dam by parties who have an animosity against the Amoskeag Co., because that corporation does not see fit to pay an exorbitant sum demanded of them on account of alleged land damages caused by flowage. It is to be hoped that the originators of this last attempt will be detected.

THE MILK OF HUMAN KINDNESS.—Mr. Wm. F. Libby and wife, occupants of a "sweet little cottage nestling by the roadside," in East Chelmsford, were visited last Friday evening by about seventy-five persons from the Hamilton Corporation of Lowell, in which Mr. Libbey is an overseer, and surprised by the donation of a very handsome red cow, neatly decorated with evergreens.

THE PIGEON AND FROG TRADE.—The Grand Rapids (Michigan) Eagle says the Express Company of that place have carried to market during the season 108,855 pounds of pigeons, valued at $23,520, and the freight on which amounted to $3489.—There are 500 pigeons in a barrel. Many are consumed at home and in the neighboring markets, which do not come into the hands of the express men. There were also forwarded from Grand Rapids 1200 dozen frogs.

☞ A letter from Hayti says the immigrants from New Orleans are doing well in the culture of cotton on the plains of the Artibonite. Twenty-four cotton gins were in operation in that quarter.

☞ The New York Herald having accused Forney's Press of working secretly for Lincoln, the Press states distinctly that the editor will vote for Douglas, and says, that "the course of the Press in opposing Breckinridge and the fusion electoral ticket in this State, which, according to the disunion papers themselves, must, if elected, go for Breckinridge alone, is sustained by eight-tenths of the democratic party of Pennsylvania."

The New York Evening Post recommends the introduction of the military drill into the public schools. In some of the best private academies of New York it has altogether taken the place of unregulated gymnastics, and with the best possible results.—Boston Post.

Fifty years ago, or more, (says the Salem Gazette,) Master Dodge amused and interested his boys, in their times of school recess, by forming them into company, and marching, wheeling, counter-marching, changing front, and other simple evolutions.

☞ A letter from Chicago (July 21) thus speaks of politics:

We are perfectly confident of carrying the Northwest—Illinois by a decisive majority. Lincoln is at home, attending to the reading of letters which he has neither time nor inclination to answer. Their number is a peck a day, and though none of them contain downright applications for office, he is astonished to read of the great number of men to whom he is indebted for the position he occupies. The "original" Lincoln man is ubiquitous; he lives in every Northern State, and has near relatives over the border.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says:

Secretary Thompson yesterday headed the Breckinridge subscription list with $500. Postmaster General Holt indignantly refused to subscribe a cent. Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet, therefore, does not seem to be a unit.

☞ The Maine Son of Temperance is a new and very neat paper, devoted to the interests of the Order and of the cause of Temperance. The paper is published in Portland, every Saturday. It promises to be neither sectarian nor partizan; we doubt not, honestly. But if it should run one year, and not offend some sect or party, it would be a wonder of the world.

☞ On the 30th of July the people at Halifax, N. S. had a visit from Prince of Wales, and gave him a grand reception, with arches, salutes, and a great procession of military, firemen, and various societies. One good omission they made, viz. they did not drag round the children, but the account says,—"at the corner of the parade ground was a gallery containing thirty-five hundred school-children dressed in white and blue, who sung national anthems."

☞ Van Wert, President of the bogus Stillwater Bank, at Winsted, Conn., who passed counterfeit money at Otis, Becket and vicinity, has been sentenced to the State Prison for six years; he attempted to play insane, but Judge Rockwell told him it was no use, and he got better immediately and plead guilty to all the charges.

☞ A French paper says that a fierce persecution has broken out against the Christians in Cochin China. Their villages have been destroyed. Some of their priests are in custody, awaiting death; the missionaries are hiding in the woods, and the whole Christian population has been dispersed. No cause for this sudden outbreak is assigned.

COMMOTION IN THE GREEK CHURCH. There is at present a tremendous religious ferment in Bulgaria and Roumelia, and it is by no means unlikely that there will be a grand schism in the Greek church. In the neighborhood of Seres no fewer than 20,000 orthodox Greeks have thrown off the supremacy of the Patriarch at Constantinople and joined the United Greeks, who recognize the Pope as their spiritual chief.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. Cushing, wife of Joseph Cushing, says the Skowhegan Telegan Telegraph, who lives in this village, on the Bloomfield side, died on Monday night, of cole, supposed to have been induced by cherries, of which she had eaten freely the Saturday night before, swallowing the stones.

U. S. AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—The premium list of the U. S. Agricultural Fair, to be holden at Cincinnati, amounts to $30,000, including large prizes for horses, portable and stationary steam engines, steam ploughs and steam fire engines. A gold medal of honor is offered for the best threshing machine.

☞ A noble building for the Yale College Scientific School is on the point of completion at New Haven, at a cost of $50,000—the entire property being a gift from Joseph E. Sheffield, Esq.

☞ The receipts from pew rent alone in Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's church, Brooklyn, for the present year will be $30,000. At Starr King's church in San Francisco the amount is about $20,000.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—There is reason to believe that the Paraguayan commission have concluded that Paraguay is not responsible for the indemnity to the United States and Paraguay Navigation Company, which claims damages to the amount of nearly a million dollars.

The U. S. frigate Savannah has been ordered to the Mediterranean.

The U. S. steamer Richmond would have been ordered to Syria if she could have been prepared in time for service in the Mediterranean.

Official dispatches from Utah state that one hundred army revolvers and eight thousand cartridges were furnished by the Adjutant General to defend the riders of the Pony Express from the Indians.

The difficulties relating to the House Printing are amicably adjusted. Gov. Ford returned to-day, and the parties in the controversy have agreed upon a settlement.—Mr. Pangborn, whose authority is recognized, remains as the legal representative and agent of Ford, to superintend the business, and Larcombe & English are to execute the printing. The House printing will now be speedily executed, and the 40,000 copies of the Covode report will be immediately distributed.

NEW YORK ITEMS, July 30.—Two girls have confessed that they assisted one Bavadam in murdering a Spaniard in Baxter street some time since. Bavadam is under arrest.

A cannon was prematurely discharged on board the schooner Montgomery, while saluting the Great Eastern this afternoon, seriously injuring three of the crew.

The steamship Great Eastern left for Cape May this afternoon with about 1200 passengers.

TORNADO AND LOSS OF LIFE IN NEW JERSEY.—At Cooper's Point, N. J., Thursday afternoon, about a quarter before 3 o'clock, dark clouds appeared in the southwest, and indications were apparent of a coming storm. The workmen of Messrs. Potts & Klett, (manufacturing chemists,) to the number of eight, were engaged in and about a large building at Cooper's Point, one mile above Camden. The building was a new one. The men, warned by the fall of a few drops of rain, collected together under the shelter of the tenement.

They were engaged in talking and spending their leisure time. Suddenly there was a blinding flash of lightning, a peal of thunder and a blast of air. The three were simultaneous, and in an instant the immense building, two hundred feet long by thirty-six feet wide, was a mass of ruins.

Beneath the fallen timbers were the former occupants (the men); of these three were killed and three were seriously injured. All were workmen in the employ of Potts & Klett.

The building destroyed was built with walls twenty two inches in thickness below, and eighteen inches above, and the floors were calculated to resist a pressure of one thousand tons. The building was two stories in height.

At half past 11 o'clock last night, the report was so current as to render it beyond doubt, that death had relieved one of the injured men, and that another was almost beyond recovery.—Phila. Inquirer.

Samuel C. Paxson, Esq., a leading merchant, died on Thursday in New York. He was President of the Produce Exchange Company, and Director of several Insurance Companies. Mr. Paxson was preparing for an excursion to Pennsylvania, to leave on Thursday, at 3 o'clock P.M. At 12 o'clock of that day, in the enjoyment of his usual good health, he took a hot bath, warmer no doubt than was prudent, and feeling languid after it, threw himself upon the bed for a few moments rest. Just before one o'clock his wife called to him and found him insensible. At seven in the evening he died from congestion of the brain. Mr. Paxson was 57 years of age.

BIG LUNGS.—A cow belonging to Mr. Peckham, of Petersham, being diseased, but not very strongly suspected of pleuro pneumonia, was killed last Monday, and subjected to a post mortem examination. The lungs were badly diseased and greatly enlarged; they weighed sixty-four pounds. Dr. Tyler and one of the commissioners, who examined the lungs, decided that the disease was not the regular cattle plague.—Worcester Spy.

A COMICAL INCIDENT.—The following paragraph has been handed us by an eye-witness of the proceedings of the Douglasites on Saturday night. We give it as it was given to us: During the procession last Saturday evening, owing to the indiscretion of one of the marshals, a portion of the torches were extinguished. The marshal in question yelled out, "Pat, your torch is bustin'. Throw it away." Instantly one hundred and fifty torches fell to the ground, for each and every man rejoicing in the popular cognomen of Patrick, considered himself personally appealed.—Wisconsin State Journal

IN FRANCE, the latest accounts from the crops were re-assuring, and a good average yield was expected. The fall in the Paris flour and wheat markets had made further progress.

☞ The sixty-three rioters arrested at St. Louis for raising a moral tornado round several disorderly houses, on the night of the 25th, were the next day fined $5 each by the Recorder.

☞ The Brockfort Advertiser announces the removal of Mr. Sheldon of Albion, from the post of general mail agent, and the appointment of Mr. Joseph Dresser.—Reason: Mr. Sheldon goes for Douglas.

☞ The Charleston Mercury denies that it has ever objected to Breckinridge and Lane as being too sectional. On the contrary, it thinks them just about sectional enough.

INTERESTING INTELLIGENCE FOR THE LADIES.

By the latest arrival from the 'Court of Fashion,' Paris, the ladies receive the satisfactory intelligence that Hoop Skirts not only remain in vogue, but several new and beautiful styles have recently been introduced to the beau monde. From the many novel descriptions of Skirts that have just appeared in Paris, Messrs. W. S. & C. H. Thompson & Co., of New York, have received several of the most elegant and recherche designs, which they have already placed in the market for 1860. Among the most remarkable skirts of this firm's manufacture, we notice the 'Eugenia Paris Gore,' the 'Constitution,' the 'Southern Queen,' the 'Fairy,' the 'Parisian Train,' and the 'Zephyr,' which the ladies throughout the entire country will not fail to appreciate, as in their construction the manufacturers have studied to produce, and have succeeded, skirts which combine lightness, durability, and elegance. The Messrs. Thomson, we understand, have recently patented the "wedge slide," used by them exclusively, and which materially add to the excellence of their Skirts, making them, indeed, superior to those of all other manufacturers. The trial already given to their "corrugated springs," as shown in their daily use in skirts for months past, has conclusively proved their superiority over all springs heretofore introduced.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will so certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:

Dyspeptics, read!

Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents.—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, and so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it.—After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.

From a highly respected physician in Maine

South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure when other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours,

KITTERY is one of the most beautifully situated towns in this vicinity; and the ride to it—though the roads are not the best in the world—presents the most varied and enchanting views, especially of water scenery. Strangers visiting Portsmouth—(and very many of our own citizens are strangers to the beauties unfolded by a trip a mile or two into Maine)—we say visitors in this city ought not to miss seeing Kittery.—Whether you go by land or water, a complete kaleidescope view of the loveliest face of nature is constantly presented—from the time of leaving the wharf or crossing the bridge at Noble's Island.

Should you take the land route, don't fail to call at the Navy Yard, one way, where is much to attract, of natural beauty and architectural display; and be sure and visit Rogers' fine Nurseries, and return through Love Lane, the most "truly rural" drive about here—grass grown and shaded as if in a primeval forest. The boat-ride thither is also full of the most varied enjoyment for the lover of the beautiful and picturesque in nature.

Prominent objects of interest, take either mode of conveyance, after passing the Navy Yard, are the fine residences of Mr. Traip, near the Yard; and of Mr. Austin, a mile below—both charmingly located on the banks of the river, or, more properly speaking, on an arm of the sea.

Were it not for the bridges, with their concomitants of toll, railroad, draws, &c., Kittery would be a most popular place of summer residence and resort. The scenery is certainly not equalled by any other locality near us, and we have rarely seen it excelled anywhere, — for close study or distant view. As you ride or sail along, different views of the Navy Yard and other beautiful islands in the harbor are afforded, with New Castle, the forts, light-houses, the Shoals, and a glorious ocean view; and Kittery Point as the goal—where the softest velvet lawns, and the most luxurious shade trees, invite to grateful repose and protection from mid-day sun.

Rev. Mr. Austin, as is well known, has one of the finest country-seats in this vicinity; and lives in the scholastic ease befitting a gentleman of his ample means and refined tastes. He has recently erected another handsome dwelling, (as yet unoccupied,) a short distance below his own residence, on the opposite side of the road, near Kittery Point Bridge; and the inhabitants of the town may well congratulate themselves on the acquisition of a resident possessing so much public spirit, and desire as well as ability to make such extensive and important improvements.

We intended but to make a few remarks on what we saw and enjoyed while on a brief business drive to Kittery Foreside, a day or two since. We had really forgotten that there was so much to be seen thereabouts; and regretted that we could not spare time to cross the bridge to the Point—the actual and traditional attractions of which are more widely known. The Gerrish House is not opened as a hotel or boarding house this season—the more's the pity, for it is one of the most delightful "watering-places" on the coast; but our old friend and correspondent, A. J. Penhallow, Esq., who occupies the old Sparhawk mansion, still sounds the praises of Kittery Point; while the Pepperell House and associate matters of interest yet cluster below. We repeat, don't fail to visit Kittery.

☞ This is a fine season for the fruits of the earth. In the last 50 years, green peas have not been so plentiful, nor so cheap in this market; good fresh peas retailing at ten cents a peck.—The quality was never better.

Leonard Cotton, Esq., has sent us 10 Apples, gathered July 27; in diameter 2 feet and 1 inch; girth 6 feet 3 inches; grown in his garden. Also three Jackson White Potatoes, girth 26 inches;—grown on his wharf!

WILD GUESSING.—A Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Traveller, speaking of the Sons of Temperance, says:—

There is work enough for them to do in this the "quiet city by the sea," where nearly a hundred liquor shops are in full blast.

There have not been 100 liquor shops, nor anything near it, in Portsmouth, at any one time in the last 18 years.—An actual count, only a few weeks ago, gave 65, including taverns, shops and stores.

APPOINTMENTS FOR NEXT SUNDAY.—Rev. Mr. Hood of Nottingham will preach at Kittery Point.

Rev. Mr. Miller will preach at Nottingham.

Rev. Mr. Patterson of this city will preach at Newington, at half past 5 o'clock P. M.

☞ The old Methodist Society of this city hold their annual Summer Picnic in the fine grove near New Market Junction, to-day—cars leaving Portsmouth at half past 8. A very agreeable and social way of passing a day in the woods.

☞ See chance to buy a small Schooner at a low rate to-day—in auction column.

☞ In order to make the necessary arrangements for the Rockingham Fair, which is to be held in Portsmouth Sept. 19th and 20th, funds to the amount of $500 are required. The subscription paper is to be circulated this week; and as the advantages of holding the County Fair here are so apparent, there will probably be little difficulty in collecting the sum named. There are but about twenty life-members in this city; and it is desirable that this number be much increased before the approaching meeting of the Trustees to appoint Committees, &c. The paying of $5 constitutes life membership; and it can hardly be possible that the list here cannot be greatly extended.

THE CROPS IN MAINE.—Farmers from Maine say that the hay harvest will only be about half as large as last year, but better quality, and containing much more gum and nutritive matter. There has been no long and severe rain storms in Maine, since the one which occurred in September last, at the time of the State Cattle Show. As a consequence the streams are very low and the pastures dry.

Grain is doing well, the cool and dry weather favoring it, the Indian corn also looks well and is quite forward for the season. Potatoes never looked better, and as yet show no signs of rot. There will be a fair crop of apples notwithstanding a large quantity have fallen from the trees.—Portland Advertiser.

PSALMODY.—"A dinna ken what's to be the up-shot now; a see in the Scotsman that Garibaldi was destroying Palermo last Sunday," said a Harwick newsmonger to his wife the other day. She replied indignantly—"Deed a think the're vera scarce o' news, for a'm shure oor precentor destroys Palamo amidst every time he attempts to sing it, and that's about every other Sabbath-day." [Balerma is the nane of a favorite Scotch Presbyterian psalm tune.]—Border Advertiser.

Archibald Dixon, the Whig U. S. Senator from Kentucky in 1854, who seduced and bullied Douglas into his movement for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, has now joined the Democrats, but turns his back on Douglas and goes for Breckinridge. Could there be anything more ungrateful?—Portland Advertiser.

It is a fact little known, that for the first five years of our government, the United States Senate always sat in secret. The first time the doors were open for public discussion was on the coutest as to the right of Albert Gallatin to a seat in the Senate. This seat was contested on the ground that Mr. Gallatin, had not been, as the Constitution required, nine years a citizen of the United States.

NOT EXACTLY A FRAGMENT OF A METEOR.—It is now stated that the branch broken from a tree in Cambridge, which was announced in some of the newspapers as having been probably caused by the fall of a fragment of a meteor, was the result of too heavy a crop of fruit.—Traveller.

OREGON.—Official returns elect Shiel, Democrat, as Congressman. The Legislature is as heretofore reported.

The overland mail of the 18th, going East, took out upward of 150,000 letters.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Mr. Fowler's buildings, on Nassau street, were partially destroyed by fire last night. Loss $50,000.

NEW ORLEANS, July 30.—Two abolitionists have been hung in Texas for distributing arms and inciting slaves to rebellion.

PHOTOGRAPHIC NEWS.

Mr. A. GREGORY respectfully informs his friends, and the public generally, that he has reopened his GALLERY,

NO. 33 CONGRESS STREET,

which has just been tastefully renovated and improved, and, with sincere thanks to the many patrons who have appreciated his efforts to produce work creditable to the PHOTOGRAPHIC ART, he hopes to merit a continuance of the same. He has made an improved arrangement of his LIGHT, which, with the advantage of Fifteen Years' Practice, enables him to produce work that cannot be surpassed.

"As one star differeth from another star in glory," so does one Picture differ from another in brilliancy and perfection. Those wanting any style of AMBROTYPES or Photographic Work will find that his prices are LOWER than Boston for the quality of pictures. jy3

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practical ly tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PASSED JUNE SESSION, 1860.

AN ACT concerning contagious diseases among cattle.

Be it enacted, &c. SECTION 1. That the several cities in this State, by a vote of their respective city councils, and the several towns of this State, by major vote, at any town meeting, duly notified and legally holden for that purpose, be, and they hereby are, empowered to establish such regulations, appoint such officers or agents, and raise and appropriate such sums of money, for the purpose of preventing, arresting the spread, or circumscribing the effect of the cattle disease, called the pleuro-pneumonia, as they may judge expedient.

SEC. 2. Any town meeting, to carry out the provisions of this act, may be warned by posting up copies of the warrant therefor, as required by law, four days before the day of meeting.

SEC. 3. The selectmen of the several towns, and the mayor and aldermen of the several cities in this State for the time being, are hereby fully authorized and empowered to perform all acts, and make all necessary rules and regulations for and in behalf of their towns and cities respectively, which may be necessary to carry into effect and give full force to the power and authority conferred upon towns and cities by this act, until the said towns and cities shall otherwise order and direct, at a meeting duly called and holden for that purpose.

SEC. 4. The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, shall appoint and commission three Commissioners, whose duty it shall be to make and establish, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council, such regulations in regard to the transit of cattle into, through, or from the State, and from town to town within this State, as they shall, from time to time, judge salutary to enable the owners of healthy cattle to dispose of them, which regulations they shall cause to be published in the weekly newspapers published in this State. And said regulations, from time to time, as there may be occasion, may be altered, amended, suspended or rescinded by the same authority which adopted them, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council.

SEC. 5. Said Commissioners shall collect information and make investigations concerning the existence and progress of such disease in this State, and once in three months, or as often as requested by the Governor, shall make a report to him; which report, or any part thereof, he may cause to be published in any of, or all the newspapers published in this State.

SEC. 6. The Governor may, by and with the advice and consent of the Council, terminate said commission, till vacancies in said board, or remove any of the members thereof, at his discretion.

SEC. 7. Nothing in this act shall prevent the transportation of cattle by railroad to market, except in violation of the regulations made and established by the Commissioners by virtue of this act.

SEC. 8. Any person violating the provisions of this act, or any of the regulations made and established by the towns and cities of the State, or by the Commissioners, by virtue of this act, shall be punished by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars for every such offence.

SEC. 9. If any person or persons shall sell or exchange any cattle or creature which he or they know, or have reason to believe, are or have sick with the cattle disease commonly called the pleuro-pneumonia, he or they shall pay a fine of one hundred dollars, to be recovered by information, one-third to the complainant, and two-thirds to the towns where such offence is committed, and shall be further liable to pay to the injured party three times the amount paid for such diseased cattle or creature.

SEC. 10. All prosecutions for violations of this act shall be commenced within one year after the same are committed.

SEC. 11. The Governor and Council are hereby empowered to fix the compensation of said Commissioners, and to audit and pay the expenses incident to the fulfillment of their duties, not exceeding in the whole the sum of one thousand dollars, and draw his warrant on the State treasury for the same.

SEC. 12. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved, July 3, 1860.

AN ACT in relation to married women.

Be it enacted &c., SECTION 1. That every married woman shall hold to her own use, free from the interference or control of her husband, all property inherited by, bequeathed, given or conveyed to her, provided such conveyance, gift or bequest is not occasioned by payment or pledge of the property of the husband.

SEC. 2. Any married woman whose husband is insane, or has joined any religious society which professes to believe in the relation of husband and wife unlawful, may petition the Supreme Judicial Court to have the estate, real, personal or mixed, of the husband set off to her, and the court shall order such notice thereon as they may think reasonable: and upon hearing parties interested therein may assign to her such part of real, personal or mixed estate of the husband as may be deemed just and expedient; and the estate so assigned to her shall be held by the wife to her sole and separate use, so long as such husband shall continue insane, or connected with such religious society.

SEC. 3. The last will and testament of any married woman, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards of sound mind, executed with the formalities and in the manner required for the execution of wills in other cases, shall be proved and allowed in the court of probate in the same manner as the wills of other persons deceased, and shall be valid and effectual as against the heirs at law of such married women to pass any estate therein devised, of which she in her own right, may be seized to any devisee in fee, or to the same manner as if such woman were sole and unmarried at the time of making such will; and her husband may be a devisee in the same manner as any other person. But no such will shall in any way operate to limit or affect injuriously the life estate of the husband as tenant by the curtesy.

Any married woman, holding property to her sole and separate use, free from the interference or control of her husband, may sue and be sued in her own name, as though sole, in all matters pertaining to said property, and upon all debts contracted by her before her marriage.

AN ACT in amendment of chapter 1658 of the Pamphlet Laws.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c., That no indictment shall be found for any violation of the act to which this is an amendment, unless the offence was committed less than one year prior to the first day of the term of the court at which such indictment is found.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved, June 27, 1860.

AN ACT in relation to the powers and duties of county commissioners.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved, July 4, 1860.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its comforts. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the absence of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

From the very flattering manner in which our Machines have been received by the public, resulting in the sale of

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Rev. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their Box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAIRN.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a household, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S
PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued pollution of the system by mucous poisoning from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous or cancerous critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise (which the physician knows by no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of breath and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, the remedy has spared the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy, safe and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects,—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition to active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to RELIGIOUS MUSIC.

Let me suggest the very great importance of the cultivation of religious music. Every family should be trained to it; every Sunday or common school should have it as one of its exercises. The Moravians have it as a kind of ordinance of grace for their children; not without reason, for the powers of feeling and imagination, and the sense of spiritual realities are developed as much by a training of childhood in religious music, as by any other means.

We complain that choirs and organs take the music to themselves, in our churches, and that nothing is left to the people, but to hear their undistinguishable piping, which no one else can join, or follow, or interpret. This must always be the complaint, till the congregations themselves have exercise enough in singing to make the performance theirs. As soon as they are able to throw in masses of sound that are not barbarous but Christian, and have a right enjoyment of their feeling in it, they will have the tunes and the style of the exercise in their own way—not before.

Entering one day, the great church of Jesus in Rome, when all the vast area of the pavement was covered with worshippers on their knees, chanting in full voice, led by the organ, their confession of penitence and praise to God, I was impressed, as never before, with the essential sublimity of this rite of worship, and I could not but wish that our people were trained to a similar exercise. The more sorrowful is it that in our present defect of culture, there are so many voices which are more incapable of the right distinctions of sound than things without life, and which, when they attempt to sing, contribute more to the feeling of woe than of praise. * * * *

The highest idea of church music is, with most people, that to which they have been accustomed. There is a certain set of tunes with which they are familiar and these they would like to hear constantly repeated. It is indeed no real improvement, when the solid old tunes of ancient composers are all set aside, to make way for the lighter and more fanciful music of the day. But it can hardly be expected that that our choirs should be content to travel the same round of familiar chants and tunes, month after month, and year after year; and every individual should try to remember that there are other tastes to be consulted beside his own. * * * *

Parishes must also be willing generously to contribute "material aid," if we would materially advance the art of sacred music; there must be a sufficient pecuniary inducement held out to persons of musical taste, to induce them to discipline and cultivate their powers. In former years there has existed a strong prejudice against the practice of music as a profession, and one was looked upon as throwing away his life, if he devoted his time exclusively to this science.—With just as much propriety, we might object to the profession of a sculptor, or painter, or the practice of any ornamental trade. We often make an improper distiction between the elegant and the useful, as if the ornaments of life had not their use. Music is something more than an elegant accomplishment, it is no frivolous pursuit; it ought to have, and if rightly studied, it would have, a purifying, elevating, ennobling influence upon character. It has a power, which is peculiarly its own; it can find its way where nothing else can penetrate; it can enkindle thoughts and feeling, which are impassive to every other touch; it will outlive all other arts; it is the most profound of sciences, and perhaps the only one which is essentially eternal.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, as a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
YOURS, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Prettford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 percent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1860.

IRISH EMIGRATION TO AMERICA.—Rev. Dr. Cahill, the celebrated Irish Catholic and lecturer, who is now travelling in this country, writes thus in one of his recent letters concerning Irish emigration to America:—

Washington, June 2, 1800.—Some Irish and American journals have (no doubt from honest motives) been reporting, with rather sharp comment, that I have been encouraging emigration from Ireland to this country. It is not so. * * * No; I have decidedly never encouraged Irish emigration; but as I hate the Irish poor house, and as I abhor military service in the English army, I point out the advantages of this nation in order to protect my poor persecuted countrymen from the insulting degradation of the Irish poor law, and to snatch them from the thankless cruelty with which their life and their death are treated by the ungrateful laws of the perfidious British military authorities. * * * Again, a young gentleman, or an old gentleman, has no chance here. All the public offices are obtained by vote, and hence no one but a well-known citizen can obtain them. This country is good only for the laborer or the tradesman. * * * I have been most kindly received and generously treated by the heads of the administration in this city, in acknowledgement of which I beg you will join your respect and gratitude with mine. Your faithful countryman,

D. W. CAHILL.

That is, the Dr. recommends the emigration of paupers to this country, for voters,—but not gentlemen, for they cannot get office! His thanks to the administration are no doubt well deserved.

LIGHTNING RODS.—One of the best and most practical essays on the arrangement and use of lightning rods, appears in the New Hampshire Journal of Education for August, in the Mathematical Department.

The writer notices six defects in the rods and their application to houses, viz.,—1, the rods being too small; 2, iron fastenings; 3, rods going too near metallic conducting substances; 4, rods not carried high enough; 5, rods carried too far horizontally; 6, imperfect connection with the earth.

The writer has visited the house in Seabrook, which was said to be so damaged as not to be worth repairing; but he found it being repaired! He says that rod was too small—and closes thus:

Set up near a building a pole, and put upon it a tube of tinned iron two inches in diameter, carrying it to the proper height, with points above and below, the latter terminating in a well or spring of water, and the building may be considered as safe from lightning as it is from the bullets of Garibaldi's army.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES IN SYRIA. The American Board have nine mission stations in Syria, nine out stations, eleven missionaries, one printer, thirteen female assistant missionaries, three native preachers, thirty-six teachers and other native helpers. All, or nearly all, of these missionaries were gathered at Beirut, at last accounts, having left their stations for a place of greater safety; and as Beirut is now the rendezvous of a large European naval force, no fears need be entertained for their safety.

☞ Mr. T. Munroe Cory, of the firm of Cory & Miller, tobacco factors at New Orleans, committed suicide by hanging himself on the 25th inst. Mr. Cory was a native of Providence, R. I., and forty-eight years old. He served in the Mexican war, and on his return located at New Orleans. He left a letter, in which he gave as a reason for his self-immolation, that his partner had deceived him in regard to business matters, and that he could not bear the disgrace which would result therefrom.

☞ The N. Y. Journal of Commerce is anxious for foreign intervention to stop the Syrian massacres, and closes an article on the subject thus:

O, if Oliver Cromwell were Protector of England at this time, would there not be such a stir in Constantinople as that city has not seen for three centuries! An English fleet would have passed the Dardanelles and entered the Golden Horn before now. And Abdul Medjid would soon see the walls of his seraglio knocked to atoms by British cannon, if he did not do better.

☞ The Republicans of Manchester held a spirited Meeting on Tuesday evening.—At the conclusion of the meeting, the Wide Awake Clubs, with a band of music, marched to the residence of B. F. Martin, Esq., to salute Hon. A. H. Rice of Boston, who is stopping a few days in the city. Mr. Rice was introduced to the Clubs by Judge Upton, and addressed them in a felicitous speech, which was received with the greatest enthusiasm.

WRITTEN FOR HIM.—The speeches made by the Prince of Wales are said to be written by one of his suite, the Duke of Newcastle. The young scion of royalty at least has a good memory.

☞ The Manchester American says "the census of the city develops the unexpected fact that the Catholics number a fraction over 30 per cent. of the entire population."

☞ Hon. Stephen A. Douglas had a splendid reception at Concord, on Tuesday, with a procession, four bands of music, and a great crowd of people. The Boston Herald calls them not less than 20,000.

Mr. Douglas made a political speech of an hour, which is thus reported in brief:

Mr. Douglas, after thanking the people for the cordial reception they had given him, spoke of the Lecompton Constitution. He said that the attempt to force upon an unwilling people a constitution they did not like, was violating not alone the Democratic creed but the American creed. If the people of Kansas wanted a slave State they had a right to have it. They knew that every Republican in Congress voted with him to admit Kansas as a slave State, if the people so desired. Now the Republican party denounced him for advocating the identical principles they then voted for.—The President claimed the right to control his vote, and this was the origin of their quarrel. If the President was permitted to direct Representatives how to vote, the Executive became a despot. He hoped the Lecompton controversy would be settled by the people's vote, now that it is open again on the national theatre. The President had no right to nominate his successor. Mr. Buchanan himself was nominated like the speaker (Douglas) now, against the then President, Mr. Pierce.

He would not have said this, but the President had taken the stump to divide and defeat the party that elected him. The principle he (Douglas) stood upon, was the right of the people to make their own laws and to establish institutions to suit themselves. That was the principle of the revolutionary war, and Democrats now uphold the same. Let Congress pass federal, not local and domestic laws. The people of a Territory had an equal right to self government with those of a State. They went from the old States where they had rights, and why should they lose them in the ferry boats in wich they cross the Missouri river?

The time of Congress was lost, and would be until the negro question was settled. In conclusion, he said that this was the first time in twenty-seven years he had looked on a fight without taking a hand in it. He was now enjoying a holiday, and only speaking a little, just for exercise.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Post says:—

The crowd was not nearly so large as was expected by the friends of the Honorable Senator, there not being more than two thousand strangers in the city.

CALIFORNIA ITEMS, via San Francisco, July 19.

The double nominations for President by the Democrats perplex politicians, and the party organs hesitate to support either candidate. The officials support Breckinridge. Salutes have been fired for both candidates. There will probably be two Democratic electoral tickets in the field.

The total gold coinage at the San Francisco Mint for the year was $1,900,000 in gold and $500,000 in silver.

Two Republicans have been elected to the Legislature in Washington Territory, from Cowlitz County.

British Columbia dates of the 14th state that new gold regions have been discovered in Okonagon and Inselle Counties.

Mining news is favorable.

The new "head gear," or hat, worn by half of the female creation under 35, is thus referred to by Prentice of the Louisville Journal: "This jaunty, saucy little hat and feathers, when worn by the girls is, to our way of thinking, the most becoming fashion lately hit upon. It is juvenile, and however beautiful it looks on the young, the effect is quite the contrary when worn by ladies who have the traces of forty summers on their brows. For young girls—not married women and middle aged ladies—it is the prettiest and most tasteful thing we have ever seen on their pretty heads. For all girls with passably regular features and tolerable complexions, it is the very thing." But it is "run into the ground" hereabouts by those advanced in years, and by the frightfully ugly.

☞ In Indiana, July 31st, the Breckinridge Mass Convention nominated an electoral ticket, and appointed a State Committee. The latter were advised to secure a joint electoral ticket that should cast its vote for Douglas or Breckinridge, or whichever gets the highest electoral vote in the other States. Senators Bright and Fitch were among the speakers.

☞ Mr. Douglas has been in his native town, Brandon, and in Burlington, Vermont, in which latter place he made a political speech, and towards the end of it, he said:—

He was not on a political tour, and when in his native State and in his native town, he forgot that a Presidential canvas was pending. [Laughter.]

☞ Very few people have an idea of the immense quantity of burning fluid and camphene consumed in the United States annually. The amount of the former is estimated at 24,000,000 gallons, and the latter at 6,000,000 gallons. The total value of these amounts is about $13,000,000.

WE WILL SUBDUE YOU.—This was the menace which Douglas, a few years ago, when he stood in the United States Senate backed by the united Democratic forces, proclaimed with a mien and voice of insulting triumph. We are not subdued yet; but how is it with him?—Manchester Am.

The Democratic organ in Preston, Conn., is evidently for fusion. It says: "Preston will go straight any how, whether the ticket is Douglas, Breckinridge, Bell, chowder or succotash."

☞ Jacob Little, the great New York broker, has failed again.

PETTY TYRANNY.—We have long regarded the U. S. Post Office monopoly as unconstitutional. Add to this the fact that the department is not responsible, and the other fact, that we rarely have a practical man at the head of it,—and we have a very faulty institution,—better than nothing, to be sure, but very far behind what we ought to have, very far behind that of England,—very far behind what the private letter expressmen would give us, if they had a chance.

A late instance of petty tyranny in the P. M. G. is thus noticed in the New York Correspondence of the Boston Post.

Recent orders from Washington have reached our Post Office, requiring that all local letter-carrying shall, from and after August 1st, by done by the government carriers—to the exclusion of the "City Dispatch Posts" hitherto so useful and successful in this line of business. In other words, the streets of this city are to be "Post Roads," of which the department shall be the monopolist. The new system does not meet with popular approval, and the existing letter carrier's associations are likely to test the constitutionality of the proposed action. All other questions aside, New Yorkers are disinclined to trust the Department with local letters whose speedy arrival at their destination is of any consequence, or whose contents are at all valuable, and justly; for, in a "City Dispatch," there is a chance for redress in case of loss or damage—but the Department eschews all responsibility.

LATER FROM PIKE'S PEAK.—St. Joseph, Mo., July 31.—The Pike's Peak Express, with Denver City dates of July 23d, arrived this evening.

A shooting affray occurred at California Gulch, resulting in the death of one Smith, from Arkansas, who was pursuing a man named Curtis, for running away with his wife. Smith shot at Curtis, but wounded his wife, when Curtis returned the fire, killing Smith instantly.

Pat. Devlin and Joseph Taffarty had a shooting affray at Colorado City, last Saturday, which resulted in the death of Devlin. Taffarty was tried by a people's court, and a verdict of justifiable homicide rendered.

M. Hadley was accidentally shot dead by a bar-keeper, who was arrested.

James Gordon, formerly of Boston, shot a bar-keeper last week, while on a spree, severely wounding him. After two or three attempts to shoot other persons later in the night, he attacked a young German in a saloon and blew his brains out. He was pursued by the citizens the next day, and was discovered with a party of his friends in Fort Upton, but made his escape after being wounded and his horse shot.—Two prominent citizens have been arrested on a charge of assisting in his escape.—One party in pursuit of Gordon came upon another party of his friends, and in endeavoring to escape, one, named Frank Mulligan was drowned, and another taken prisoner.

A Vigilance Committee has been organized, to ferret out and punish the murderers and thieves who are overrunning the country.

The mining news is unimportant. The weather is warm and showery.

FALSE PERSONATION AT A CRITICAL MOMENT.—The Cleveland Plaindealer puts forth the following extraordinary statement in regard to Jesse Boorn, one of the gang of counterfeiters recently arrested at Burton, Ohio:—

"There is a strange history connected with Jesse Boorn, one of the men arrested at Burton. Some 40 years ago a cold-blooded murder was perpetrated in the State of Vermont. The murdered man was a brother-in-law of Boorn named Cobley, and circumstances pointed to Boorn and his brother as the guilty parties. They were tried, convicted, and sentenced to be hung. The execution day came, and large crowds poured into the village to see the murderers swing; they ascended the scaffold and the noose was placed around their necks, when the supposed dead man appeared in the crowd! The Boorns were set free, just as they reached death's door, and immediately fled the State. Jesse Boorn, now nearly seventy years old, confessed to Mr. Hackett, of Burton, that he and his brother did murder Cobley—the person who appeared before the gallows being a man from New Jersey, who bore a striking resemblance to the deceased, and who was expressly hired to play the villainous part. The affair created a great excitement at the time throughout New England, and lawyers retained for the defence in desperate murder cases have ever since quoted the Boorn case for the benefit of their client."

THE GREAT EASTERN.—Cape May, July 31.—The Great Eastern arrived at 8 o'clock this morning with 2087 passengers. Her sea anchor became loose by the breakage of some tackle, and was secured after great difficulty, but not until after she had received some dents in her bow.—The sea was smooth after leaving Sandy Hook. The stop-cock in the ice compartment was accidentally left open, flooding the store-rooms, and rendering the provisions and drinking water scarce, the latter selling on the voyage at ten cents a glass!—Five hundred of the passengers slept on deck. The accommodations were meagre, and the passengers held a meeting and adopted resolutions of indignation. The ship sails to-night for New York.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. Saratoga, N. Y., July 31.—The State Convention of the Young Democrats was held here to-day. Mayor Wood, by invitation, addressed the convention, saying that notwithstanding he was originally opposed to Douglas and his doctrines, yet he should sink all personal feelings and sustain the laws and constitution. The only way to defeat the Republicans was for all the elements of opposition to unite on Douglas, which he believed would be done. At the conclusion of Mr. Wood's speech the Convention took a recess.

☞ Lithographs of "Honest Old Abe Lincoln," life size, are to be seen at Mr. Shores' and Mr. Head's windows. The countenance, said Uncle Toby, as he looked at it for the hundredth time perhaps,—looks like honesty, good nature, and hard work. It does not look like one readily bought or easily sold,—not like a man easily frightened, or disposed to frighten anybody else by brag or bluster;—not like a sensualist, schemer or sot.

It does look like a man of good sense and much endurance; but quite unlike a dandy, beau or bully. Without any such beauty as glitters in the drawing room, there are abundant marks of intelligent thought, quiet humor, and reserved power.

☞ The New York papers announce the approaching nuptials of Mayor Wood and Miss Georgiana Crean, sister of Mrs. James Gordon Bennett.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.
A Query.—Why will you suffer? DYSPEPSIA a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.
This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure as the disease exists. Had it not this power, such testimony as follows would not given in its favor:
Dyspeptics, read!
Ashuelot, Oct. 6, 1859.
Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—Nine years ago I was so much reduced in strength as to be unable to attend to the common duties of my household, and suffered from a complication of diseases that truly rendered life a burden. I resorted to various physicians of acknowledged skill, but without relief, and my case was considered beyond the possibility of cure; but at this juncture I made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, add so rapidly did I mend that the effect was wonderful. My physician's distrust of the medicine gave place to the utmost confidence in it—After a lapse of years, I now remain in the enjoyment of good health, and have ever found the Bitters a never failing antidote for the various symptoms which arise from constitutional derangements. I have since recommended them to several of my friends, with uniform and satisfactory results. CATHERINE RAYMOND.
From a highly respected physician in Maine
South Paris, Me., Dec. 12, 1859.
Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,—Gents:—For several years past I have had a knowledge of the Oxygenated Bitters in some cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility. They have generally given satisfaction, and sometimes have effected a permanent cure where other remedies had been used without benefit. I do not hesitate to recommend them. Respectfully yours, Local.

☞ A special meeting of the City Council was called by the Mayor on Tuesday evening, to consider and act upon the proposed exchange of lands between the city and M. Fisher & Co., at the Creek, and other matters. These owners of the old stocking factory (now brewery) premises, asked that they be allowed to fence in the pond west of the road, offering in exchange to straighten their line north of this, thus widening the street, and throwing into the road as much or more land than they gain at the margin of the pond aforesaid.

The Aldermen agreed to the proposition —on the ground that the city had but a doubtful claim on the water-lot, which was formerly a part of the North Mill-pond, and is yet flooded at high water—and that the city would only resign any right they might have to it; and in return have a dangerous place made safe for passing travel, and the road above widened and improved.

But the Common Council refused to concur—arguing that this little pond might be filled up at some time, and the lot thus made be ultimately of value to the city;—that the road above was wide enough; and that if Messrs. Fisher & Co. desired or needed this land or pond, they were amply able to pay for it.

But it was understood that the Aldermen did not halt in their movements on account of this adverse action of the other Board—but their Committee on Streets, &c., at once gave M. Fisher & Co. power, as far as they had any power to confer, to make the proposed alterations.

The Mayor, however, or somebody else, seems to have had doubts as to the legality of disposing of city property, without the consent of, and in fact in spite of the refusal of, the Common Council; and so called this special meeting of the City Council to consider the matter.

The Alderman informed the Com. Council that they adhered to their previous vote granting Fisher & Co.'s petition, with which the Council had non-concurred; and asked a committee of conference on the subject. But as it was stated in the Council that the Aldermen had already granted the petitioners all they asked; and Fisher & Co. had already commenced operations on the premises at the Creek, and that any action of the Common Council would have no effect save to sanction the Aldermen's doings, and make an illegal act legal—the Common Council, by a vote of 9 to 4, refused to join in appointing the committee of conference.

The Common Council then passed a vote censuring any such exchange of land; and recommending that the city at once lay out Cate street, running westerly from the Creek, and safely fence in the pond named, from the road.

Both Boards also accepted a report of a committee, to place water-fixtures on Market Square, and in Austin and Court streets; and instructed the committee to inquire into the expediency of placing similar fixtures in High street, and elsewhere.

PORTSMOUTH RECORDS.—The Marriages registered in this city, under the new law, between April 1, 1859, and April 1, 1860, are 112. The oldest man was 66, the oldest woman 56; the youngest man 21, the youngest woman 16. There were 16 second marriages, of one party, and 2 third marriages.

In the same time, 174 births are registered—and 138 deaths. There were two ninth children.

The marriages are numerous, as compared with the births or deaths; but Portsmouth is a kind of Gretna Green for Maine.

The old law is still in force, which requires heads of families to report births and deaths to the town clerk for recording; and the new law also requires physicians to report births at which they attend, and requires towns and cities to collect all such information, and record it, annually.

Marriages are required to be returned by the clergymen or magistrates who perform the ceremony.

☞ Since parents, physicians, and other city officers whose duty it is to report Births to the City Clerk for record, are so remiss in that respect—we shall be obliged to depend, for the present at any rate, in making our proposed record, chiefly upon information derived from sources outside the city clerk's books.

☞ A shoe of Lynn people, said to fill eleven cars and to number about eight hundred, made their usual annual picnic excursion to Kittery on Wednesday; and a large number of them visited our city. We have no doubt that most of them were well behaved people, but they were accompanied by a lot of miserable drunken rowdies, who disgraced themselves and the city of awls.

☞ The steamer R. B. Forbs from Boston, with 60 men as a crew for the frigate Constitution, arrived in this port Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock—in order to take the ship in tow down river. The Constitution is bound to Annapolis, where she is to be used as a Naval School Ship.

☞ We learn that Hon. John S. Wells, of Exeter, who has long occupied a prominent position as a member of the Rockingham Bar, and in the public affairs of New Hampshire, died at his residence in Exeter, on Wednesday morning, after a long and distressing illness. He was a man of large abilities and untiring industry, and a gentleman whose polished manners always won hosts of friends wherever he went.

DOLINGTON, Penn., July, 1860.

This is to certify that I was the holder of a share of ticket No. 48, 50, 71, Class 300, in Delaware State Lottery, drawn June 23, under the management of Wood, Eddy & Co., which combination drew the prize of $15,000, and that said prize was cashed on presentation.

Dolington P. O., Penn.

WINDSOR, BERTIE CITY, N. C., July 10, 1860.

I do hereby certify that I have this day received through Bank, the full amount of one-eighth of the highest Capital Prize of $50,000, drawn at Wilmington, Delaware, June 9th, 1860, in Wood, Eddy & Co.'s Delaware State Lotteries, in Class 1, (drawn on the single number plan—the number on my ticket being the number drawing the highest Capital Prize of $50,000, my ticket being only one-eighth ticket and drawing accordingly,) and that full permission is freely given by me to publish my name and residence.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of the celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also have our Farmer friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who have been accounted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Morning Chronicle.

STRICT CONSTRUCTION.—In one of his visits to England, Sir John Stevenson had taken apartments for himself and servant—an unadulterated native of the verdant Isle. Being much engaged on some musical compositions preparing for the press, and finding his time much taken up by morning visitors, he took the precaution one day of denying himself, and thus delivered orders to that effect: "Now, Patrick, remember I'm going to be particularly occupied for the next two hours, and I won't be at home, mind, if the Bishop of London calls." "Very well your honor; I'll take care;" replied the obedient attendant, as he closed the door. Sir John now sat down to his pianoforte, and was soon immersed in the interest of his occupation, when, in about ten minutes, he had reason to congratulate himself upon having provided against intrusion, for a loud knock at the street door proclaimed the usual routine of idlers. What, then, was his surprise and mortification when he saw his room door flung open, and Pat, with his usual smile of welcome ushering in three gentlemen! After the simple fellow had placed chairs for the visitors, a quick glance from his master's eye told him that he had somehow committed himself, but the organ of potato-ism was too prominently developed to allow him to comprehend exactly how; yet shrewdly suspecting that Sir John's evident vexation was connected with his admission of the present visitors, and with a view to deprecate his displeasure, and prove to his master that he had not infringed the particular order he had received from him, with much significance of look, and force of emphasis, he said—"Plaze, Sir John, the Bishop of London hasn't called yet."—Tea Table Talk.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is notoriously the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE MEASURE OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office do inventors obtain the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, is here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do:

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disgreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of the same in liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all their pains.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them blooming as roses, and, besides, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the cheek.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy stock on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the city, it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast of the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—does the beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is the most labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Dunes' street, as the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, FIMILES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in their usual haunts, or returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

IN SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In MENSTRUAL OBSTRUCTIONS, sterile and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

IN INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, and acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

A COMMITTEEMAN IN SCHOOL.—We have the following good one from an authentic source:—A sub-committee of a School Board, not a thousand miles from the city of Lynn, were examining a class in a Primary school. One of the committee undertook to sharpen up their wits by propounding the following question: "If I had a mince pie and should give two-twelvths to Isaac, two-twelvths to Harry, two-twelvths to John, and should keep half of the pie for myself, what would there be left?"

There was a profound study among the scholars, but finally one lad held up his hand as a signal that he was ready to answer.

"Well, sir, what would there be left?—Speak up loud, so that all can hear," said the committee.

"The plate!" shouted the hopeful fellow. The committee turned red in the face, while the other members roared aloud.—That boy was excused from answering any more questions.—Boston Journal.

THE POPE'S IGNORANCE.—A Genoa letter in the Brussels Independance contains the following: "I was lately present in company where a lady connected with the highest families in Rome, and most devoted to the Pope, related an anecdote, which will go far to explain many of the acts of his holiness, who seems but ill informed of the actual state of affairs. The lady said that one day when Gen. De Goyon had an audience of the Pope, after Garibaldi's entrance into Palermo, he mentioned certain particulars of that event, and to his unbounded astonishment found that his holiness was not only completely ignorant of that fact, but had not even heard of Garibaldi's departure from Genoa and landing in Sicily. The persons about the Pope assigned as a reason for this silence, that they could not bear to pain the paternal heart of his holiness. Surrounded by such a conspiracy of silence, how can Pius IX. have any idea of the state of Italy and Europe?"

A PROCESSION IN THE RIVER.—At the Douglas celebration in Fond du Lac, while the procession was crossing division street bridge, over Fond du Lac River, it gave way under such an unwonted load of Democracy as had gathered upon it, and let the crowd in the water below. Fortunately the mud was much deeper than the water, and no other serious consequences ensued than the fright and the thick envelope of slough material brought up by those whom the bridge refused to transport in safety over this peril in the line of march. Several ladies took the unwelcome descent, and when rescued appeared in a much deeper shade of mourning than is a usual style of dress at a gala celebration. The light of torches changed to a scene of merriment among a crowd of fun-loving boys, what might otherwise have been a serious accident.—Janesville (Wis.) Gazette.

General Houston writes to his friends in New York that his nominatin being an independent movement, he will in no event decline.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saddle against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood.—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGEHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1860.

MR. DOUGLAS' SPEECH.

Messrs. Editors:—I have read the speech of Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, which he delivered at Concord, as published in full in the N. H. Patriot. It is a plausible but unsound defence of what he calls popular sovereignty, which he defines in these words:

"We demand that the people of a territory, the same as those of a colony, shall be permitted to make their own laws and establish their own institutions to suit themselves.

Mr. Douglas knows, however, that the platform on which his own convention placed him, provides that the Supreme Court may nullify every territorial law that can endanger slave property!

And yet in the same speech Mr. Douglas virtually says, elect me, gentlemen, and then "Let us banish that question [the negro question] forever from Congress!"

Do you remember, Messrs. Editors, that important items of this everlasting negro question were to be settled by the election tour years ago?

Mr. Buchanan was elected,—and the Supreme Court made the famous Dred Scott decision in a case which was made up and postponed on purpose to watch the election. Had Fremont been elected, we should never have had such a decision, and such a plea! But Buchanan's election was understood, and felt,—the slave power ruled.

Now, we see Breckinridge with an avowed slavery platform,—and Douglas, with his pretence of popular sovereignty covered over by a real submission to a pro-slavery court!

And this is the Douglas panacea for getting the negro question out of Congress,—to wit, his party going down on their knees in advance, vowing to eat all the dirt the court will give them, for the sake of a few doubtful votes, and a good share of the public plunder!

Do you suppose, if Lincoln takes the Chair, that the Court will decide the famous Lemon Case in favor of slavery? No, never.

But let Douglas or Breckinridge sit there, and we shall see that same Court repeat its baseness, and give the Slave Power the right of way through and over the free states.

No, no, the slave question can never go out of Congress or out of the courts, till it goes out right. It will come back, as now, to break up parties, and overturn things, till the plague spot is washed away.

Money and power, and so called law, defend this base system, in our free country—but there are higher powers and higher laws than those of men, and they will crush it out. HOMO.

☞ Among "Uncle Sam's" employees at the Mint at Philadelphia, there have been for some time past forty young ladies employed in adjusting coin, at liberal salaries. In consequence of his reduced finances, Uncle Sam resolved to dispense with seventeen of them; but as each of these forty ladies had at least forty friends of great influence, the proposed reduction was a difficult matter. It was finally decided that the selection should be made by "lot," and forty pieces of paper, twenty-three of which were marked "retained," and the balance blanks, were placed in a box and drawn.—Those who were so unfortunate as to draw blanks received their pay and retired.

☞ A Washington letter states that by the death, last week, of the mother of Judge Douglas's first wife, who was a Miss Martin, of North Carolina, his two boys, his only children, come into the possession of a large fortune. The Judge has been sent for by his connections in North Carolina, and after his New England tour, will probably visit the old North State.

☞ The New York Times' Washington correspondent refers to rumors of a well-organized movement in several Southern States for a dissolution of the Union on Keitt's plan, and that agents have gone to Europe to ascertain what would be the course of England and France in the event of establishing a Southern confederacy.

☞ James Steward, a prominent citizen of Amsterdam, N. Y., was killed by being run over by a train of cars on Friday evening. He was standing on the track, conversing with a friend, when he was struck down by an express train.

☞ The Mayor and Aldermen, says the Bangor Whig, on Thursday last, ordered the destruction of eleven parcels of bad liquor, which had been seized by the City Marshal, and decreed forfeited by the court.

☞ The Republicans have succeeded in a local election in Milwaukie, their majority being 932. The same place used to give 3,000 majority for the Democrats. The German voters, 2,000 in number, have wheeled right round.

☞ The venerable Joanna Bethune, widow of the late Divie Bethune, and the mother of Rev. Geo. W. Bethune, D. D., died in New York Saturday, aged 91.

☞ A reward of two thousand dollars is offered at Columbia, Tenn., for the arrest of two railroad overseers, Fredrick Wright and Thomas S. McCary, who gave Mr. Holm's negro twelve hundred lashes, covered his raw back with turpentine, and put him to work in the sun, killing him in twenty-four hours. Wright is said to be from Massachusetts.

☞ An infant child in Newburyport fell from a bed, an occurrence so common as to create no alarm in its parents. The next day it was playful, but being frequently sick at the stomach, as was supposed from teething, a physician was called. On the day following it died.

☞ Hon. Lemuel Shaw has resigned his office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, the resignation to take effect in September, at the completion of his thirtieth year of service in the station. Mr. Shaw will be eighty years old next January.

☞ Of 1000 graduates of Middlebury College, Vt., about one half of those who have lived to a sufficient age have entered the ministry, and of these thirty have been missionaries.

☞ While some portions of Maine are nearly stationary as regards population, in the county of Aroostook, the extreme eastern portion of the State, there is a decided increase.

☞ Among the adventurous spirits who accompany Dr. Hayes in his voyage of exploration to the North pole, is one New Hampshire boy,—Harvey S. Haywood, of Plainfield, aged 24 years.

☞ The Custom House officers have removed into the new building; but the Post Office must wait a few weeks for the necessary fixtures.

☞ Madame Jenny Lind Goldschmidt is now at Stockholm. She intends to pass the summer with her husband and children in the environs of the Sweedish capital.

☞ It is stated that Judge Taney of the Supreme Court of the United States, is a warm advocate of Mr. Douglas' election.

☞ A horse-mackerel about ten feet long and weighing about one thousand pounds, has been on exhibition in Bath, Me.

☞ The menhaden oil making business is now good on the eastern coast of Maine. The "pogies" have come in great shoals.

☞ There are about three hundred daily papers in the United States.

☞ The hay crop in this State has been nearly all cut off!

ARRIVAL OF LUMBER.—The first of about seven million feet of lumber, belonging to Norcross, Saunders & Co., which has been on its way from Woodstock, N. H., for about one hundred days, arrived on Friday last. The river was very low, and the lumber was detained in some places for several days. The mills which have been lying idle for about a month commenced running this morning, and will run night and day until the lumber is used up. About eighty hands will be employed in the yard.—Lowell Courier, 30th.

SARATOGA, Aug. 1.—The Young Men's Democratic State Convention reassembled this morning. Resolutions in favor of Douglas and Johnson, and of the doctrine of Popular Sovereignty, were passed.—Resolutions denouncing the personal Liberty Bill and the extension suffrage to negroes were offered, but meeting with opposition were withdrawn. After some further unimportant business the convention adjourned.

BOOTH RESCUED FROM CUSTODY.—Milwaukie, Aug. 1.—Sherman M. Booth, who was awaiting trial in the Glover rescue case, was taken from a room in the Custom House in this city, where he was confined, by ten armed men to-day and driven offmto the country. The United States Marshal and his deputies were at dinner, and his keeper was silenced by threats of violence.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 1.—Judge Douglas came here from Concord this morning, and remained two hours. He was escorted through the principal streets of the city to Merrimac Square, where an immense crowd assembled to see and hear him. He was introduced by Mayor Harrington, and responded for half an hour in a speech on non-intervention.

The Daily Chronicle at Portsmouth has been published eight years. Well do we remember in 1852, the day the railroad was opened from Portsmouth to Concord, for the din of the boys in crying the "Chronicle" was heard above the roar of the cannon and the blast of the bugle.—Bath Times.

Burke's Standard says the Portsmouth Gazette has added to its subscription list with six weeds, over a thousand subscribers. We no more believe this statement than we do the equally ridiculous one that the Standard circulates in New Hampshire, and gets pay for, over three hundred.—Bath Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 1.—Private advices from Delphia state that the Hon. Isaac A. Rice, Republican canidate for representative to Congress from the 8th District, died at ten o'clock to-day, after an illness of only thirty-six hours.

ACCIDENT AT FARMINGTON.—A young man named Frank Chesley had his leg broken and severely jammed by the falling of a stone at the saw mill near the Dock where he was employed.—Rochester Review.

☞ Hall's Journal of Health opposes ice water, or iced liquids any way.—and says:—

No well man has any business to eat ices or drink iced liquids in any shape or form, if he wants to preserve his teeth, protect the tone of his stomach, and guard against sudden inflammations or prolonged dyspepsias. It is enough to make one shudder to see a beautiful young girl sipping scalding coffee or tea at the beginning of a meal, and then close it with a glass of ice-water; for at that thirty she must either be snagged-toothed, or wear those of the dead, or artificial.

Fresh spring or well-water is abundantly cool for any drinking purpose whatever.—In cities where water is artificially supplied, the case is somewhat different; but even then there is no good excuse for drinking ice-water, because, even then if the excuse were good in itself, the effect on the stomach and teeth are the same.

☞ At the Commencement of Dartmouth College the usual degrees were conferred upon the class, and honorary degrees upon the following gentlemen:—

A. M.—Messrs. Mason W. Tappan of Bradford, King S. Hall of Manchester, William L. Foster of Concord, Ezekiel A. Straw of Manchester, Ichabod Goodwin of Portsmouth, George Adams Kettell, William Morrill Pingrey, Asa McFarland of Concord, William W. Thayer, Asa P. Tenney of West Concord, Rufus G. Lewis of New Hampton.

D. D.—Rev. Austin Richards, Rev. Constantine Blodgett.

LL. D.—Franklin Pierce, George Perkins Marsh, John Dwight Willard.

The graduating class numbered sixty-five, all of whom received the degree of A. B.

DANGEROUS ASSAULT.—Tuesday night a difficulty occurred in Boston, which it is feared will result in the death of a girl 11 years old. It appears that an intoxicated man named Alexander Patterson, was irritated by some boys. He seized a stone and hurled it at the boys, but the missile struck the girl on the forehead, inflicting a wound and fracturing the skull. Patterson was brought before the Police Court, and committed to await the result of the injury to the girl and the action of the Grand Jury in the matter.

On complaint of being a common drunkard, Patterson was sentenced to six months in the House of Industry.

THE GRIZZLY BEAR HUNTER.—Crosby, Nichols, Lee & Co., of Boston, have just published a neat 12 mo. of 378 pages, entitled, The Adventures of James Capen Adams, Mountaineer and Grizzly Bear Hunter, of California. By Theodore H. Hittell; with 12 full page illustrations. It is truly a Story of Wild Sports in the West; very well told; and will be read by thousands here, and by tens of thousands in California. It tells not only how to catch bears, but how to tame them and make them useful as hunting dogs, pack horses, &c. The book is for sale in Portsmouth by Jos. H. Foster.

☞ We are told by a Lynn gentleman that the excursion to Kitterry on Wednesday was gotten up by the Lynn strikers;—and that their conduct here was a fair specimen of the men. Just as we should expect—civil, industrious, economical, sober men are usually "content with their wages." We have a plenty of such cattle as many of these visitors were, of our own in Portsmouth, without importing any.

A SUCCESSFUL REMONSTRANCE.—When Mr. Webster was Secretary of State, under John Tyler's administration, he directed the American consul at Beirut or Aleppo (we forget which) to go to Damascus and remonstrate, in the name of the United States and of this entire nation, with the Pasha of that city, and conjure him to put an end to the slaughter of the poor Jews, that was going on in that city; and he did. Nor was his effort in vain. There is not a Jew in all Daniascus that does not remember that act of interference with the deepest gratitude. And yet there were in those days no such tender ties as exist now, to bind in a special and touching manner American hearts to the destinies of Damascus.—N. Y. Jour. of Com.

A MAN BEATEN BY INDIGNANT FEMALES IN WILLIAMSBURGH.—Yesterday afternoon a number of children were at play in part of Schnatterbek's brewery, in Remsen street, Brooklyn, E.D., when a man employed there came out and undertook to drive them away. They were tardy, when he struck several of them with a horsewhip, hurting one of them severely. The child's mother soon collected a crowd of about fifty women, who surrounded the man, deprived him of his whip, and beat him most unmercifully. The excitement created among the Teutonic population of that vicinity was intense.—N. Y. Post.

A SENSIBLE MOTHER.—"Madam," said a doctor one day to the mother of a sweet, healthy babe, "the ladies have deputed me to inquire what you do to have such a lovely, happy, uniformly good child?" The mother mused for a moment over the strangeness of the question, and then replied, simply and beautifully: "Why, God has given me a healthy child, and I let it alone".—Boston Courier.

Hon. John F. Potter, M. C. from Wisconsin, of Bowie-knife celebrity, who caused the Southern "chivalry" to back square out of a fight, has been unanimously nominated for re-election to Congress. He is now, or was a few days ago, on a visit to the White Mountains.—Statesman.

☞ Mr. Sylvester Gilbert, of this city, being unwell a few days since, requested his wife to give him a simple dose of medicine in the shape of a powder; but thro' mistake she administered a powerful poison, which, though antidotes were at once given, according to his directions, when he learned what he had taken, caused severe sickness from which we are happy to hear he is recovering.

Mr. Gilbert had been ill for two or three days, abroad, and on the first night after his return wished to take a dose (half a teaspoonful) of the Anti-Bilious Powder usually prepared among botanic medicines. But the bottle containing this resembled another standing near, which contained bi-chromate of potash, something like the other in appearance, but quite different in its character, producing violent and painful vomiting and purging.

Dr. Adams Perry promptly and skillfully applied remedial agents, which by the Divine blessing arrested the sickness—and, as above stated, the patient is recovering.

His perfect recovery, however, must be a work of some considerable time; and for the present a very worthy man with a large family of children must be wholly dependent on the charity of the liberal, which we hope may be extended by the donors in person, or through any other channel they please.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Steamship Northern Light has arrived with California dates of the 11th, and $1,000,000 in specie.

Advices from Guatemala state that Walker had left Ruatan on the 21st of June in a schooner, with 100 men, and when at sea he was joined by another vessel. It was suspected that he would make a descent on Omoa or Truxillo.

It has leaked out that the 10,000 ounces of gold supposed to have been shipped on the Chilian ship, Matras Consino, which was wrecked on the coast of Brazil, were not put on board. It is supposed that she was wrecked intentionally. The guilty party has fled to Europe.

NIAGARA PASSING AWAY.—The falls recede at present, we are told, at the rate of something less than a foot a year. Geology is able to predict that when a recession of a mile has taken place—some five or six thousand years hence—the height of the fall will be reduced by a score of feet. Ten thousand years more, when the fall shall have worn its way four miles further back, all that constitutes Niagara will have disappeared, and the whole descent will be accomplished by a series of rapids like those near the whirlpool.

CLEVER PUN BY AN ENGLISH CHIEF JUSTICE.—Sir Fletcher Norton was noted for his want of courtesy. When pleading before Lord Mansfield on some question of manorial right, he chanced unfortunately to say, "My lord, I can illustrate the point in an instance in my own person: I myself have two little manors." The judge immediately interposed with one of his blandest smiles, "We all know it, Sir Fletcher."

DARK ROOMS.—American women have a strange mania for dark rooms, but hear what Florence Nightengale in her notes on nursing says on the subject:—"A dark house is always an unhealthy house, always an ill aired house. Want of light stops growth, and promotes scrofula, rickets, etc., among the children. People lose their health in dark houses, and if they get ill, they cannot get well again in them."

SMALL BED CHAMBERS.—There is reason to believe that more cases of dangerous disease are gradually engendered annually by the habit of sleeping in small, unventilated rooms, than have occurred from a cholera atmosphere during any year since it made its appearance in this country.

Typographical errors come in odd sometimes. The other day we were reading a description of enthusiastic demonstrations at a political gathering, when the type went on with—"the air was rent with the snouts of three thousand people."

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—As a young lady named Graham was observing the Great Eastern pass up the harbor, from a door stoop in Brooklyn, her clothes caught fire from a match which she stepped upon and ignited, burning her so badly that she died in the evening, after horrible sufferings.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 2.—Hon. E. K. Smart addressed an audience of about 500 last evening, consisting mostly of Republicans.

MEEPHIS, Aug. 1.—Steamship Lacrosse, for Galveston, exploded to-day just below this city, killing four persons and wounding three. Loss 20,000.

"Papa, why don't you give the telegraph wires a dose of gin?" "Why, my child?" "'Cause the papers say they're out of order, and mamma always takes gin when she's out of order."

An old lady once complained to her doctor that she could scarcely breathe; "Don't try," said the doctor, "nobody wants you to do it."

Lincoln is a dead letter in this county.—Eastern Argus.

Like all other "dead letters," he will be sedt to Washington.—Groton Mercury.

Never wear a finer coat than the merchant you owe for it, or the tailor you have not paid for the making.

It is expected that the Great Eastern will come round to Boston about the middle of August.—Courier.

WE'LL DRINK NO WINE.

[The following lines were written by one of the crew of the Macedonian during her late cruise.]

We'll drink no wine, and no strong drink,
It brings us unto ruin's brink.
Its false allurements we defy;
We will not be deceived thereby.
We'll drink no wine.—The wise man said:
Look not upon it when 'tis red
And gives its color in the cup;
'Tis deadly poison—touch it not.

And when it moves itself aright,
Then, like a serpent it will bite.
Take heed; avoid the cursed thing,
Or, like an adder, it will sting.
We'll drink no wine, nor break the laws,
Lest we have wounds without a cause;
We'll shun the demon and be wise,
Nor go with those who have red eyes.

We'll drink no wine; for well we know
It bringeth sorrow, want, and woe,
Its victims to despair it drags,
And clothes a man in filth and rags.
We'll drink no wine; nor be its slaves,
Nor help to fill its million graves.
The monster stalks throughout the land,
And leaves a curse on every hand.

We'll drink no wine with mirth and song;
We'll seek it not, to tarry long
And spend the night the cup to drain,
Or wake to seek it yet again.
We'll drink no wine,—for, at a blow,
It brings the strong and mighty low;
We'll touch it not,—lest in that hour
Our pride should wither like the flower.

We'll drink no wine; our fathers said,
For fear a curse be on our head;
And this command we give our brother
And unto all our seed forever.
We'll drink no wine throughout our lives,
Our sons, our daughters, or our wives;
For this command is sacred kept,
Although our fathers long have slept.

To Rechab's house, thus saith the Lord,
Since you have kept your father's word,
Thenceforth you shall not lack a brother
To stand before my face forever. D. G. L.

On board U. S. Ship MACEDONIAN,
Alexandria, Egypt, Feb. 20, 1859.

A GROWL AT THE DOGS.—One of the meanest and cruelest things which a civilized man or woman can do, is to keep a cross dog unchained. The inhabitants of Portsmouth have been wonderfully preserved of late, amid the cross curs that infest our city. No one is safe in passing some houses unarmed, and it is found to be dangerous to send a child unprotected into almost any part of the city. I suppose that other cities and towns are not altogether free from such nuisances.

Now, reader, if you have a snarling, barking, cross dog, and wish to claim and merit the title of gentleman or lady, then chain or kill him, or else move into some lonely forest, or among savages, where barbarity is respectable. S.

BIRTHS.—In addition to the one with with which we commence our record this morning, a friend told us there were two on board a schooner at the wharf,—one of which belonged to "John Halifax" of this city,—that is, this noted individual had taken passage to Boston in the fine schooner Lizzie M. Stewart; a very agreeable summer trip, by the way. It is perhaps unnecessary to say that in this case the word was spelt with an e,—though passengers usually will need no berths aboard this fleet craft, unless she starts late.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.—Rockingham County, at Portsmouth, Sept. 19th and 20th.

Merrimack County, at Concord, Sept. 26th, 27th, and 28th.

New Hampshire State, at Manchester, Oct. 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th.

Maine State, at Portland, Sept. 25th, 26th, 27th and 28th.

York County, Maine, at Saco, Oct. 9th, 10th and 11th. tf

APPOINTMENTS FOR NEXT SUNDAY.—Rev. Mr. Hood of Nottingham will preach at Kittery Point.

Rev. Mr. Miller will preach at Nottingham.

Rev. Mr. Patterson of this city will preach at Newington, at half past 5 o'clock P. M.

☞ Rev. B. F. Eaton will preach in Rye, (Chesley's Hall,) next Sunday, at 5 P. M.

Messrs. Editors:—The course of politics don't seem to run any more smoothly than that of true love. The Republicans thought they had carried the election, even though the Democratic Mayor was elected; but we have got no Republican officers as yet, owing to the partisan firmness of the Mayor. We trust no compromises will be allowed now, at the last minute; but that every man will do his duty to his party and the city, regardless of personal preference or pique. REPUBLICAN.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. N. P. Coleman, of Newington, for a baker's dozen of ears of Green Corn, well filled out and fit for the table of an epicure. Corn in this vicinity generally is at least as forward as usual, at this season, though it would seem that we have had little "good corn weather" as yet.

☞ The great little Tom Thumb is advertised to visit Portsmouth next week—with accompanying talent sufficient to give a series of grand entertainments.

FIRE.—The dwelling house, barn and outbuildings, belonging to Mr. Lafayette Woodman, of Alton, were entirely consumed by fire on Tuesday night of last week.—Rochester Review, July 26.

☞ Our report of the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen, respecting the matter of M. Fisher & Co., at the Creek, was incorrect in stating that the Aldermen voted to make the exchange of land, before asking the committee of conference of the Common Council. After the refusal of the Council to grant this committee, the Aldermen concurred in the Council's resolution to fence the pond in, allowing Fisher & Co. to bear the expense, instead of the city, as the Council recommended.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful results arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.
One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to
WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators
It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.
This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in no scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.
The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.
All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.
Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been
THOROUGHLY TESTED
by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them
The Best in the Market!
These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.
We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others to which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."
Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are paid for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, including its capacity for visitors, and bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of fish and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been improved by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the freshness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has been the wearer of their Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to cut out the cloth, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to buy and have a family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily prove that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, MILK SICKNESS, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids who long bed-ridden are to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if raised from premature graves in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and the complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

It is SERVICEABLE in DISEASES of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old, oxidic, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

In this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most inveterate cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confined, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has shine in the annals of its fame and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly adhesive to their sex.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invaluably well spoken of as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength and a cheerful disposition, active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

VOL. 17. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1860. NO. 4.

Morning Chronicle.

WANTED TO BE MARRIED IN CHURCH. Some time since a little incident transpired in the village of Sandy Hill, N. Y., which afforded some amusement to the spectators at the time, and furnished food for considerable gossip thereafter. It occurred in church, on one of those quiet afternoons when all the world seems to drop asleep, when the flies buzz lazily on the window panes, and the dog lies on the door-stone.

The afternoon service had ended, and the congregation were arranging themselves for the benediction, when to the great astonishment and the manifest interest of the worshippers, the good parson descended from the pulpit to the desk below, and said in a calm, clear voice:

"Those wishing to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony will now please to come forward."

A deep stillness instantly fell over the congregation, broken only by the rustling of the silk as some pretty girl or excited matron changed her position, to catch the first view of the couple to be married. No one, however, arose, or seemed in the least inclined to arise.

Whereupon, the worthy clergyman, deeming his first notice unheard or misunderstood, repeated:

"Let those wishing to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony now come forward."

Still no one stirred. The silence became almost audible, and a painful sense of the awkwardness among those present, when a young gentleman who had occupied a vacant seat in the broad aisle during the service, slowly arose, and deliberately walked to the foot of the altar. He was good looking and well-dressed, but no one knew him, and no female accompanied his travels. When he arrived within a respectful distance of the clergyman, he paused, and with a reverent bow, stepped to one side of the aisle, but neither said anything nor seemed at all disconcerted at the idea of being married alone.

The clergyman looked anxiously around for the bride, who he supposed was yet to arrive, and at length remarked to the young gentleman in an undertone:

"The lady, sir, is dilatory."

"Very, sir."

"Had we not better defer the ceremony?"

"I think not. Do you suppose she will be here soon?"

"Me, sir!" said the astonished shepherd, "how should I know of your lady's movements? That is a matter belonging to yourself."

A very few moments more were suffered to elapse in this unpleasant state of expectancy, when the clergyman renewed his interrogatories—

"Did the lady promise to attend at the present hour, sir?"

"What lady?"

"Why the lady, to be sure, that you are waiting here for."

"I did not hear her say anything about it," was the satisfactory response.

"Then, sir, may I ask why you are here, and for what purpose you thus trifle in the sanctuary of the Most High?" said the somewhat enraged clerical.

"I came, sir, simply because you invited all those wishing to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony to step forward, and I happened to entertain such a wish! I am very sorry to have misunderstood you, sir, and ask you a very good day."

The benediction was uttered with a solemnity of tone very little in accordance with the twitching of the facial nerves; and when, after the church was closed, the story got among the congregation, more than one girl regretted her wishes had not been as boldly expressed as the young gentleman's who had really wished to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, nup from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saddy against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall continue your medicine, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using about two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1860.

RAILROADS.—The Railway Annual for 1859 states that in nine years, or from 1850 to 1859, the railways in the United States have increased from 7355 to 27,944 miles in length. In this period the increase in the New England States amounted to 62.74 per cent., while in eight of the Western States the increase was 1201.41 per cent. At the same time the former gained in population 16.12 per cent, and the latter 46.22. The total cost of the roads, up to 1859, amounted to $355,451,070, of which large sum it is supposed one-third has been wasted in construction. There are at this time 28,000 miles of finished roads in the United States, and about 16,000 either under construction or projected, requiring $400,000,000 for their completion.

In view of the above statements, how rich the following paragraph appears, which was originally printed in the English Quarterly Review in March, 1825:

We are not advocates for visionary projects, that interfere with useful establishments. We scout the idea of a railroad as impracticable. * * * What can be more palpably absurd and ridiculous than the prospects held out of locomotives travelling twice as fast as stage coaches? We should as soon expect the people of Woolwich to suffer themselves to be fired off upon one of Congreve's ricochet rockets, as to put themselves to the mercy of such a machine, going at such a rate.

DIRECT TRADE WITH EUROPE.—Of Gov. Wise's project to establish a direct trade between Norfolk and Europe, a Virginia paper says, alluding we presume to a late cargo:

A more perfect humbug could not well be imagined. We do not believe there was a drop of pure brandy or champagne in the whole lot. Of claret we can say but little better. We are no judge of dry goods, but every man from Richmond in that trade laughed at the idea of purchasing. The only really good articles we saw were vinegar, bricks, cement, and—sand! Just imagine a cargo of sand for Norfolk! What idea can you suppose Frenchmen can have of America, when they ship to Virginia vinegar, bricks, cement and sand? The cargo was made up of the riff-raff which has proved unsaleable in Havre for the last twenty years. Even the shoes were very inferior. We doubt whether this will not prove the "Lone Star" of that line.

EFFECTS OF TOBACCO.—The Dublin Medical Press asserts that the pupils of the Polytechnic School in Paris have recently furnished some curious statistics bearing on tobacco. Dividing the young gentlemen of that college into two groups—the non-smokers and smokers—it shows that the smokers have proved themselves in the various competitive examinations far inferior to the other. Not only in the examinations on entering the school are the smokers in a lower rank, but in the various ordeals that they have to pass through in a year the average rank of the smokers had constantly fallen, and not inconsiderably, while the men who did not smoke enjoyed a cerebral atmosphere of the clearest kind.

IN DEATH NOT DIVIDED.—Died in Dover, July 30, of consumption, Mr. Marquis Q. Littlefield, aged about 30—Miss Priscilla S. Littlefield, aged 41.

They were brother and sister. Although in feeble health, Miss Littlefield watched with her brother till 12 o'clock on the night of his death. She then retired. The brother died before morning, and upon calling her, it was found that she, too, was cold in death.

NATIONAL ECONOMY.—The Government has just completed the purchase of Lime Point, in California, for $200,000.—When Senator Broderick was alive the speculators were asking $250,000, but he defeated the purchase, and clearly showed that it was not worth $20,000. It was because he stood in the way of political tricksters and gamblers that he was murdered.

IMMENSE PAIR OF HORSES.—A gentleman in Ulster county, N. Y., has raised a pair of horses now three years old, one of which is nineteen and a quarter hands high, and the other nineteen and a half hands high. They are both perfectly formed, full of spirit, and are said to be the finest pair of horses in the world.

☞ An immense specimen of the sunfish was lately seen in Swansea bay, England, and after a chase, a fisherman thrust a boat-hook into its body. It drew his boat for some distance, but ultimately succumbed, and was towed into Aberavon, where it died soon after. It is said to be upward of half a ton in weight.

☞ The Fire Marshal of the city of New York reports that during the first six months of 1860, fifty-two deaths were caused by fire, viz.: 20 by the ignition of clothing by lights or fires in stoves—6 by fluid lamp accidents—and 26 by fires in tenement houses.

Birds are the poor man's music, flowers the poor man's poetry.

ACCIDENTAL BALLOON ASCENSION.—Prof. Goddard attempted to make an ascension from Pittsburgh on Saturday, in the balloon "Great Western." A number of boys had hold of the balloon, when one of the ropes which tied it to the ground broke and the youngsters suddenly let go. A policeman, named Long, kept hold of the rope which he had in his hands until he found himself rising from the earth, when he dropped to the ground without sustaining any injury. The balloon contained nearly twenty thousand feet of gas, and was without ballast, basket or car, or anything save the netting, one large and a few smaller guy ropes dragging from her. Prof. Goddard had tied up the mouth of the balloon, the gas valve being thus confined, and all was so fastened as to throw the body of the balloon considerably out of a horizontal position.

To steady it, and to prevent the ropes from being in a snarl, and the balloon from being turned upside down, the Professor was seated in the netting, with nothing but the light suit of clothes which he had on. He remained in his place, and coolly exerted his utmost to right her, until almost out of sight, ascending with great rapidity and moving in a northwestern direction.

Just before passing out of the sight of the citizens, some of whom were anxiously watching him with powerful glasses, he settled down quietly in his seat, and the balloon assumed an almost perpendicular position. He passed from sight between 1 and 2 o'clock. Prof. Goddard had expended some $60 for gas, and his balloon having been partly destroyed by fire, had been repaired at considerable expense, and was in poor condition.

On Saturday afternoon, about five o'clock the Professor descended, in his balloon, on the farm of Mr. Isaac Sutton, in Penn township, Butler county, four miles north of Glade Mills. The basket caught in a white oak tree, and the aeronaut climbed down and secured it.

Subsequently, for greater safety, he, with the assistance of Mr. Sutton, tied the unwieldy vessel to two sassafras bushes, or trees, growing close together, in different directions, to prevent the rope from slipping. The Professor was suffering much from thirst, and while Mr. Sutton went to the house for water he remained to watch the balloon, a sudden gust of wind came up, and despite Mr. Wilson's efforts to hold it fast, the balloon broke loose and was soon driving to the North-east at a rapid rate.

After taking some refreshment, Prof. Wilson started in pursuit of the vehicle, and at Mr. Fisher's, four miles nearer Butler, he procured a horse and wagon, and at last accounts was following in the direction taken by the balloon.

A SHIPWRECK.—Bombay dates of June 23d furnish full particulars of the loss of ship Squantum, of Boston. From June 12th to 14th, the ship experienced heavy weather. At 7 o'clock, evening of the 14th, sighted about fifteen miles off two lights, bearing north-east, which were made for until 8, when wind died away, leaving heavy sea and tide ebbing. A calm followed, and the ship becoming unmanageable from the heavy sea and tide, the anchors were dropped, and in about 20 minutes the ship struck in five fathoms of water. Heavy seas were now sweeping over the deck, with a perfect calm prevailing.

After the first shock she parted her port anchor, and went on shore, and by almost a miracle on a sandy point, jutting out between jagged rocks, had the ship struck on either of which, every soul must have perished. The masts were then cut away to ease her as much as possible, as she was lying with her stern to the sea, which made complete breaches over her. The captain, with his wife and crew, betook themselves to the top-gallant forecastle for safety till daylight, when all but three were saved, the carpenter, cook and a seaman being drowned.

Capt. Miller, wife and son, and crew, fifteen in number, have arrived at Bombay, the crew being cared for by Mr. Hatfield, the American consul.

☞ Agriculturalists through the country are becoming alarmed at the rapid increase of obnoxious weeds, which, until recently, were unknown in America. The weeds are brought over in the packing of crockery crates, and in the soil around fruit trees, shrubs and plants.

☞ The N. Y. Evening Post thus sums up the "inconveniences" of the recent trip of the Great Eastern to Cape May:—"Few beds, little water, short commons, no washbasins—and an utter want of discipline—are the universal complaints."

☞ An American in San Francisco, who was sentenced to twelve years on the chaingang for murder, appealed, and a higher court sentenced him to be shot, and the sentence was carried into effect.

☞ Nineteen papers in the State of Illinois, eleven of them in Egypt, which have never before espoused Republicanism, have hoisted the Lincoln and Hamlin flag.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The most interesting items relate to Italy and Syria:—

ITALY.—Toulon, July 20.—Great activity prevails here in the arsenal. The Envoy of Garibaldi has had an interview with the Emperor of France.

The Spanish Government has ordered war vessels to Venezuela, in consequence of outrages on Spanish subjects.

Several priests have been arrested in Genoa for carrying concealed weapons.

Naples, July 19.—The Paris correspondent of the Globe says the refusal of the naval officers to act against Sicily is confirmed. Four frigates joined in the pronunciamento.

The Royal Guards have been removed from Naples, and the National Guard has commenced its service. These measures had made a favorable impression, and a manifestation had taken place, some of the inhabitants shouting "Hurrah for the King!" "Hurrah for the troops!" Several houses were illuminated.

The army has taken the oath to support the constitution, on which occasion the King delivered an address. The proclamation of the King to the army and people has produced a good effect. The Ministry is supported by public opinion.

SYRIA.—The Paris correspondent of the Herald says England will send a regiment or two to Syria, but France intends to dispatch 25,000 men under Marshal MacMahon.

Great anxity is felt at Beyrout respecting the fate of the Christians, who have taken refuge in the south of Kerronan to the number 45,000, who were surrounded by the Druses.

Marseilles, July 20.—Mosmont, Colonel of the general staff left to-day for Beyrout. The Commissariat leaves for the same place on Sunday. Ten transport steamers are completing their preparation for departure at Toulon.

It is stated that Ab-del-Kader has offered his services to Napoleon to suppress the atrocities at Lebanon. Spain also sends war vessels to Syria.

Paris, July 21.—The French Consular reports from Syria state that reports had been circulated among the Druses that the Europeans were about to drive away the Turks from Europe, which determined them to exterminate the Christians in Syria.

London, July 21.—The Post has a telegram stating that the French force to be sent to Syria is 8000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The Great Eastern.—The Great Eastern sailed this evening at 6 o'clock, for Baltimore, receiving only a salute from the Cunard steamer.

Regatta.—The race between the yachts Julia and Rebecca commenced at 4 o'clock this afternoon. At a quarter past 5 o'clock the Julia was half a mile ahead. Wind moderate.

Collision.—Steamboat Columbia, while returning from an excursion last evening, on passing through Hell Gate, came in collision with schooner G. W. Baldwin, bound for Boston. The steamer had her forward promenade deck ripped up, and a passenger was knocked overboard and drowned.

Slave Vessel at Nassau, N. P.—The steamer Karnak reports the arrival at Nassau of a schooner with three hundred and sixty slaves on board, having lost forty on the passage. She was first seen by the Karnak a few days previous, but mistaking the steamer for a war vessel, the schooner got ashore in trying to escape. The Karnak gave notice of her being ashore, and wreckers went to her assistance. The negroes were suffering from hunger and scurvy.

INFLUENCE OF NEWSPAPERS.—Small is the sum that is required to patronize a newspaper, and apply rewarded is its patron, I care not how humble and unpretending the gazette which he takes. It is next to impossible to fill a sheet with printed matter without putting in it something that is worth the subscription price. Every parent whose son is away from home, at school, should supply him with a newspaper. I well remember what a marked difference there was between those of my schoolmates who had access to newspapers and those who had not. Other things being equal, the first were always superior to the last in debate, composition and general intelligence. —Daniel Webster.

The West News-Letter says: "The editor of a country paper must be a good financier, a practical printer, and a hard worker, as well as a ready writer, in order to succeed. With these qualifications, and the blessings of Providence, he can gain a competency of this world's goods, and if he is honest, be the means of doing some good in the cause of humanity."

SECRET TREATY BETWEEN FRANCE AND PIEDMONT.—The Palermo correspondent of the New York Times says that the existence of a secret treaty between France and Piedmont has been discovered by Garibaldi. By the terms of this treaty, Piedmont will be allowed to annex the Two Sicilies, but not the Marshes or Umbria. Piedmont may have Venice if she can win her. France in return is to have the Islands of Sardinia and Elba, with other territorial grants. It is alleged that the treaty is already signed.

FIZZLING OUT.—It has become a fixed fact "that no Douglas electoral ticket will run in Delaware, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi, Texas, Arkansas or Tennessee. In South Carolina, it should be observed, Presidential electors are chosen by the Legislature, and therefore no electoral ticket is presented to the people; but everybody there is for Breckinridge and Lane, which amounts to the same thing."—Springfield (Ill.) Democrat.

☞ The New York Herald says:

Lincoln is virtually elected. Breckinridge and Douglas have elected him between them, and all that Old Abe has to do now is to select his cabinet and get his things ready for a journey to Washington.

THE TONGUE-SCRAPER.—Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, in his recent address before the Massachusetts Medical Society, gives the following interesting description of a little instrument which, according to this account, has possessed a remarkable historical importance:

One practical hint may not be out of place here. It seems to be sometimes forgotten by those who must know the fact, that the tongue is very different, both anatomically and physiologically, from the stomach. Its condition does not in the least imply that of the stomach, which is a very different kind of structure, covered with a very different kind of epthelium, and furnished with entirely different secretions. A silversmith will, for a dollar, make a small hoe, of solid silver, which will last for centuries, and will give a patient more comfort, used for the removal of the accumulated epithelium and fungous growths which constitute the "fur," than many a prescription with a split-footed R before it, and addressed to the parts out of reach.

I think more of this little impfement, because I consider that the use of it, or something like it, saved the colony at Plymouth in the year 1623. Edward Winslow heard that Massasoit was sick and like to die. He found him with a house full of people about him, women rubbing his arms and legs, and friends "making such a hellish noise" as they probably thought would scare away the devil of sickness. A case of typhoid fever, clearly, with prostration, stupor, epistaxis, and frightful sordes. Winslow gave him some conserve, washed his mouth, scraped his tongue, which was in a horrid state, got down some drink, made him some broth, dosed him with an infusion of strawberry leaves and sassafras root, and had the satisfaction of seeing him rapidly recover. Massasoit, full of gratitude, revealed the plot which had been formed to destroy the colonists, whereupon the Governor ordered Capt. Miles Standish to see to them; who thereupon, as everybody remembers, stabbed Pecksuot with his own knife, broke up the plot, saved the colony, and thus rendered Massachusetts and the Massachusetts Medical Society a possibility, as they now are a fact before us.

So much for this parenthesis of the tongue-scraper, which saved the young colony from a much more serious scrape, and may save the Union yet, if a Presidential candidate should happen to be taken sick as Massasoit was, and his tongue wanted cleaning—which process would not hurt a good many politicians, with or without typhoid fever.

Mr. A. GREGORY respectfully informs his friends, and the public generally, that he has reopened his GALLERY,

NO. 33 CONGRESS STREET,

which has just been tastefully renovated and improved, and, with sincere thanks to the many patrons who have appreciated his efforts to produce work creditable to the PHOTOGRAPHIC ART, he hopes to merit a continuance of the same. He has made an improved arrangement of his LIGHT, which, with the advantage of Fifteen Years' Practice, enables him to produce work that cannot be surpassed.

"As one star differeth from another star in glory," so does one Picture differ from another in brilliancy and perfection. Those wanting any style of AMBROTYPES or Photographic Work will find that his prices are LOWER than Boston for the quality of pictures. Jy3

LONGEVITY.—It has been ascertained that there are in this city two hundred and eighty persons over 70 years of age, viz., males, one over 90, fifteen between 80 and 90, eighty-six between 70 and 80; females, five over 90, forty-eight between 80 and 90, and one hundred and twenty-five between 70 and 80.

ACCIDENT.—As Mrs. Ephraim Pickering, of Newington, was riding up Market street, in a wagon, Friday forenoon, the horse, an animal usually very quiet, became restive from the sting of a fly or bee, and ran away, and turning into Deer street, upset the wagon, threw the lady out, broke one of her arms, and otherwise severely bruised her. A boy who was riding with her was but little injured.

☞ We copied, a day or two since, the statement that Ichabod Goodwin had received the honorary degree of M. A., at the late Commencement of Dartmouth College. Most persons might suppose, as we did, that the Governor of New Hampshire was the present recipient of this degree; but it appears otherwise.

Gov. Ichabod Goodwin received an honorary A. M. from the same college, a few years ago, and before he was elected Governor. The gentleman on whom the honorary A. M. is now bestowed is mentioned on the college record as Ichabod Goodwin secundus; and is a young teacher and scholar at South Berwick, Maine.

BURNETT'S TOILET GOODS.

The Agent of Jos. Burnett & Co., Boston, has just left upon our table samples of the different Toilet preparations for which this house is celebrated; and we must award them the praise of being an honor to American skill and genius. These articles have become indispensable, and no toilet is complete without them.

The COCOAINE, for the hair, is a finely-perfumed preparation of cocoa-nut oil, and is the "ne plus ultra" of Hair compounds.—As a cosmetic, the KALLISTON is unsurpassed, and is excellent for allaying any irritation produced by shaving. The TOOTH WASH hardens the gums and imparts a delightful perfume to the breath; while last, but not by any means least, we hold his FLORIMEL, for the handkerchief, to be perfection itself, leaving Lubin entirely in the shade. These goods have only to be known, to be used by the million. Call at Thacher's and see if we are not correct. *

HO, HO, HA, HA!—If any body has any appreciation of the ludicrous and wants to have his hat held while he laughs, let him consider the fun, the drollery of Edmund Burke's being obliged, within the last two weeks, to come to the defence of Gen. Pierce, for his letter in favor of Breckinridge and Lane, against the Patriot!—Truly we have fallen upon funny times.—One would as soon thought of Greeley defending Old Buck. There is no knowing who's who now-a-days, or what will turn up next.—Claremont Eagle.

DREADFUL CONSEQUENCES.—"What are you doing, my son?" said a father to his son Billy.

"Smoking a sweet fern cigar, father; I made it.

"Throw it away this minute; don't you know that a boy who smokes sweet fern will smoke tobacco; and if he smokes tobacco, he will drink rum; and if he drinks rum he will lie, and he will steal, and he will commit murder; and if he murders he will be hung."

"There's where the boys fit for college," said the Professor to Mrs. Partington, pointing to the school in Bedford street. "Did they?" said the old lady, with animation; "and if they fit for college before they went, they don't fight afterward?" "Yes," said he, smiling, and favoring the deceit; "yes, the fight was with the head and not with the hands." "Ah! butted, did they?"

When Mr. Douglas shall reach Maine, he should be asked why he voted for the repeal of the fishing bounties, Clem. C. Clay's pet measure, and concocted to show his hatred of the North. In waging war on codfish, Clay and Douglas showed they were very small potatoes. The people will settle their hash.—Boston Traveller.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The race between the yachts Julia and Rebecca was won by the former, which passed around the stake 15 minutes before the Rebecca.

Flora Temple's time in the race yesterday was 2:22 1-2, 2:23, 2:24, winning in three straight heats.

FROM TEXAS.—New Orleans, Aug. 2.—Galveston dates of the 31st have been received. A large flouring and lumber mill at Austin was burnt on the 26th. Loss $100,000.

A negro was caught setting fire to buildings in Georgetown. He confessed that he was incited by two Abolitionists to burn the town.

HALIFAX, Aug. 2.—The Prince of Wales left this city at 7 o'clock this morning for Windsor, accompanied by the Governor, Admiral-General and a brilliant staff, members of the Government and both branches of the Legislature.

In firing a salute at Halifax this morning, an artillery man was blown to pieces.

A spendthrift who had nearly wasted all his patrimony, seeing an acquaintance in a coat not of the newest cut, told him that he thought it had been his great grand father's coat. "So it was," said the gentleman; "and I have also my great grandfather's land."

"If you can't keep awake," said a parson to one of his hearers, "when you feel drowsy, why don't you take a pinch of snuff?" The shrewd reply was: "The snuff should be put in the Sermon."

No two things differ more than hurry and dispatch. Hurry is the mark of a weak mind, dispatch of a strong one.

The road ambition travels is too narrow for friendship, too crooked for love, too rugged for honesty, and too dark for science.

Many drop a tear at the door of poverty, when they should rather drop a sixpence.

A beautiful mind in a beautiful body is the finest object shown us by nature.

MOTHERS,

Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, and why? Because it never fails to afford immediate relief, when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening the sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known for CHILDREN TEETHING: DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP; also, for Softening the Gums, reducing Inflammation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Convulsions or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL; this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Full directions accompany each bottle. Price 25 cents. Prepared only by

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED
by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them
The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profit will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and if SUCCESS IS THE NEAREST POINT OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full records of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a mechanical nature to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form favorable for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Rooms are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing powers—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind, it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Mr. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box sewing machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in two on the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An ancient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Minds so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as it returned from protracted and distant land. Instances of the signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, without disease, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has to name.

It is a tonic of great power, among others, which make it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, combined, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has altered the form of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liability.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in even the most difficult cases of leucorrhœa.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably and specifically such as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

Finally, in INTERMITTENT FEVERS, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

MISTAKES OF PHYSICIANS—SCIENCE vs. GUESSWORK.—Oliver W. Holmes (physician, philosopher, and poet,) in a lecture upon physicians, gives the following account of some mistakes which were made in medicine:—

Sooner or later everybody is tripped up in forming a diagnosis. I saw Velpeau tie one of the carotid arteries for a supposed aneurism, which was only a little harmless tumor, and killed his patient. Mr. Dease, of Dublin, was a little more fortunate in a case he boldly declared an abscess, while others thought it an aneurism. He thrust a lancet into it, and proved himself in the right. Soon after he made a similar diagnosis. He thrust in his lancet, as before, and out gushed the patient's blood, and his life with it. The next morning Mr. Dease was found dead, and floating in his blood.—He had divided the femoral artery. I have doomed people, and seen others doom them, over and over again, on the strength of physical signs, and they have lived in the most coutumacious and scientifically unjustifiable manner as long as they lived, and some are living still.

A NEW WAY TO DO IT.—A rather singular combination of piety, speculation and honesty has lately electrified the good citizens of Cuba. A military man, seeing that a church which had been vigorously commenced bade fair to remain in an unfinished condition for lack of money, avowed his intention of investing in the Havana Lottery, promising to give half of any sum he might draw to aid in completing the church, and this promise he sealed with a vow to the Virgin. He drew $50. It was patent, however, that the half of this sum would be but an inrignificant gift to the church, and so, thinking that the Virgin would look after her own interests, he immediately reinvested the whole. The consequence was that he drew a fourth of the capital prize, $50,000. It is pleasing to know that the pious and gallant soldier did not dissolve his co-partnership with the Virgin until he had paid into the Spanish Bank, to the order of the Bishop, the $6250 according to the original agreement. The moral of the story is this; there is nothing wrong in dickering in lottery tickets, if you give half the profits to a church.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE. — "The Wide-Awake Vocalist" and "The Sunday School Bell" are bound in the same establishment. By a mistake of the binders, a large number of the covers of the former have been fastened on the songs of the latter, and sent off to purchasers and editors. Lincoln glee-clubs, however, are not expected to sing Sunday School hymns at political meetings. Our opponents will not be likely to make a similar mistake, for they know they will sing small next November, and have not provided their party with a song book.—New York Tribune.

MOTHERS,
Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, and why? Because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief, when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening the sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known for CHILDREN TEETHING, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP; also, for Softening the Gums, reducing Inflamation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Convulsions or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL; this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saddle against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your invaluable preparation; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (to me,) has had very long hair, from his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

MONDAY, AUGUST 6, 1860.

LADIES AS FRESHMEN.

In the Home Journal N. P. Willis gives an interesting account of his observations in a recent visit to Antioch College.

The influence of each sex, upon the manners and habits of the other, is found to be refining, as well as stimulative of the higher ambitions; though, naturally, the effect is stronger upon the older than upon the younger students. No restraint, beyond that of absolute propriety, is put upon their intercourse. The recitations and lectures are of course in common; but so also are the meals—the refectory being arranged with small tables, at which they form their own parties of four or six, eating and conversing together with the freedom of acquaintance in a restaurant. Out of study hours they associate as they please, often forming picnics and finding amusement in the beautiful scenery of the neighborhood, and mingling much with the society around. Preferences and attachments are inevitable, of course; but these, honorably pursued, are not discouraged or interfered with;—and, though undergraduate marriages are not common, (particularly while the lady is a "Freshman,") one instance has occurred of husband and wife taking their degrees as "Bachelors of Arts" at the same Commencement. One couple of "best scholars," who had become attached while "Seniors" and married after graduating, returned to the College to become each a Professor.

The "Faculty" seem to act upon the principles as safely established, that love is only an explosive and dangerous element when bottled up too tightly, and that free intercourse, between intellectually employed persons of both sexes results in greater refinement certainly—matrimony possibly—very rarely in mutual injury. It should be mentioned, perhaps, that the gentle sex has one special officer—a "matron," who regulates personal habits by presiding over the "dormitory," or separate college building, where the female students lodge—and that the present incumbent of this office, Mrs. Paine, a New England matron, is exercising a very marked influence on the College by her singular efficiency and good judgment. The great purpose—to give the mothers of the West a liberal education—is thus prevented from having the possible drawback of "scholarly slovenliness."

The well-known fact that this is the cheapest place of education in the world suggests its advantages, as within reach to a class humbler in life, but with its share of noble natures; and among these last mentioned we should certainly number one young woman who is at present successfully pursuing her studies at the College, but who came there without means, and soon found a way to support herself by hiring as cook to a family in the neighborhood. There is a Spartan quality in this which tells well at the "Alma Mater" of a new country. One rather droll instance of pioneer adaptability is related—a clergyman "out West" having written to the Faculty that he had quite a family of boys and girls whom he should like to have educated, and wishing to know "whether he couldn't get a job of preaching round there, to pay expenses."

THE ETIQUETTE OF RELIGION.—There is trouble among the different religious bodies at St. John, New Brunswick, touching the precedence to be given them at the reception of the Prince. The Presbyterians having addressed to the Colonial Secretary a letter concerning the precedence that would be given to religious bodies in the presentation of addresses, received for reply that the Church of England stood first, and the Church of Rome next. The Presbyterians at once took fire, threatening to wash their hands of the whole concern.—What will be the upshot is not known. It appears that the precedence given to the Roman Catholics, after the Church of England, is not merely an imperial regulation, but is also founded on an enactment of the legislature of the province.

PHYSICAL TRAINING.—Dr. Windship is hard at work on his essay on "Physical Culture." It will be a work containing much practical information and common sense suggestions, while it cannot but be a benefit to old and young of both sexes. It will go to press early the ensuing fall. The Doctor still keeps up his own physical training, and a few nights since he picked up with his hands, unaided by any straps, eleven hundred and sixty pounds, with apparent ease.

LAW IN GREENFIELD, MASS.—The following, taken from the Greenfield Gazette, of last week, shows the spirit with which the liquor law is executed in that flourishing Massachusetts town:

H. B. Stevens of the Mansion House and David G. Field, who tended for him; Wm. Keith of the American House and Amariah Briggs who tended for him; and Joseph H. Lamb, keeper of the Union Lunch, were tried before S. Goddard, Esq., of Montague, on Friday, on charge of liquor selling on the 4th and convicted as common sellers, and sentenced to a fine of $50 each, three months imprisonment in the house of correction and bonds of $1000 each not to violate the law. Appealed to a higher court. The complaints were made by citizens of Montague, and grew out of the arrests lately made of two persons of that town for passing counterfeit money in Greenfield on the 4th.

The New York Herald gives up and says that Lincoln will be elected—that his party is united, and the democrats who could barely hope for success, if one party, are destroying each other and doomed to defeat.

FIRE AT ALTON BAY.—On Wednesday last, says the Dover Gazette, the dwelling house and barn of Mr. Lafayette Woodman, at Alton Bay, were consumed by fire. The neighbors and men belonging to the Cocheco Railroad were promptly on hand, and rendered every assistance possible, and prevented the flames from spreading to the contiguous buildings. The furniture of Mr. Woodman was partly saved in a damaged state. Mr. Woodman was the town liquor agent, and most of the liquors on hand were lost. His property was partially insured, but his loss will reach the sum of about $1500.—The fire was caused by children playing with matches in the barn. Mr. Woodman is a hard-laboring industrious mechanic, and his loss will be severely felt.

☞ We published an item from the Boston Herald, saying that there were 20,000 people at the Douglas reception in Concord. The Concord Democrat says not over 1000 came in railroad trains, and the Statesman has the following humorous item:

The Boston Herald says there were twenty thousand people there to greet Senator Douglas. Nineteen thousand of them were Democrats, residing in the neighboring town of Bow. People never make so egregious mistakes as in estimating the numbers at out-door political meetings. The number of people out of doors, the inhabitants of Concord included, did not reach 5000.

FOR NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS.—The Postmaster General has decided that the act of the 4th of June, requiring postmasters to deliver newspapers sent to clubs to each individual member, without separate addresses, only applies in cases where postage is prepaid at the place of delivery, as it is only in such case that postmasters are required to perform the extra labor and receive additional pay from the consequent increase of their commissions.—Atlas & Bee.

The Act is not a wise one,—and the Postmaster General's decision is rather extra judicial. Postmasters ought not to be required to deliver club papers at all, except in a lump,—because unless the postmaster marks the papers with each man's name, or checks the list every time he delivers one paper, he can not tell whether any given subscriber has taken his paper or not. Congress made a blunder in this case. The Postmaster General's decision helps it a little; but it is very clumsy, after all.

☞ The Roman government has been sadly puzzled how to act in consequence of the spirit of discontent which has manifested itself in the Pope's Irish brigade. It has, however, come to the determination to send back to Ireland, at its own expense, such of the recruits as have refused to sign engagements and are resolved not to serve; to retain as railway laborers those that are willing to work on the lines at present in progress; and, finally to submit to the discipline of General de Lamoriciere those who are willing to fight (and those are by far the majority,) for the cause which they have enlisted to support, namely, the temporal dominion of the Supreme Pontiff.

THE GREAT EASTERN.—The New York papers are full of statements of the abuse suffered by passengers on the Great Eastern to Cape May—nothing to eat, no beds to sleep on, and water at ten cents a glass. According to accounts, her passengers were not of the most select class, whether males or females. Some useful men and real ladies might have been lost had she sunk;—but we doubt if a more graceless set of souls ever went down in one hulk than by sinking she would have carried to the deep.

One thing the reporters state very favorable to her success. She made 17 miles an hour, at which rate, if it could be kept up, she would cross the Atlantic swifter than any before her.

☞ The Boston Herald understands the pleuro pneumonia has appeared among the horses in the stable of Charles H. Sherman, at Natick, Mass. A valuable horse has died, and five or six others are sick. Dr. Brackett, of Framingham, made a post-mortem examination, and pronounced it a clear case of pleuro pneumonia. It has created considerable excitement.

CURIOSITIES OF THE CENSUS. — One house in the Sixth Ward, Philadelphia, contained 13 families, numbering 60 souls. In New York, 246 houses were populated by 856 families, which, at an average of five to each, would give a population of 4280 persons—a sadly thronged district, especially as its drainage is said to be very bad. As an average, 20 houses in Philadelphia will not contain more than 30 families.

In New York, one building, 25 feet by 100, is a residence of 1157 people. In a township in Chester county, Pa., one house is inhabited by three insane persons, living together, and no one else residing with them. The returns say, "insane from grief."

In the Fourth Ward, Philadelphia, there is one woman aged 105 years. Many women object to give their ages, but after a little persuasion, they usually yield; though, in some cases, there is apparently a liberal margin between the judgment of the census officer and the facts alleged.

☞ The Phrenological Journal, for August, contains heads and sketches of Jacob S. Harden, the ministerial wife-poisoner, who was hung July 6; of Deacon John Phillips, 100 years old; and of Hon. Townsend Harris, Minister to Japan.

THE REIGN OF TERROR IN THE NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE.—On Wednesday, says the New York News (a paper which supports Hon. Stephen A. Douglas,) an agent of the Collector of the Port was assigned the disagreeable duty of calling upon each person employed in his division and collecting from him twenty per cent. of his monthly salary. This assessment was levied upon all, from the poorest laborer to the highest in authority, and rigidly exacted. A threat of instant removal followed the least hesitation. The sum of $8000 or $10,000 will thus be contributed. A similar collection is now making at the Custom House in Boston.

MR. DOUGLAS ON FUSION.—Mr. Douglas, in his speech at Rocky Point, R. I., emphatically gave his views on the subject of a fusion with the Breckinridge ticket, as follows:—

I am asked why I don't advise my friends to make a union ticket with the secessionists. Why don't you make oil and water mix? A union ticket between an interventionist and a non-interventionist! Never on earth!

SPEAKING OF DOGS.—Gov. Randall of Wisconsin was recently favored with a letter—one of many—inquiring whether the "Dog Law" passed last winter by the Legislature of that State had been signed, and was in force. He thus responds:—

EXEC. OFF., MADISON, July 6.

Dear Sir.—Your letter in regard to the "Dog Law" is received. The bill was properly signed, and is the law of this State; and that law will not be repealed, with my approbation, while I remain in the office. No good citizen will object to it or refuse to obey it. A man who is able to own a dog, which costs as much to keep as to keep a cow, is able to get a collar for him. No good citizen will refuse to make the sacrifice of obedience to that law, when he must know that if it is enforced it will save to the farmers and stock-growers of this State from $40,000 to $60,000 every year, and increase the number of wool-growers very largely. Every human life lost by the bite of a dog, is worth more than all the dogs in the country. A man who is not willing to sacrifice $1 for his privilege, where so great a benefit may accrue to the State by the compliance with the provisions of the act, ought to be kicked out of it. Very truly yours,

ALEX. W. RANDALL.

BALTIMORE, August 2.—Mr. Daniel S Dickinson arrived here to-day, and is lodged at Barnum's. He was serenaded at half past ten o'clock by the Zouaves' band, of Chicago. He presented himself on the balcony, and was warmly greeted. He spoke from fifteen to twenty minutes. He argued that there could be no middle ground in the Presidential contest; either Breckinridge or Lincoln must be elected. The former, he said, will be sustained by all reliable Democratic states. He denounced Douglas as a disorganizer and disturber, who, in the name of the Democracy, sought to destroy the party and overthrow the constitution. He urged the Democracy of Maryland to rally to the support of the country as they did in 1812, and to demand the withdrawal of Douglas, who was only in the field as a promoter of the election of Lincoln.

DEATH OF A BOY FROM STANDING ON HIS HEAD.—On Friday last several boys were playing in a freight car, trying which could stand longest on his head. A little son of Thomas Lindsey stood thus near five minutes, when he was prevented from standing longer by one of the other boys.—After gaining his feet he immediately ran home, complaining that his head hurt him, and in a few hours afterwards expired, the blood rushing to his brain causing apoplexy. Let the little boys be careful how they play.—Lincoln (Ill.) Herald.

ABSCONDING OF A JEWELLER.—Mr. Louis Goldenburg, a German Jew, who has been in the employ of Currier & Trott, of Boston, for the last six years, as a watch repairer, has lately run away from the city with money and jewelry, obtained by various swindling means, to the amount of $5000 or $6000. No knowledge of his whereabouts has yet been obtained. He is about 55 years of age and has a wife and several children.

TO KEEP FLOWERS FRESH.—It is said that vases of flowers will retain their beauty and fragrance much longer if a little carbonate of soda is dissolved in the water in which they are placed. In this way flowers, may be kept fresh and sweet for a fortnight. As this is the season of flowers, and as they add so much to the beauty and cheerfulness of our homes, we have no doubt that our lady friends will all try the virtues of soda in preserving their choicest boquets.

POVERTY runs strongly to fun. A man is never so full of jokes as when he is reduced to one shirt and two potatoes.—Wealth is taciturn and fretful. Stock brokers would no sooner indulge in a hearty laugh than they would lend money on a second mortgage. Nature is a great believer in compensation. Those to whom she sends wealth she saddles with law-suits and dyspepsia. The poor never indulge in woodcock, and they have a style of appetite that converts a number three mackerel into a salmon, and that is quite as well.

HUMILITY.—An exchange says:—"It is worthy to remark that soon after Paul was converted, he declared himself unworthy to be called an Apostle. As time rolled on and he grew in grace, he cried out, 'I am less than the least of all saints. And just before his martyrdom, when he had reached the stature of a perfect man in Christ, his exclamation was, 'I am the chief of sinners."

☞ Col. Forney sets down the Breckinridge vote in Pennsylvania at 30,000.

☞ Of John Wood, the present Governor of Illinois, it is said that 32 years ago, with only twenty-five cents, he arrived at the present site of the city of Quincy. Now Quincy contains 20,000 people, and he lives in and owns a residence which cost him $160,000.

CALITHUMPIANS FINED. — Martin K. Bridges of Deerfield, Mass., and six of his associates in a tin pan serenade to a newly married couple, have had to pay fines and costs of court, amounting to $37.95. The Justice held that the serenades were a breach of the peace.

OLD POINT, Va., Aug. 4.—The Great Eastern arrived at 6 o'clock. A meeting of the passengers was held on board, and complimentary resolutions passed. Immense crowds are at Norfolk and Portsmouth to visit her.

☞ The Prince of Wales and retinue will visit Boston in September next. He comes at the invitation of Harvard University to pay a visit to that institution.

☞ Mr. Archibald, the British Consul in New York, has called a meeting of the British residents to adopt proceedings to welcome the Prince of Wales on his visit to that city.

☞ The Tribune's Washington correspondent says it is reported that there is trouble about the accounts of Jacob Forney, late Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

☞ The Chicago Zouaves have arrived in Washington. On Saturday they visited Mount Vernon, and on their return they were to visit the President and drill in front of the City Hall.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—At a meeting of the Trustees of the Rockingham County Agricultural Society, held in this city on Saturday, it was decided to hold the Fair on the spacious and well-adapted field belonging to the City Farm, corner of Creek and Woodbury streets. Sept. 19 and 20 is the time.

☞ The body of the little boy, Tobey, lately drowned, was found in the harbor on Saturday, and buried. No inquest was necessary, as he doubtless fell overboard from the wharf.

☞ That diminutive "personal brevity," Gen. Tom Thumb, is to give a series of his "levees" in this city."

PICTURES.—An advertisement of a new Photographic Establishment, will be seen in another column. Mr. Small was four years located in Bethel, Me., the Courier of which place speaks of him thus highly:

We regret to learn that Mr. J. E. Small, the Photographer, is about to remove to Portsmouth, N. H. We regret it because he has instruments of the first class, and is an excellent artist. We do not hesitate to rank Mr. S. among the first American artist. His street views, as well as his portraits, are his best recommendation, and we confidently recommend him to the Portsmouth ladies and gentlemen, not only as an artist, but as a gentleman.—Bethel Courier, May 11th.

☞ An elderly lady, while crossing Islington street near her residence, on Friday evening, was thrown down and considerably injured, by a passing carriage.

MAN KILLED.—As the 5 o'clock train was leaving Exeter on Saturday afternoon, a man (said to have been lame) who had alighted to procure a glass of water for his wife attempted to get on board, but failing in his purpose, fell under the cars, and was killed—having one side of his breast and neck crushed. The train was stopped and his cody taken aboard.

DOUGLAS AND ALEXANDER.—The Concord Statesman has the following item:

There have been many martyrs in the world—martys for the zeal and the determination with which they espouse their religious belief, but no man in New Hampshire come so near being a martyr for his political course as Mr. Alexander, lately of the Portsmouth Gazette. That gentleman was in town on Tuesday, to pay his respects to Senator Douglas. It is understood that a conversation somewhat of the following nature took place upon the introduction of the parties:—

"Is it Mr. Alexander, lately of the Portsmouth Custom House?" "Yes." "The same that advocated my nomination, and was removed from office by the President for exercising the freedom of opinion?"—"Yes." "Then I am very happy to see you, Mr. Alexander."

If such an event should, in the dispensation of Providence, take place as the election of Mr. Douglas to the Presidency, Alexander the Martyr should put in for at least a three thousand dollar berth. It cost him something to be a Douglas man; and if the opportunity ever does occur, and our puts in claim for less than the Liverpool Consultate or a second class Foreign Mission, he will be manifesting a degree ot modesty utterly unsuited to the present time.

☞ The Directors of the Rockport Railroad Company held a meeting in Rockport, Thursday, at which a contract was made with Gilmore & Co. to build the road to Gloucester, for the sum of $63,000. The distance of track to be laid is 3 5-8 miles, and the contract includes the building of a station at Rockport, turn-tables, and the track in readiness for the running of cars. The road, is is expected, will be completed by the 1st of November.

☞ The elegant picture of Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, at Mr. Cobb's window, shows the face and head of a handsome man, rather full and bearing the marks of high and fast living; and looking as if he could not be very easily sold, bur as if he would sell any body else, and drive any body else, if he could get the power to do so. He is the man who said to the opponents of slavery, "We will subdue you,"—and he looks as likely to say that as anything. He is the man who denounced the three thousand clergymen, for protesting against slavery extension,—and held up the idea that government must be left in the hands of politicians like himself, and that the ministers knew nothing about it. He predicted all sorts of evil to come on the churches in consequence,—though nothing of the sort has come; and he looks like just such a prophet as the event shows him. U. T.

☞ The dwelling-house of Mrs. Laurana Lewis, at South Yarmouth, was struck by lightning Thursday night, which nearly demolished the chimney, shattered several rafters and windows, broke down the plastering in many places, and ruined two bonnets which were enclosed in band-boxes.

☞ The Webster Times says a widow has just moved from that town who has, during her experience in house-keeping, removed from one locality to another twenty-four times.

☞ The fourth National Horse Exhibition takes place at Springfield, Mass., Sept. 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th.

☞ We perceive, by the Laconia Gazette, that Mr. Solomon Cole, of Lake Village, has been active in the temperance cause there, and thereby offended some rum patriot, or patriots, who prepared materials to burn his buildings,—and sent a letter threatening to shoot him.

A meeting of citizens was held, who offered $100 reward for the rascals, and appointed a committee of twelve, who have commenced prosecutions vigorously.

☞ Eight fugitive slaves, two women—half sisters—and six children belonging to one of them, passed through Rochester on the 31st ult., en route for Canada. They were from Franklin county, Va.

PEALE'S COURT OF DEATH.

The most elaborate and noted work of Art ever painted by an American Artist, is the 'COURT OF DEATH,' by REMBRANDT PEALE. This painting covers 312 square feet of canvas—contains 23 Life Size Figures, and has never been valued at less than 25,000 Dollars.

It has been gazed upon with admiration and delight by tens of thousands. The subscriber has purchased the painting, and issued a splendid

Chromo-Lithographic Engraving

of it, presenting a perfect FAC SIMILE COPY of the original painting, WITH ALL ITS BEAUTIFUL COLORS.

The size of the Engraving is 23 by 31 inches, and the price ($1) for which it is offered, is only one-fifth the usual price of similar works—100,000 being issued instead of 5,000, the usual number.—The home of every family in the land should be adorned with this picture, as besides its beauty as an ornament, the lesson it teaches, illustrating the evils of Intemperance and War, and the end of a good—a Christian Life, are invaluable. Mr. PEALE says of the Engraving: "I can certify that it is an accurate and admirable copy of the original Painting." Testimonials without number, have been received from distinguished Clergymen in praise of the Engraving. Many who receive it, say they would not part with it for ten times its cost, if they could not procure another.

Clergymen and Church Societies supplied in quantities of not less than 20 copies at a time, on very liberal terms.

Terms for 1 copy, $1 and 4 letter stamps, or 5 copies for $4 without stamps. For a letter of Agency stating special terms, and 1 copy, $1 and 6 letter stamps, sent in strong rolls by return mail, with a description. If $5 or more is sent in a letter, get a draft, or have the letter registered. Write the Name, Town, County and State, plainly. Address G. Q. COLTON,

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately fitting boot or work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

The Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much lighter than any thing in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing attention, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grade, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, WITHIN THE LAST OF 1857.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind, it truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that to preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Indeed there is all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description or written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of females, sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, scrofulous consumption, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no cure.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most carefully balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, it must be decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and inflammation of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

Its remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

VOL. 17. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1860. NO. 6.

Morning Chronicle.

"MY DEAR."—Dear, a pleasant adjective—my, a pronoun of possession implying that the being spoken of is one's very own—one's sole, sacred, personal property; as with natural selfishness one would wish to hold the thing most precious. My dear—a satisfactory total. I rather object to "dearest," as a word implying comparison and therefore never to be used where comparison should not and could not exist. Witness, "dearest mother," or "dearest wife," as if a man had a plurality of mothers or wives, out of whom he chose the one he loved best. And, as a general rule, I dislike all ultra expressions of affection set down in ink. I once knew an honest gentleman—blessed with the tenderest heart that ever man had, and which in all his life was only given to one woman—he, his wife told me had never, even in their courtship days, writen to her otherwise than as "My dear Annie," ending merely with "Yours faithfully," or "Yours truly."—Faithful—true—what could he write, or she desire more?—Miss Mulock.

SPIRITUAL FACTS.—That whiskey is the key by which many gain an entrance into our prisons and alms-houses.

That brandy brands the noses of all those who cannot govern their appetites.

That wine causes many to take a winding way home.

That punch is the cause of many unfriendly punches.

That ale causes many ailings; while beer brings many to the bier.

That champaigne is the cause of many real pains.

That gin slings have "slewed" more than the slings of old.

BLOOD FOOD.

Healthy human Blood upon being ANALYZED always presents us with the same essential elements, and gives of course the True Standard.—Analyze the blood of a person suffering from Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, &c., and we find in every instance certain deficiencies in the red globules of Blood. Supply these deficiencies, and you are made well. The "BLOOD FOOD" is founded upon this theory—hence its astonishing success. There are FIVE PREPARATIONS adapted to the deficiencies of the blood in different diseases. For COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, or any affection whatever of the THROAT or LUNGS inducing CONSUMPTION, use No. 1, which is also the No. for Depravation of Spirits, Loss of Appetite, and for all CHRONIC COMPLAINTS arising from OVER-USE, GENERAL DEBILITY, and NERVOUS PROSTRATION. No. 2, for FEVER AND AGUE FLAVIN; No 3, for DYSPEPSIA. Being already prepared for absorption it is taken by Drops and carried immediately into the circulation, so that what you gain you retain. The No. 4 is for FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, HYSTERIA, WEAKNESSES, &c. See special directions for this. For SALT RHEUM, SCROFULOUS, KIDNEY, and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, take No. 5. In all cases, the directions must be strictly followed. Price of the "BLOOD FOOD," $1 per bottle.

MOTHERS,

Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, and why? Because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief, when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening the sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known for CHILDREN TEETHING, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP; also, for Softening the Gums, reducing Inflamation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Convulsions or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those painful and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL; this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed every thing I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
Time and no other circumstance induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; for after using the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillips, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. C. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1860.

BRECKINRIDGE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—A Concord, N. H., correspondent of the Boston Post writes as follows—we suppose by authority:—

It is not true, as has been stated by many, (and some who delight in stating things contrary to their own belief,) that a call has been made for a Mass Convention of the friends of Breckinridge and Lane, in New Hampshire, or that even a meeting of this character was expected to take place in our city yesterday.

The facts of the case are as follows:—As soon as the nominations of Douglas and Johnson, and those of Breckinridge and Lane, were made at Baltimore, there were a large number of New Hampshire citizens opposed to the former nominations, and who supported the latter. Among these were many of the ablest men in the State, and by whom the Democratic party of New Hampshire had been led forward through its long pilgrimage. In the course of two or three weeks after the nominations were made, several of these gentlemen met in this city for the purpose of consulting as to the policy of forming an electoral ticket of this party in the State, and also of devising the best means to carry this object into effect. This meeting adjourned with the understanding that they would meet on Thursday, Aug. 2, and have all the parts of the State represented, in order to know the feeling of the various sections of New Hampshire in regard to this subject.

Therefore, between thirty and forty of of the most able and distinguished men of the Granite State met and reported the feeling which existed in their quarter of our Commonwealth, and a committee was appointed to devise means and consider the importance of holding a Mass State Convention in the course of two or three weeks. This committee will consider their duties, and make such arrangements as will not only be satisfactory to the people, but astonishing to their opponents. A due and early notice will be given, and then the people not only of this State but our sister States will be convinced that the men who are in favor of Breckinridge and Lane are not "small or far between."

THEODORE PARKER.—On one matter especially in connetion with Mr. Parker's course, the community has been most grievously misled, viz, as to the alleged ill treatment which he received from his Unitarian brethren. In regard to these alleged persecutions, Mr. Sears expresses the opinion that Mr. Parker's complaints on this score are the only really unmanly thing that appears in his whole life. Mr. Parker knew, or ought to have known, that the Liberal Congregational Churches have stood for two centuries on a foundation which he denounced and disowned—the Bible the only Master, and he had no right to complain of discourtesy and exclusion because they would not suffer him to come in and knock the supports from beneath them, and turn their sanctuaries into lyceum halls.

He was treated with tolerance, and even tenderness, and his bitter denunciations and gibes were never, to the knowledge of the editor of the magazine, in a single instance returned. The notion that a man is "persecuted" because a whole denomination at his word refuses to knock the planks from under its feet and go to pieces on a sea of godless speculation, floating anywhere, "some on boards and some on broken pieces of the ship," is too absurd for criticism, and Mr. Parker's friends, Mr. Sears avers, ought to be ashamed of such delirious nonsense.—Religious Mag.

Recently, a gentleman returned from Europe; he had been absent with his family seven months. He paid his gas bill the day he left; the house had not been opened for seven months, yet when it was, the gas man took a return from the meter, and a bill was made out for $52. Mr. Grinnel went and compained to the secretary, related the circumstances, and threatened exposure of such a barefaced robbery. He refused to pay the bill. "Very well, sir," said the Secretary. Mr. G. went home and told his wife. "Pay it," said she. "Why so?" said he. "Because," said she, "the day we left New York, I had to go back to the house for some article I had forgot. The window shutters were fastened; I lit the gas; the other day, when we returned, I found it still burning." The bill was paid, for a steady gas flame had been burning for seven months. Gas stock pays a heavy dividend. N. Y. Corr. Mobile Register.

A letter appears in the Houston, Texas, Telegraph, giving details of the plot which is alleged to have been discovered in that State for the devastation and ruin of the country by fire and word. It is stated that about a hundred negroes have been arrested who have been examined separately, and have disclosed the existence of the conspiracy. In addition to the crimes of arson and assassination the plotters were so imporerish the country, by the destruction of all provisions, arms and ammunition, when a general revolt of the negroes was to takeplace on the first Monday in August—the day of the election for State officers.

No doubt there was some fire there,—but nothing to be compared to the smoke. The reality was bad enough—but the tormenting fear is a vast deal worse. This fear, however, belongs to the system, and can never be entirely removed, while the system endures.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A storm at Springfield, Illinois, yesterday, destroyed Withers' carriage factory, with a large number of carriages. Loss $15,000. The storm also destroyed a large number of unfinished buildings in various parts of the city.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 4.—Chas. McDougal, of the firm of West & McDougal, in this city, disappeared with his book-keeper last night, together with $30,000.

BOLD PUSH.—Nahant was thrown into a violent state of excitement on Saturday, by the kidnapping of a boy named Rice, aged nine years, from school. It will be recollected that a few days since the custody of this boy was taken from his mother, who is of the Thorndike family in Boston and lives separated from her husband, and given to his father, Henry G. Rice of Baltimore, who took him to Nahant and sent him to school. On Saturday two empty carriages drove to the school-room; three men entered the house; one of them caught the teacher by the throat, and another stood over him, armed with a billy.—The third man seized the boy and placed him in one of the carriages, and drove away towards Lynn. The other two then released the teacher and followed. It is supposed that this was the means taken by the mother to recover her son, and that before this he is Canada.

As soon as the father learned the occurrence, he took measures to follow the kidnappers and recover the child; and on Sunday some of the Boston police arrested a man named Amos R. Nickerson, who keeps a stable at North Russell street. He was committed to jail under a warrant charging him with kidnapping the boy. He was put under $10,000 bonds by Judge Wells.—Other parties have been arrested, but for sufficient reasons their names are withheld from publication.

NEW YORK, August 5.—Harriet F. Leavitt, a native of Massachusetts, was burnt to death on Friday, by the explosion of a can of burning fluid, which set fire to her clothing.

SOUTHERNERS IN BOSTON.—Our hotel registers the past few weeks show a large list of Southern names; if anything, more than usual at this season, and our merchants here, who have been seeking Southern trade, are shipping a large quantity of goods; mostly, however, to the larger markets South. The steamer Joseph Whitney sailed Friday with a crowded freight.—Boston Post.

Well; this does not look much like nonintercourse, or disunion, or any nonsense of that sort.

THE PAPAL ARMY.—The Florence correspondent of the Providence Journal furnishes this paragraph:—

As to Gen. Lamoriciere and his ragged army, one hears of nothing but desertions and confusion. Officers commit suicide, soldiers are deceived with false promises, and many of them get drunk and raise a row, or take things from the shops for which they do not pay. While such a bad condition of things exist, with only the promise of a worse, what is poor "Peter the Hermit" to do? The world does not sympathize with the crusade at all, for it knows but too well that the "holy sepulchre" over which he stands guard is only the strong box into which Antonelli has put so much of the treasure which he has purloined from the State.

☞ A slave trading firm in Richmond, Va., writing to Mississippi, gave the following intelligence concerning the market for human beings at this time:—

"No. 1 men sell here from $1600 to $1650; second-class men, from $1400 to $1550. No. 1 grown field girls sell from $1400 to 1475; one extra sold to-day at $1500. Tendency of the market upward."

A PRETTY POETICAL DUN.—The following is the way in which Morris & Willis touch up the delinquent subscribers to the Home Journal:—

Dear Sir:—In the hurry of your engagements, you have doubtless overlooked and forgotten, as a trifle, the small sum of a year's indebtedness to the Home Journal; but, as rivers are kept running by the drops of falling dew, so it is necessary to our continuance that the falling dues should come punctually to the fountain head. By dropping your due into the post office, for us, you will oblige,

Yours with respect,
MORRIS & WILLIS.

☞ Mr. Yancey, of Alabama, has written a letter explaining his Slaughter letter of 1858. In as strong and pointed language as can be used, he denies that he is a disunionist, or that he desires disunion. This letter is important as showing that even among the Southwestern democracy a man is injured who is thought to be in favor of treason.

☞ The Cleveland, Ohio, Plaindealer spoils the story of Jesse Boorn's having stated that a bogus Colvin was hired to clear the Boorns from the charge of murdering Colvin, forty years ago, in Vermont. The real Colvin, who was insane, did appear, and his neighbors all knew him. He and the Boorns had had a fight, and he was severely beaten, but did not die then. Colvin died at Tuckerton, N. J., many years after.

☞ A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer gives a very lamentable account of Marshfield, the Webster estate, which is rapidly going to decay, both house and grounds. Yet the sum of twenty-five cents is demanded of every visitor, as if the Webster farm had been "farmed out" to some curiosity-shop-keeper, who was coining dimes from the great man's dust.

☞ The seventeen years locusts, though pronounced to be agreeable little singers, are found to be great bores. They are destroying fruit trees as if they were an army of human invaders.

For the Chronicle.

THE EXPRESS MONOPOLY.—The Manchester American condemns the exactions made by Cheney, White & Co., upon the citizens of Manchester, in the monopoly of carrying express matter between Manchester and Boston; and says that responsible men are ready to pay $3000 more for the privilege upon the road, than is now paid by Cheney & Co. The matter was brought up by Judge Fowler, in his report of the Investigating Committee of the Concord Road in 1857; but some how Mr. White slips along in his smooth way without paying much. The Directors of the Concord Road have been appealed to in the America to overhaul this matter, and doubtless it will be straightened out.

There is one thing, however, which our citizens should stir about—and that is, to get some live business man the privilege of an express route over the Concord Road, for which Cheney & Co. pay a trifle, and make it for their interest to do as little business over the road as possible, in order to compel all business on the line of the road and above to go on the road to Boston via Concord. If we had an energetic business man in the interest of and acquaintance with Portsmouth on this road, a very considerable express business would be done over that road every day, and Portsmouth would have a largely increased trade by the opeoation.

The idea of packages from Laconia and vicinity to Portsmouth being carried round by Boston, at exorbitant rates, instead of being promptly sent over the Concord & Portsmouth Road, is one of Cheney & Co.'s operations in this line which needs looking after. We will venture to assert that we can get within one week a responsible firm to take the privilege now held by Cheney & Co. over the C. & P. R. R. at an advance upon the present price paid. Will the business men of Portsmouth support the change? The Boston business alone, from stations between Concord and Portsmouth, would be worth to either of our express companies more than is now paid for the right of the road by Cheney & Co.

OUTSIDE CONNECTION.

☞ The N. Y. Times is requested and authorized to state that the report of an intended marriage between his Honor the Mayor and Miss Crean is without foundation.

☞ Mr. Wenbank's factory at Gaysville, Vt., and a hotel, two stores, a house, Gay's dry house, and the bridge crossing White river, were destroyed by fire on Monday.—Loss $100,000; mostly insured. Fire supposed to be incediary.

☞ The Orthodox church in Bridgewater, Mass., was burned to the ground on Monday, with all its contents. Not insured.

☞ The Pioneer claims that Aroostook is the granary of Maine. That county is eminently prosperous this year The immigration has been large.

☞ The Biddeford Manufacturing Companies have been declaring their six per cent semi-annual dividends.

☞ The Mexicans are plucking up courage. A party of them lately chastised a lot of Navajo Indians, who had been stealing their sheep, and killed forty of them. The Indians found it was a great cry and little wool on that occasion.

☞ A suit has been brought against the owners of the steamer Great Eastern, for an infringement of an American patent in the combined use of the side wheel and screw as the motive power. The damages are laid at $50,000.

☞ At Syracuse, N. Y., while Mrs. Zimmerman was cleaning the mantle-piece, her clothes took fire, which so frightened her that she could not give the alarm, and had it not been for a faithful parrot which was in the same room, who cried "fire, fire, fire," thus giving the alarm to a lady in the yard, who rushed in and put out the fire, Mrs. Z. must have been badly burned.

☞ The Fourth of July being Garibaldi's birth-day, was observed as a holiday in Sicily. There's no telling how much his Fourth of July might be connected with his Independence.

☞ Among the recent graduates from West Point was a son of Commodore Vanderbilt, and the father promised the youth $100,000 if he would bring himself among the first five, or $50,000 if he completed the course at all. The son was not the winner of the former prize, but received a check for the latter.

PROFITABLE PLEASURE TRIP.—The Chicago Zouaves, it is said, will return home with about $1000 in the treasury, the profits of the exhibitions they gave in New York, Boston, and Philadelphia.

☞ Some playful Douglasites, in Cairo, which is appropriately in that part of Illinois commonly called Egypt, lately rottenegged a Methodist clergyman who was delivering a Republican speech. The Boston Traveller thinks this form of annoyance may be called the eleventh plague of Egypt.

Summer Seekers of the Sea Shore—Sharks.

EUROPEAN NEWS to July 25th.—The Neapolitan troops have evacuated Messina, Meltazzo, and Syracuse, and were being transported to Naples.

It is reported that Garibaldi was preparing to descend on the main land.

A revolutionary demonstration had taken place in Naples.

The Porte has notified the Western Powers of the conclusion of a peace between the Druses and the Maronites in Syria; but promises, nevertheless, to proceed with the utmost rigor against the perpetrators of the recent outrages, Other massacres are reported.

The Porte protested against French intervention in Syria, and the expedition has been stopped.

Advices state that the firm of Granville, in the hide and leather trade, had failed at Liverpool. Liabilities £12,000.

A Paris telegram says the Sardinian Government consents to support Garibaldi in his proposal for a six months truce between Naples and himself.

Garibaldi has captured Meltazzo.—The King of Sardinia has sent him an autograph letter requesting him not to attack the continental possessions of the King of Naples.

A Mormon Confederacy has been held in London, and Brigham Young elected head of the Mormon Church.

Eleven thousand French and thirty-five hundred English troops have gone to Syria, and a fleet of ships is going.

Jonathan Priestman, in the leather trade at Newcastle, Eng., has suspended.

The Neapolitan Government has ordered all the troops to be withdrawn from Sicily.

The Princess Frederick William had been confined of a daughter.

Three Dutch war steamers have been ordered to Beyrout.

BILL OF MORTALITY.—The total number of deaths in Portsmouth in July, 15:

Males—6, aged 7 yrs., 7, 26, 37, 43, 65.

Females—9, aged 6 mo., 2 yrs., 22, 29, 51, 54, 57, 74, 86.

☞ On Sunday last four happy converts, impelled by a sense of duty, thus to follow the great Teacher, were led down into the water and immersed by Rev. Mr. Hall, of the Methodist Church. A great number of spectators were in attendance. REP.

☞ The man who was killed at Exeter on Saturday was named Hussey, and is said to have been a native of Portland, but now belonging in Baltimore. He left Boston for Portland in the 3 P. M. train, accompanied by his wife and children. At Exeter he got out of the cars and went into the depot for the purpose of procuring a tumbler of water for his children, which they drank; and in his second absence, to return the tumbler, the train had started, and while endeavoring to get upon one of the cars he was thrown upon the track and killed.

The body was taken to Portland, where the family have relations whom they were going to visit. Mr. Hussey was about 60 years old. He is represented as an estimable man.

The Exeter News Letter says the deceased was about 70 years of age, and blind of one eye.

☞ It was our pleasure on Sunday last, to hear one of the ablest preachers that have occupied the pulpit of the North Church for many months. We refer to Rev. Mr. Gage who has been officiating at Dover for a few weeks past, and who has received (but not accepted) a call from Edinburg, Scotland.

Mr. Gage, who is one of the most eloquent of clergymen, is a young man who has consecrated the ardor, the energy, the impulses of early life to God, as the noblest of beings, and to the defence of his truth as the sublimest of causes. REP.

Mr. Thomas Colcord of Exeter died very suddenly last Friday afternoon, aged 74. He was as well as usual in the morning, and after breakfast went to his lebor, which, that day, was hoeing corn. About 11 o'clock, he was taken unwell, and growing worse rapidly, he was taken to his house, and died about half past five o'clock in the afternoon. His disorder is said to have been Cholera Morbus.—News Letter.

☞ The season of the year is fast approaching when the melon-choly habits of the people are apt to induce cholera and other summer diseases.

New Hampshire never had a more luxurious growth upon its surface than now, and the prospects were never better for a bountiful harvest.—Statesman.

☞ A precocious press in New York requests the Republican party to cut off Charles Sumner and Owen Lovejoy. Like the celebrated pig, that press will have to be killed for having too much cheek.

☞ Mr. Heenan is at Newport, where the Scientific Association is now sitting.

☞ A French flag has been planted on the summit of Mont Blanc. Fears are entertained for its growth there, Mont Blanc being a bad place for the tri-color, which displaced the drapeau blanc.

☞ Jules Gerard, the famous lion-killer, is placed at the head of the National Shooting Association which the Emperor is establishing in France. Should there be a war between France and England, Jules, it is supposed, would take a shot at the British lion.

What is to be done with Turkey? is the question. Cut it up, is the answer; it would make "a dainty dish to set before the kings" of Europe.

☞ The New Yorkers are to have some more swans, to fill the places of those which they starved to death or poisoned. It is hoped the geese will take care of them.

☞ Mrs. Burdell Cunningham has picked up a husband, in San Francisco. His name is not given, which is not just to so bold a fellow.

LIGHT AND LEGISLATION.—The editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, who has lately been in Washington, writes home:—

As we drove from the depot, a lady in the omnibus copied the great unfinished dome of the capitol, (which don't look much like a dome at present,) and said, innocently, "I suppose those are the gas works?" "Yes, madam, for the nation," was the reply of a fellow passenger.

☞ The use of lager beer is said to promote death's business, as it makes men more liable to sun strokes. From beer to bier the transition is small.

☞ The foreign residents of New York are making arrangements with the Lelands, of the Metropolitan hotel, to give a grand reception and ball in honor of the Prince of Wales.

If any one speak evil of you, flee home to your own conscience and examine your heart; if you be guilty, it is a just correction; if not guilty, it is a fair instruction; make use of both; so shall you distil honey out of gall, and out of an open enemy make a secret friend.

TO THE UNSATISFIED.

BY HARRIET WINSLOW.

Why this longing, why forever sighing
For the far-off, unattained, and dim,
While the beautiful, all around thee lying,
Offers up its low perpetual hymn?

Wouldst thou listen to its gentle teaching,
All thy restless yearnings it would still;
Leaf and flower, and laden bee are preaching,
Thine own sphere, though humble, first to fill.

Poor indeed thou must be, if around thee
Thou no ray of light and joy can'st throw—
If no silken cord of love hath bound thee
To some little world, through weal and woe;

If no dear eye thy fond love can brighten,
No fond voices answer to thine own;
If no brother's sorrow thou can'st lighten
By daily sympathy and gentle tone.

Not by deeds that win the world's applauses—
Not by works that give thee world-renown—
Not by martyrdom, or painted crosses,
Can'st thou win and wear the immortal crown.

Daily struggling, though unloved and lonely,
Every day a rich reward will give:
Thou wilt find by hearty striving only,
And truly loving, thou can'st truly live.

Dost thou revel in the rosy morning,
When all nature hails the lord of light,
And his smile, the mountain-tops adorning,
Robes you fragrant fields in radiance bright?

Other hands may grasp the field and forest,
Proud proprietors in pomp may shine;
But with fervent love if thou adorest,
Thou art wealthier—all the world is thine!

Yet if through earth's wide domain thou rovest,
Sighing that they are not thine alone,
Know that wealth, but thyself thou lovest,
And their beauty, and thy wealth are gone.

Nature wears the color of the spirit;
Sweetly to her worshipper she sings;
All the glow, the grace she doth inherit,
Round her trusting child she fondly flings.

In Voluntown, Conn., a staid old citizen over whose head the meteor passed, said he "smelt tar," and was indignant "that the boys should be allowed to play such pranks with balloons and tar barrels; they might set something afire."

On a poster advertising a Negro Opera Troupe, now performing down east, is a big cut of a darkey's head. Some wag (Republican, no doubt,) recently wrote beneath the cut, on one of the bills: "This is the rock on which the Democratic party split."

SUNLIGHT IN HOUSES.—The following fact has been established by careful observation. That where sunlight penetrates all the rooms of a dwelling, the inmates are less liable to sickness, than in a house where the appartments lose its health-invigorating influences. Basement rooms are the nurseries of indisposition. It is a great mistake to compel human beings to reside partially under ground. There is a defective condition of the air in such rooms, connected with dampness, besides the escape of noxious gases from pipes and drains.—It is strange that builders persist in doing violence to humanity by still erecting houses with basements.

SOUND ADVICE.—Dr. Emersons' advice to young preachers was, not to preach over thirty minutes, saying, "There are no conversions after the first half hour."—Wesley held the same opinion, and said in one of his letters, "If any, then, of the preachers exceed their time (about one hour in the whole service,) I hope you will always put them in mind what is the Methodist rule." People imagine the longer the sermon the more good it will do, which is a mistake.

EVIL SPEAKING.—How true it is that we "more offend from want of thought than from any want of feeling." Lady Blessington says: "Half the ill-natured things that are said in society are spoken, not so much from malice, as from a desire to display the quickness of our perception, the smartness of our wit, and the sharpness of our observation.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have tested

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easier by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feeling the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach; weakness, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the cheek.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts. $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons have been provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows here on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freedom from dust and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.
FOR FAMILY USE.

From the very flattering manner in which our Machines have been received by the public, resulting in the sale of 35,000,

we are led to believe that our endeavors to manufacture a RELIABLE MACHINE have been appreciated. We take this opportunity to remark that the policy will be unchanged, and that

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their Box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I believe it is one of the best and simplest machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, and see the Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complections indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved eminently curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSUMPTION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Cases long and hopelessly held to have become forgotten in the busy world as it returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, leucorrhœa, and the general complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION (the result has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in its peculiarly efficacious form.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

IN DEBILITATED AGE, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and truly restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 62 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

MOTHERS,
Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, and why? Because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief, when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening the sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known for CHILDREN TEETHING; DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP; also, for Softening the Gums, reducing Inflamation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Convulsions or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL; this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.
Full directions accompany each bottle. Price 25 cents. Prepared only by

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: for my hair, after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Test sealed, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles he hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was ra pidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1860.

[Correspondence of the Chronicle.]

SIGHT-SEEING IN THE WEST.

Here I am on this second day of August in the pleasant city of Springfield, Illinois, distinguished mainly at present as being the residence of Abraham Lincoln, a candidate for a very important office. How I happened to be here at this moment, let me proceed to explain. Precisely one week ago, I took the 11 o'clock train at the station in Portsmouth, and was landed by Conductor Noyes, in Concord, at one o'clock. After a couple of hours at the Capital, I took train to Nashua, thence to Worcester in care of Conductor L. Brooks, a very genial and well informed gentleman; forward by rail over the Norwich & Worcester R. R. to Allyn's Point, sustained, encouraged and amused by the witty and accomplished Conductor W. F. Barton; still onward by steam over the Sound in the "C. Vanderbilt" steamer, of 1000 tons, at the head of which is Capt. Sturgis, whose clerk is none other than Mr, Bayles, so well known to all "Sound" travellers, whose steward is the worthy and competent Coyle.

Choosing this route to New York, then, for two reasons, first because of its convenience and cheapness; secondly, because I felt that life and limb were tolerably secure when in charge of such men as Gilmore of N. H., Bentley of Worcester and Andrews of Norwich—I reached the great metropolis at early breakfast time on Friday morning, and, accepting the kindly offices of a hackman, who, with others, honored me with noisy and flattering demonstrations of delight as I appeared upon the gangway, I wended my way to Paran Steven's Marble Palace, called the "Fifth Avenue Hotel." I supposed my journeyings at an end for a brief hour, but on being assigned a room, I was politely invited to enter a sort of sentry-box, which was making repeated journeys to the upper regions, and which speedily deposited me five stories nearer heaven. If I had been compelled to walk, that distance, I might have complained; but a free ride, and the certainty of a return coach at any moment, was not to be despised. Besides, I had been informed that the greater the ascent, the larger the rooms, and with this assurance I was content. I need not speak at greater length of this splendid hotel. It is a wonder and a world in itself, and as such such should be examined by the curious, and patronized by those who consider the best the cheapest.

Friday was passed in sight seeing. Professional friends were visited, among them Dr. John Allen of Bond St., the inventor of perhaps the greatest improvement in mechanical dentistry—the process of inserting artificial teeth having neither seam, joint or crevice about their entire structure; the method known as "Allen's Continuous Gum." Through much vexation and tribulation, after years of experiment to perfect his discovery, after expensive and embarrassing law-suits to protect his patent, he has left the whole matter in the hands of the profession, allowing all to avail themselves of the results of his increasing study; and resigning his position as Professor in the Ohio Dental College, has betaken himself to the practice of he specialty in Bond street, and, I am glad to say, is receiving, by a large patronage, something like a return for his years of service in a good cause. His son, Dr. Charles Allen, endeared to so many members of the profession by his estimable qualities of mind and heart, is his partner in practice.

Another friend, a distinguished practitioner, is engaged in the "Vulcanite" work—that is, the use of India rubber as a base or plate for the inserting of teeth. Dr. W. B. Franklin is the gentleman to whom I allude, and who acts as agent for the patentees—the Goodyear Co. The rubber system is also very nearly a seamless one, and is likely to prove valuable, even beyond the expectation of the most sanguine. Dr. Franklin placed a set of teeth—selected at random—upon the floor, with their cutting edges downward, and three heavy men, clinging one to another, stepped upon the vulcanized rubber plate. It broke not nor yielded, but deep indentations were made in the hard floor by the sharp teeth, under such pressure. It was a test which no gold plate ever yet constructed, could sustain. I shall adopt this style of work to some extent;—the merits of Dr. Allen's method I have long been familiar with.

I called also on my young and enterprising professional friend, Dr. Platt, now of Bond st., and late of Utica—the excellence of whose operations entitles him to wear the mantles of such men as Dunning, Gunning and Parmley, when their mantles fall. He is rapidly acquiring practice in high circles, and his success is certain.

In the afternoon I was particularly fortunate. I formed the acquaintance of the visiting "Knights Templar," from Washington, who were stopping at the Smithsonian House,—saw the Chicago Zouaves and the procession which accompanied them to the depot,—visited the Great Eastern and descended into her lowest depths, which means five stories below the upper deck. This immense craft is considerably more monstrous than I anticipated, and would, I should judge, reach from our Academy building in Portsmouth to the City Hotel.—Her paddle-wheels extend above the water about as high as Congress Block. She looked even more massive when I saw her in motion on Monday afternoon, as I had a very near view from the deck of a steamer, and could compare her with the multitude of crafts by which she was surrounded, and above all which this sea monster loomed, a very giant among pigmies. Being presented to Capt. Hall at the "Fifth Avenue," I was kindly invited to make one of the Cape May excursionists, but was compelled to decline for want of time.

Friday night found me in Newark, N. J., seven miles from the great metropolis, partaking of the hospitalities of Mr. E. N. Fuller, of the Evening Journal,—the success of which newspaper is fully established. The New Jersey Democrats—having nominated a fusion electoral ticket, consisting of three Bell, two Douglas and two Breckinridge men, with the understanding that the vote shall be thrown as a unit for any man whom it will elect, excepting Mr. Lincoln—are sanguine of carrying the State in November. But as a portion of the Douglas party refuse to be thus conciliated, and have accordingly presented a second electoral ticket, it is probable that the fight will be a sharp one, and perhaps terminate favorably for the tall gentleman who is just now passing my window, and with whom I have enjoyed an hour or more of very pleasant conversation this morning.

Over to New York again on Saturday, and spent several hours in examining the great Astor Library, which has one hundred and ten thousand volumes, costing $200,000.

I was shown over the premises, and placed in possession of many facts of interest concerning this immense institution, by Mr. Frank H. Norton, Acting Librarian in the absence of the venerable Dr. Coggswell in Europe. Some exceedingly rare and valuable works were shown me, among them a copy of Cicero's "De Officius," printed by Faust in 1460, and a copy of the first collection of Shakespeare's plays ever published. These books and other rare, curious, or massive works, are too sacred to suffer the profanation of ordinary hands, but the leaves are turned by an attendant, in whose presence only can they be examined. My friend politely waived this formality in my case, and I was permitted to touch and handle the sacred relics to my heart's content. The works in the Library are admirably classified, the subdivisions being of a discriminating character; yet a "hand book" of the vast establishment is certainly much needed by those less favored than myself in the matter of conductor and guide at once genial and thoroughly competent. F. P.

ESCAPE OF COL. CROSS, THE GREAT FORGER.—Saturday last was assigned for the trial of J. Buchanan Cross, the forger, in the Court of Sessions, at Philadelphia.—On that morning, Mr. Porter, an officer of the Court, started for Moyamensing prison in a carriage, to bring Cross to Court. On the way up the prisoner effected his escape. On the way, Cross requested the officer to drive to a place at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Washington street, where he had his trunk, remarking that he was going to the Penitentiary, and it was well enough to have his trunk locked. The officer at first refused, giving as a reason that it was against the rules. Cross persisted, and finally persuaded Mr. Porter to accompany him to his room. The shutters of the room were closed. After remaining a few seconds, the Colonel asked the officer if he would not open the window, "in order to have a little more light on the subject." Mr. Porter was willing to be accommodating, and the consequence was he was outwitted. As he raised the sash, Cross slipped past him, and after getting into the entry shut the door and turned the key. Mr. Porter was then a prisoner, but only for a short period. After encountering several obstructions placed in his way by Cross, he reached the yard, found a chair against the fence, and sprang over, just in time to see Cross driving off, with a companion, in a neat York wagon.

☞ Two Englishmen, named Jack Turner and Andrew Gidlow, beat each other to a jelly, and almost blind, on Brewster's Island in Boston harbor, Monday morning.—It was a drawn battle; the miserable stakes, $60, were divided between the two wretched combatants, and the Harbor Police arrested them and took them to jail.

There is no right without a parallel duty; no liberty without the supremacy of law; no high destiny without earnest perseverance; and no greatness without self-denial.

The man who was lost in slumber, found his way out on a night mare.

To escape trouble from noisy children—send them to your neighbors, "visiting."

Don't stand hesitating upon that good resolution of yours—put it through.

FROM JAPAN.

We get our news from Japan this time via San Francisco, where Japan dates of June 26th have been received. A lucrative trade was going on between the Japanese and the British and French forces in China, nearly all their supplies being shipped thence, including 4000 horses. Flour was selling at $2.20 per barrel; potatoes half a cent a bound.

The Shanghae tea trade was being suspended on account of the rebels; the Japanese were supplying cargoes, and tea had advanced at Kanagawa. Four ships had cleared for England with cargoes of tea, raw silks, and various other Japanese products, which were to be had in astonishing quantities.

Kanagawa has tripled in population under the influence of the foreign commercial treaties. The commercial trading public-officials and the higher classes encourage foreign intercourse, while the masses are more prejudiced than ever, the latter complaining that the foreign trade enhances the price of food. Rice and wheat are not allowed to be exported, but there is no restriction on flour. Mexican half dollars are refused, but dollars are received.

Towns containing from eight to ten thousand inhabitants, 200 miles from Kanagawa are reported to have been swallowed up by earthquakes. Several shocks have been felt at Kanagawa.

Missionaries were located in various parts of Japan.

Shanghae dates of May 25th state that trade is almost suspended, and the natives have fled with their treasure to Souchong under the expectation that the rebels would attack the place.

The Peiho river was being strongly fortified against the Allies.

The rebels had recently been very successful, having taken Focohow, the holding possession of which gives them the control of all the country in that direction.—They are reported to be advancing on Shanghae.

The U. S. Steamer Saginaw was at Woosung. The clipper ship Game Cock had sailed from Shanghae for Jappn, for a cargo of horses for the Allies. The U. S. steamer Hartford, Commodore Stribling, arrived at Shanghae, May 25th, with Minister Ward on board.

AN HONORABLE NOTICE.—The Portland Advertiser gives us more interesting particulars of the man who lost his life at Exeter on Saturday afternoon.

His name was Obed Hussey, and he formerly resided in Portland, having been born, as the Advertiser believes, in North Berwick, and belonged to the society of Friends. His age was 68, asnd he leaves but one child, an infant. His wife was a New York lady, whom he married about five years since. He was on the way to visit Mr. Winslow Hall, of Portland, who is his cousin.

The train usually stops five minutes at Exeter, for refreshment. Mr. Hussey was on board with his wife, infant child and servant. A child, a stranger to Mr. Hussey, asked for a drink of water, and with that kindness of heart which has always characterized him, he voluntarily went for the water. As he returned the tumbler, the bell rang, the cars having then stopped seven in place of five minutes, the usual time. The train started, but was not going rapidly, when Mr. Hussey approached hurriedly and seized the iron rails of the platform at the end of the car, but unfortunately took hold of the rear rail of one car and the front rail of the other. In this position he was, of course, unable to get upon either car, and either intentionally or accidentally let go of one rail, when the momentum of the cars or his own efforts swung his body round between the cars, and breaking the grasp, of his other hand, he fell across the track and the wheels of two passenger cars passed over his body. The train was instantly stopped, but life was extinct when his body was reached. The Advertiser remarks that—

Mr. Hussey has always manifested great mechanical genius, and his reaper and mower has given him much celebrity among agricultural men all over this country and Europe. He was a warm-hearted, genial and companionable man, and dies, we think, without an enemy in the world—the very cause of his death arising from the benevolent desire to give the Christian "cup of cold water" to a stranger and a child. We are informed that his remains will be taken to Baltimore for interment.

We hope this sad lesson may teach all our railway managers to have a vessel with water suitable to drink in every car. This is now done on some roads, and on one road in Maine, the Androscoggin & Kennebec, a lad passes through the cars with a pail of cool water every hour or so, which is a great comfort to children and adults in warm weather. The life of one such man as Mr. Hussey is worth more than the cost of furnishing all the cars in the Union with a suitable convenience for drinking water. Will the railroad officers let this sad accident direct their thoughts for one moment from the calls for dividends to the calls for humanity.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A man named Duffy, a carpenter employed in Boston, and living in Cambridgeport, visited the house of a neighbor on Sunday, and while seated in a chair his head was observed to fall suddenly upon his breast. His friends thinking him asleep, attempted to wake him, when to their astonishment they found that he was dead. He was a man of intemperate habits.

☞ The Mormons have gone to work again on their temple in Salt Lake City, which does not look like emigration.

PETERSBURG, Va., Aug. 6.—Returns from 45 counties in North Carolina show 3049 over Gilmore's vote in 1856. Admitting that Pool gains in the same ratio in the remainder of the State, Ellis will have a majority of 7500. The Democratic majority in the Legislature will be reduced, but the Democrats have evidently carried the State.

When the Democrats run two tickets for Electors, it looks as if Bell and Everett might get the vote of North Carolina.

POISONER ARRESTED.—We learn from the Providence Post that on Saturday last, an Englishman named Edward Burns was arrested in that city, who is charged with having poisoned his wife, his child, and his wife's mother, about six months ago, in Hebronville, Mass. The poison was put into some food that they partook of. Their lives were saved with the aid of a physician, but Burns fled, and has escaped arrest until the present time. He will be taken back to Attleborough.

☞ On Saturday night at West Roxbury, Mass., two police officers were badly beaten by the men and women in an Irish dance house; and another officer was also beaten by the drunken mourners at a Wake. Three of the wakers are arrested.

Dow, the injured policeman in Lynn, is still in a critical condition. The Irishmen who injured him are about to be tried.

☞ On Monday night of last week, Mr. Albert Becker of St. Louis heard some one in his pear orchard, when he fired a gun at the intruder, for the purpose of frightening rather than injuring him. The man climbed over the fence, but was found dead in the street the next morning, with a handkerchief full of Mr. Becker's pears in his possession. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of justifiable homicide.

SHEEP AND CATTLE FOR BRIGHTON.—On Tuesday morning there passed through his city, for Brighton, thirty-two cattle cars n the Eastern Railroad, from Canada via he Grand Trunk road and Portland.—These cars would average, perhaps, 150 heep each, making an aggregate of near 000. A correspondent asks, "Why could ot some stop in Portsmouth, and reduce he price of lamb below 12 to 14 cents per ound?" D.

BOY DROWNED.—Manchester, N. H., Aug. 6.—Charles W. Page, aged 15 years, son of Dr. J. Adams Page, of this city, was drowned this afternoon while bathing in the Piscataqua river.

[The Piscataqua river don't happen to be there. The Merimack is meant.]

Voltaire tells an apologue which we commend to those who put more faith in physic than in the laws of health. Zadig finds his mistress a captive in the hands of one Ogul, a great dignitary, who is afflicted with dyspepsia, in consequence of high living.—Ogul's physician has recommended a basilisk cooked in rose-water. Zadig enters the palace, and falling prostrate at the feet of his lordship, announces himself as a physician, with a basilisk cooked in rose-water in his possession, with which he promises to cure Ogul's dyspepsia, on condition that Ogul will set free Zadig's mistress. The proposition was readily accepted, for search had been made in vain every where for the prescribed basilisk. Zadig was then charged to commence the treatment, which he proceed by the following explanation: "My Lord, the basilisk I have brought is not to be eaten; its virtues are only to be absorbed through the pores. I have put it into a bladder, well blown up, and covered with leather. You must kick it back to me with all your strength every time I kick it to you; and after a few days of this treatment you will be enabled to judge of my skill." Ogul, after the first day's treatment, was quite overcome, and thought he would give up the ghost from sheer fatigue. On the second, however, Ogul was less fatigued, and had a good rest the night following. In the course of eight days Ogul entirely recovered. Zadig now took his departure, with the remark: "Oh, mighty Ogul! you have been playing foot-ball, and been temperate in the mean time. Allow me to inform you that there is no such thing as a basilisk in all nature; but with temperance and exercise we are always sure of good health." Our women would do well to take the moral of Ogul's foot-ball to heart.

It is said that McCormick gave $65,000 for the Chicago Times, which is a stunning price, but so long as his "Reapers" pay, he can afford to throw away spare change on politics.—Boston Post.

GENTILITY.—Gentility is neither in birth, wealth, manner, nor fashion, but in mind. A high sense of honor, a determination never to take advantage of another, an adherence to truth, delicacy and politeness towards those with whom we have dealings, are its essential characteristics.

BEAUTY.—The latest and best definition of beauty—that which has troubled the brains of the wisest philosophers—is, "Beauty, dear readers, is the woman you love, whatever she may seem to others."

The Springfield Republican has discovered a new school for human tenderness, and deliberately avers that "after a man has had three or four children, he learns that whipping or striking a child less than two years of age is a barbarism."—Taunton Gaz.

☞ The new directory of San Francisco, just published, contains the names of 26,000 men. The population must be considerably over 100,000. The proportion of men to the number of women and children is larger than in the older cities.

We celebrate noble obsequies to those we love by drying the tears of others, rather than by shedding our own; and the fairest funeral wreath we can hang on their tomb, is a fruit offering of good deeds.—Jean Paul.

☞ Peter Smith, a man of very intemperate habits, hung himself in the Lowell station house, on Saturday, while suffering under delirium tremens.

"Abuse" says Dr. Johnson, "is often of service. There is nothing so dangerous to an author as silence; his name, like a shuttlecock, must be beat backward and forward, or it falls to the ground."

You must make it quite clear to your mind which you are bent upon—popularity or usefulness—else you may happen to miss both.

The most agreeable persons we have ever known in company, were those who were agreeable at home. Home is the school for all the best things.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

OUR CITY.

The census returns cannot of course be made public for some months—nor can we learn the result in our own city. Enough is known to show that Portsmouth has made little or no progress in population in the last ten years—that is, if both census returns are right. We numbered 9739 in 1850—and now not quite 10,000. The like result will be found in our whole county, and in many of the towns in the State. But it is a rather remarkable fact under this state of things that by the town books the rateable polls have increased from 1600 in 1850, to 1900 in 1860!—and the valuation of real estate in our city has in the ten years increased 25 per cent. and personal property has increased in valuation at a higher rate!

From the early settlement of the State there seems to have been a constant drain from New-Hampshire to Massachusetts and other places, of its trade, wealth, and young men, and its "best men;" so that it seems to have settled into a proverb that "the state is a good place to emigrate from."

"Where there is a will there is a way," and why not have the will to keep the men and means at home; and where it can be done, employ, even if at some disadvantage, our own citizens. If they are not so experienced in some professions, give them a chance to be so. Improve the citizens, the city, and the state; do all of our own business that we can; introduce new kinds of manufactures that will have a tendency to keep the young men, business men, and the "best men" at home. Improve the social position, so that our state or city will not only be a good place to hail from, but a good place to reside in; and a good place for strangers to locate in, as well as to settle as they pass through.

Although New Haven, Conn. is as much under the influence of New-York as Portsmouth is of Boston, by adopting the above policy it has doubled its wealth and population in about twenty-five years; and Portsmouth, which enjoys the additional advantages of her Navy Yard, can do as well and even better than most of the cities on the seaboard.

Of the few vessels that come to our wharves, nearly all come to sell the products of other places and carry our money to be expended elsewhere. Let Portsmouth take its proper stand as a home business, in addition to ship building, then we shall not only have more vessels come to sell, but more vessels, more merchants and pedlers come to buy and leave the money to be circulated here.

In comparison with the enterprise of New Haven, Hartford, Providence, Salem, Saco, Biddeford and Portland, and to some extent Newburyport and Dover, our nobly situated and healthy city seems to remain comparatively still. To progress with the above mentioned places, our population ought to be twenty-five or thirty thousand, and the wealth more than double what it now is. And what is the cause of the difference? Plainly, it is in their individual and public exertions for improvement, and their home industrial policy.

Among the various kinds of business not done here at all, or not in proportion to the consumption, (to say nothing of supplying other places,) which have been the means of building up villages, towns and cities elsewhere, are hats of all kinds, shoes, leather, hardware, combs, jewelry, wooden ware, carriages, agricultural tools, furniture, various dry goods, and other things too numerous, and in the acknowledgement of our poverty in manufactures too painful, to mention—all of which we buy and pay the manufacturers, whose profits furnish business and wealth to other places. It used to be a favorite motto in our nation, "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute." But do we not pay thousands yearly for tribute to other places, in the way of insurance?

All of the above kinds of business, and many others, if properly managed, are safe and reliable; and if either or all were introduced here, and properly conducted, they would have a tendency to keep the citizens regularly employed. Our young men would not have to leave their relatives and be absent in other places, or exposed to the dangers of the sea, but would add to the social circle, and give strength and wealth to the place.

But some, with a half a mind to croak, may be ready to say that it is easier to talk than to do, and easier to find fault, than to apply the remedy, or tell how it may be done. To have things well understood, it is necessary to discuss them beforehand.

One way to make our city what it should be, is to improve it, (both public and private,) in every proper and feasible way: introduce improvements that are improvements; do business with a shovel instead of a spoon, or with a plough instead of a spade; and with modern rapidity and expedition. Keep the men and means at home; employ our own residents; discover and ascertain the wants of the place and vicinity; make them known, by circulars or otherwise, to manufacturers abroad, and the advantages of doing business here; and if any come, give them to understand that every person here is interested in their success. Aid them in every safe and proper way; let taxes be kept moderate, (our legislature has just enacted a wise law on this point,) and rents low. Better that a building or wharf should be occupied free at first, than remain worse than useless to rot down. Give croakers and cavillers to understand that if they wont do anything, or let any one else, that their absence would be better than their presence; and if idlers wont work, do as the bees do, clear them out, or give them a place on the city farm.

Probably there may be many other ways of improvement suggested. If there is a will, there will be a way to make Portsmouth what it should be, can be, and ought to be—one of the principal cities on the seacoast of our country, for which, by its position, nature has so admirably fitted it, as well as for being the principal place of commercial and business enterprise in N. Hampshire.

Owners of real estate in the city and vicinity, business men, and those wanting business, say,—shall an association be formed, or some other course be adopted, to consider the subject in all its bearings? If so, then take proper and energetic action in the right way, to accomplish so necessary and important an object to every inhabitant and every one interested in the place.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows fed on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the land—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returning in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—making a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable—she says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Tents and Ragians, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's Machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether from protracted disease or old age the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested by female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic symptoms, rest and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over heating, and yet, being regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSENTERIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, facilitating cough, and remittent hectic which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

THE GUILLOTINE.—The Washington correspondent of the Phiiadelphia Press has the following:—

The guillotine has been at work in Maryland under the direction of the Disunion Sectional Committee. Francis Gallagher, so favorably known throughout Pennsylvania as one of the most eloquent and finished orators in the Democratic party, and who held a post in the Custom House in Baltimore, was ejected a few days ago because he dared to proclaim his sympathy with Judge Douglas. A similar fate was extended to his accomplished brother, who resides at New Haven, Conn., and who was also removed from a place held in the customs because of his determination to support Douglas. Meanwhile Mr. Dickinson is demanding more victims in New York. The Marshal of the Northern district, Mr. Jewett, is said to be upon the black list.—The Postmaster at Syracuse is also doomed, and Comstock, the Postmaster at Albany, will be displaced as soon as Mr. Dickinson names his successor.

Governor Stevens of Washington Territory, Chairman of the Breckinridge Disunion Committee, has sent out orders to the well-paid officials on the Pacific coast to rally to the Disunion standard. The news that Gov. Weller has declared for Douglas is taken as an indication that the California Democracy is not prepared to follow the lead of Jo Lane. The consequence will be that a number of those holding important offices in the two States of Oregon and California and in the Territory of Washington, will, unless they promptly declare in favor of the Disunionists, be compelled to leave. In the course of a few weeks there will not be a single dependant of the Administration in favor of Douglas. All will be forced to swear allegiance to Berckinridge and to assist in the demoralization and division of the Democratic party.

MISTAKE IN TREATMENT OF HORSES. A correspondent of the "Country Gentleman" thus alludes to an error frequently committed in driving horses:—

Among the mistakes in the driving and general management of horses which have come under our observation, one has often suprised us on account of its inconsistency with what seems to us very plain and obvious principles. We refer to driving quick—quick as at any other time during a journey—immediately upon starting, when the horse or horses are often as full as feeding can make. Even when a horse has been fed and watered an hour a two before starting upon a journey or drive of several miles, it is proper to drive slowly for the first mile or two; but when the feeding and watering has been more recent, the propriety of going along at a jog or easy pace is still more urgent. Colic, founder, broken wind, have all of them resulted from too rapid driving when the horse was full. A friend of ours, a physician, who had occasion to violate this dictate of good management in his haste to reach some case of great urgency, once informed us that when he drove at a rapid rate immediately after feeding, his horse would scour almost invariably, and seem to suffer considerably.

A KISS BY MISTAKE.—An amusing incident occurred to a friend of ours the other day. He was expecting his mother in the evening cars from New Bedford, and like a good son repaired to the depot to meet her. It was a dark day, and by the time the cars arrived there was no such thing as distinguishing the faces of passengers. As he entered one of the cars, a lady seated in a corner addressed him as "father"—the voice was his mother's, and the title one which she always gave him while at his house and among his children—so, without hesitation, he threw his arms round the lady's neck and kissed her. Just then a gentleman pushed him gently aside, and went through the same ceremony. This was very strange, he thought, a man kissing his mother.—Hardly had the thought passed his mind, when his veritable mother came forward and kissed him. Very much embarrassed, he turned to the gentleman, "Sir, I have made an egregious blunder; but whose pardon shall I ask, yours or the lady's?" The meek reply was, "Thee had better ask the lady's pardon, though I don't know which had the best of the bargain, thee or my daughter."

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give to their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, nap from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saltry against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effect of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease; but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; in return, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.
S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

SIGHT-SEEING IN THE WEST.

Barnum is supported by "our country cousins," say the New Yorkers, who roundly assert that they never enter the walls of the "American Museum," unless when compelled to do escort duty to friends who are strangers in the city. More's the pity for them, for the place is well worth an hour or two, if only to view the extensive Aquaria, with its myriads of living things. But I confess that I dropped in in order to determine if the immense baby pictured in the windows of Mr. Cobb's music store, had anything like its counterpart in the "Fat Boy" on exhibition. The picture is no exaggeration. A more pitiable sight I have rarely seen, especially when this monster is is placed in immediate contrast with the "Living Skeleton," as was the case in the exhibition room. The one looks like an Indian-rubber ball whitewashed, the other like a skeleton encased in dried parchment. How either perform the functions necessary to sustain life and continue to exist, is a mystery to me. The lay manages to move his unwieldy form after a fashion, but the man of bones has to be wheeled about in his chair. The Museum has been thoroughly renovated, and the interior displays the taste of Mr. Barnum at every turn.

Back again in Newark Saturday night, to witness such a scene as cannot be found elsewhere upon the continent. The immense market, larger than any in Boston, was packed with people, engaged in making their Sunday purchases. Outside, every imaginable thing adapted to the wants of the people was hawked from candle-lighted booths. Such a Babel of tongues could scarcely have been heard at the Tower itself. One caterer roasted chesnuts upon a chafing dish, and fed a crowd of Dutchmen; a boy insisted upon selling "best shoe-blacking, only three cents a box;" and an old woman hawked, in a squeaking treble, "boot lacings at two cents a dozen." The crowd pressed, purchased and perspired until a late hour, and then the various stocks in trade, little and great, were hurriedly packed away, the tables removed, and the candles one by one extinguished.

Sunday morning we took carriage to New York, and attended morning service at Trinity Church. There was no preaching, but the appropriate service was performed in presence of a very small audience. As we left the church, the great express offices were delivering and receiving parcels, the daily papers were thrust in our faces by youthful tradesmen, and boys with brush and foot-stool, anxious for our personal appearance, kindly volunteered to black our boots for six cents. We sauntered down to the Battery, where trade appeared to flourish with even more than working-day activity. At length, in company of friends, we took cars for the great Central Park, half a dozen miles "up town." The weather was threatening but the usual crowd was in attendance. The great work of leveling and building up, of channeling and excavating, is still going on; and seven hundred men are constantly employed in endeavoring to bring order out of disorder. The immense excavation at the upper end of the Park, being nothing less than a hole sixty feet deep, and extending over seventy-five acres, designed as a new reservoir for the Croton water, is nearly completed, and the huge cast-iron supply pipes, four and a half feet in diameter, are being laid. A quarter of a century of continued labor will probably show a Park unequalled in many respects in the whole world.

New York is said to be "dull" at present, everybody being out of town. But I could discover no diminution of the crowd, and turn which way I would, the "procession" always appeared to be moving in an opposite direction. There was no lack of interesting objects for the sight-seer, but on Monday afternoon, after seeing the Great Eastern fairly on her way, moving down the river among the multitude of attendant steamers, like an elephant surrounded by grasshoppers, I was compelled to turn my back upon the metropolis, and my face toward the setting sun.

I took my seat in one of the elegant cars of the New York & Erie Railroad, and the express train was soon whirling rapidly away. Agreeable and intelligent travelling acquaintances, formed during the first hour of the journey, made the time pass pleasantly; and the courtesy and attentions extended to the passengers by Conductor A. Thompson, contributed largely to the pleasure of the journey. It was the first time I had ever passed over the 480 miles of road between New York and Dunkirk, under the superintendence of Chas. Minot, Esq.; and I was not sorry that some good angel had suggested to me this excellent route. Eighteen hours of constant travel, relieved only by appropriate and timely stoppages for refreshment, brought us to Dunkirk.—Here dinner and a train for Erie, Pa., awaited to us.

The Dunkirk and Erie Railroad, under the excellent management of G. F. Tindall, Esq., extending over a territory of forty miles in extent, is delightfully located upon the shores of Lake Erie, the cool breeze from which fanned brow and cheek, and soothed us like a benediction. We looked out upon the blue waters, and determined to embark thereon at Erie, could a steamer be found. But our search was vain, for the boat of that day was to stop at Cleveland, and our destination was Toledo. So we were compelled to abandon our darling project of a moonlight sail upon the great Lake Erie, and continue our devious journey over the jolting Lake Shore road—shaken by the motion of the car, as though one of the ague fits of that malarious "Western Reserve" had taken deadly hold upon us. Towards midnight we reached Toledo, rejoiced at the glad prospect which presented itself, for rest to limbs sadly wearied, for a toilet which rapid travel had rendered impracticable. Here, too, we were at home. Friends greeted us joyfully, and faces unseen for years were before us, glowing with the unforgotten friendship of other days.—But here we must part from newly-made friends, and while our agreeable travelling companions press onward we must tarry behind.

Toledo is a rapidly growing city. Situated at the head of Lake Erie, the trade of an immense and flourishing agricultural region. Investments in real estate made nine years ago, when I left this spot, have paid admirably, and a few hundred dollars judiciously expended at that period have become as many thousands. Immense buildings have been erected, and the busy hum of industry and traffic is heard everywhere. One hundred thousand bushels of wheat are daily poured into its immense warehouses, and this great traffic will continue for weeks to come. Here, too, are the Lake termini of the great Michigan Southern and the Toledo and Wabash railroads—two monster enterprises, which by rare good management have become paying property. Of my journeyings over these great thoroughfares, and of my impressions concerning Mr. Lincoln, I shall speak in my next. F. F.

ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—The Atlantic Telegraph Company announce that the efforts made in Newfoundland to restore the Atlantic Cable have failed. Mr. Jarley, the electrician, in his report, says: "By hand hauling, peices of cable were recovered in small lengths, amounting in all to seven miles, but the cable invariably broke at short distances, and it was found necessary at last to abandon the attempt."

The report also says that iron wires often appeared sound, but on minute inspection were found eaten away and rotten. The gutta percha and copper wire were found to be as good as when laid down. The portions which were wrapped with tarred yarn were sound, the tar and hemp having kept the iron wires bright and free from rust.

THE NAHANT KIDNAPPING.—Amos R. Nickerson, keeper of a livery stable, has been arrested in Boston, as one of the party that kidnapped the Rice boy at Nahant, on Saturday. He acknowledges to being in Nahant on that day, and three witnesses testify to his being the man who entered the school room. The penalty for the offence is ten years in the State Prison.—When Nickerson was arraigned before the Police Court of Boston, by advice of B. F. Butler, Esq., his council, an examination was waived and the party held for trial in $10,000 for his appearance at the Superior court for Essex county, to be held in Lawrence the second Monday of November next. Butler urged that the bail be reduced, and intimated that if fixed at the above sum he should apply for a writ of habeas corpus, but Ben's usual game of "bluff" didn't work in this case. Judge Wells told him if he intended to sue out such a writ, he should have it returned before Judge Bigelow of the Supreme Court. When it is recollected that Judge Bigelow was the Justice who decreed the custody of the child to the father, Judge Wells' suggestion was a good one.—Newburyport Her.

HARVEST IN ENGLAND.—By late accounts from England, the prospect of the harvest has improved. The weather had got better and dryer, and the wheat promised a fair average. The prospect has caused a decline in the wheat trade, which may affect considerably the shipments from this country. That there will be a fair export of the abundant grain crops from this country there can be little doubt, as the prices here will most likely not be so high as to render the export unprofitable to the shippers.

☞ It had been reported that ex-Gov. Johnston of Pennsylvania had declared for Bell and Everett. It is not so; he is out boldly for Lincoln, and so declares.

☞ Mr. Douglas has been compelled to decline the invitation to visit New Bedford, in consequence of the severe affection of his throat, which will not allow his speaking in public.

☞ Garibaldi has decreed the formation of a "battalion of adolescents." They cannot be admitted before the age of ten years and at seventeen the young men will be drafted into the army.

ITALY.

A letter from Rome says the Pope refused to adopt the measures, recommended by the French Embassador, and declares if these changes are forced upon him he will abandon his States.

According to the London Times correspondent, it is surmised that the Dictator has already landed on the main land, and no one would be surprised to learn that he had reached Naples without striking a blow, and the Royalist army are organized with his volunteers.

In the House of Commons, on the 26th, Mr. Griffith asked the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, whether any proposition had been made to her Majesty's government by the special envoy of the Neapolitan government lately arrived here.

Lord John Russell said that before answering the question he would repeat his answer to a question on the same subject made on a previous occasion, when the Aid-de-Camp was sent to Garibaldi by the King of Sardinia, he bore a message purporting a truce with the Neapolitan force, and begging Garibaldi not to make any attack on the main land.

This message was in perfect accordance with the views of Her Majesty's Government. In reply to the immediate question, he would say that the Neapolitan Government had requested the mediation of Great Britain for the purpose of stopping the progress of Garibaldi; on condition that if Garibaldi refused, the forces of France and England should be used to compel him. To that proposition Her Majesty's Government declined to accede.

The King of Sardinia had received the Neapolitan Ambassador.

The London Times, alluding to the attempted armistice, says Garibaldi is not the man to retrace his steps, and it is generally believed that before many weeks he will increase the list of exiled princes.

M. Milloro, who commanded the Revolutionists in 1848, but recently foreign interpreter at Queenstown, has gone to join Garibaldi.

A Turin dispatch of the 26th says that the mission of Marquis de Lagreca to Paris is to bring about a compromise, by which the King of Naples would accept the result of a universal suffrage in Sicily, should the western powers guarantee the integrity of his dominions on the main land, and prevent Garibaldi from landing there.

SYRIA.

It is to be hoped the troubles in Syria are about to subside.

The latest items on this subject, from Paris, say:

A convention was signed by the Ambassadors of the Great Powers, including Spain. It determines the conditions and proportion of each Power to the intervention.—The Porte has given its acquiescence. Orders have been transmitted by telegraph to Toulon to embark the expeditionary force at once.

The Syrian expedition is stated to be composed of 25,000 men, besides artillery and cavalry.

The Paris Constitutionnel says the expedition prepared by France will as a necessity be carried out, and its departure for Syria may be expected soon. The part of France will be rather that of occupation than intervention.

Advices from Syria of July 7th contain nothing new. Affairs are still serious. The Druses and Bedouins, returning to Rousan, passed through Damascus, and proposed a general massacre of Christians to Abdel Kader, who refused to countenance it. The inhabitants, however, became accomplices in the massacre of the Christians which took place. The report is confirmed that some of the Turkish soldiers assisted the assassins, notwithstanding the rumored protest of the Porte.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND.—Both countries are arming.

Letters from Paris say that Palmerston's speech on the national defences created great sensation. Some writers say there is serious alarm regarding the maintenance of peace between the two nations.

The Emperor at the eleventh hour put off his contemplated visit to Chalons.

The Paris correspondent of the London Herald indulges in various warlike rumors, and states that all the naval officers on furlough had been ordered to report themselves without delay. The naval reserve has been called out, and the French fleet in the Mediterranean is to be raised to 20 sail of the line. The military preparations are going on with unflagging activity.

THE RACES IN ENGLAND.—The American horses in the Goodwood races were meeting with ill-success. Mr. Tonbrook's "Maggiore" and Satelite" ran second for the Steward's Cup and the Goodwood stakes respectively. The Goodwood Cup, for which Stark was the great favorite was to be run for on the afternoon the Canadian left Liverpool.

The Goodwood cup was won by Wallace. Satellite was second and Leodcrowns third.—Seventeen horses ran.

☞ The New York Times states that Dr. Carnochan, the celebrated surgeon of that city, is suffering very severely from superative inflammation of the right hand and arm, contracted from the absorption of the dropsical effusion of a late patient.—Fears have been expressed that he might lose the use of his hand, which to this distinguished operating surgeon is one of no ordinary importance, both to himself and the community.

☞ The cranberry crop on Cape Cod is likely to be seriously injured by a worm which is eating out the berry.

☞ Saratoga is crowded. The number of visitors has never been equalled.

ENGLISH ITEMS.—The public income of Great Britain for the year ending June 30th, was £71,416,000, expenditures £70,504,000.

Mr. Lever has withdrawn from the direction of the Galway line of steamers.

The weather was improving throughout England, but sunshine was much needed for the crops. The harvest is expected to be three days later than usual.

The English Government has decided to despatch a complete set of telegraphic apparatus to China with wires, to be laid in the districts occupied by the British forces.

A prospectus has been issued for a new Telegraph Company, which proposes to establish a system on the penny postage principle, and convey messages of twenty words to any part of England, Scotland and Ireland at the uniform rate of one shilling. An influential Board of Directors has been formed, and the capital is £150,000 sterling. It is proposed to work the lines on Allan's patent.

WICKED, BUT GOOD.

An old lady from a puritanical village, lately attended a party in town, where, of course, champagne was served, and was prevailed upon to take a glass. She drank two, when, smacking her lips, she exclaimed: "Well! it may be a wicked drink, but it's good!" Just so it was with the Deacon who slily purchased a lottery ticket, which drew a prise. He thought it might be all very well to preach against the system from the pulpit, but he thought a $25,000 prize in the minister's pocket might soften the style of the denounced wrath. At last he had it in his, and felt quite comfortable. If the reader wishes to feel this $25,000 worth of comfort let him enclose $2.50, $5, $10 or $20, to Messrs. Wood, Eddy & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware, and St. Louis, Missouri, who will transmit a chance in one of their legalized lotteries, by return mail.
